WHEN the Bible says jealousy hath a most vehement flame, it doesn't exaggerate. Horrible testimony given by a doctor as to that killing of Mrs. Mills, in the Hall-Mills murder case, proves it.

The woman, after three bullets had been fired into her head, was dreadfully mutilated. Her throat was cut twice, her tongue cut out, and there were other horrible wounds inflicted on the dead body. The tongue is supposed to have been cut out because the woman's singing had charmed her clergyman from his straight and narrow path.

THE horrible case will again remind men that whoever stirs up jealously stirs up danger. They have been reminded of it, often enough, for five hundred thousand years, by blows on the head with sharp flints, by poison in the middle ages, by pistols later. But they never seem to learn.

WALL STREET is very proud of having "supplanted London as the world's money lender." This year the United States will lend more than a thousand million dollars in gold to foreign borrowers. In three years past this country has lent Europe four thousand million dollars. Gratifying, of course, but when will they get that money back?

LONDON as world money lender, charged usually moderate, and always legal, rates of interest. Other financiers lend money to Europe on a basis that makes the borrower pay at the rate of 13 per cent for the first year, as much as 7 and 8 per cent thereafter.

THE usurer in many states loses principal and interest. Some of those American lenders will get unpleasant replies later when they ask for their principal. Meanwhile it is profitable for middlemen that get the "rakeoff."

'Uncle Joe' Cannon, 90, Dies At Home In Daneville, Ill.

Veteran American Statesman Served for 46 Years as Member of National House of Representatives.

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 12.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon is dead.

The veteran American statesman, who for 46 years was a member of the house of representatives, passed away at his home here today at the age of 90.

Death came quietly with members of his family by his bed. With him were his two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Leseure and Miss Helen Cannon.

For the past several days "Uncle Joe" had been failing. He experienced great difficulty in swallowing and while his pulse continued comparatively strong, his general condition was such that members of his family were hurriedly summoned by Dr. Charles E. Wilkinson.

Cannon's death marked the passing of one of America's most brilliant politicians.

While speaker of the house Cannon ruled that body with an iron hand. He was known as "Czar Joe" at times from the manner in which he held the house in order.

EDITOR SAYS HE PAID NO MONEY FOR CARD BEARING FINGERPRINTS

"I Told Edward Schwartz" (Newark Police Department Member) That if He Could Help Clean Up Murder Mystery, He Would be Doing Service to State," That's All I Gave Him," Philip Payne Says.

PROFESSIONAL CARD OF SLAIN RECTOR WAS FOUND NEAR VICTIMS' BODIES

Barbara Tough, for Seven Years Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall's Personal Maid, Testifies She Did Not See Anything Unusual in Hall Home on Night of Double Crime Four Years Ago.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

COURT HOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 12.—"I told Schwartz (Edward Schwartz, of the Newark police department) that if he could help clean up the Hall-Mills murder mystery, he would be doing a service to the state of New Jersey. That's all I gave him, for this card."

So declared Philip Payne, managing editor of the New York Daily Mirror, on the witness stand in the Hall-Mills murder trial today when he was asked if he had "paid" anything for "Exhibit S17"—the professional card of the slain Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, which the state contends bears the fingerprint of Willie Stevens, one of the defendants. The card was found near the bodies of the slain minister and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, in De Russey's lane on the night of Sept. 14, 1922.

The editor leaned over the railing and fired this answer back at the chief counsel for the defense, Robert H. McCarter, who had been demanding to know "What he gave Schwartz." Schwartz is a fingerprint expert.

The New York Mirror had been active in opening the inquiry after four years and it is understood [illegible] much evidence to Special Prosecutor [illegible]

Talks in Calm, Low Voice.

Payne talked in a calm, low voice and at one point McCarter sought to hurry him to which the editor belligerently replied:

"Haven't I as much right to take my time answering your questions as you have to take your time in asking them?"

McCarter glared at him, his pugnacious chin stuck forward.

Payne had told Simpson he received the card about the first of July and that he had given no financial consideration to get it.

McCarter then cross-examined.

"When did you first meet Mr. Schwartz?"

"Several years ago."

"Where did you receive the card?"

"In a Newark hotel."

"How did you learn he had the card?"

"He told me while we were walking along the street in Newark, and asked me to meet him at the hotel."

Payne then said the card was turned over to him in the taxicab just after they left the St. Francis hotel.

"What did you give Schwartz?"

"Nothing material."

"What then?"

"I told Schwartz," said Payne, with great emphasis, "that if he could clear up this crime he would be doing a great service to the state of New Jersey."

Exhibit Copy of Newspaper.

Simpson took a copy of the Daily Mirror, dated Aug. 27, 1926, from among the exhibits and read therefrom an article which stated that the fingerprints on the card shown in a picture in the publication were those of Willie Stevens.

"Has Willie Stevens ever communicated with you orally, or in any other way regarding this accusation—has he sued you or has he tried to have you arrested for criminal libel?" Simpson shouted.

"No, he has not," replied editor Payne.

"That will come later,' spoke up McCarter.

"Well, it's pretty late as it is," snapped Simpson.

Sent Reporter for Story.

Payne said he sent Herbert Mayer, a Mirror reporter, to Middletown to see Joseph A. Faurot, the Bertillon expert, to get a story in connection with the card.

STAR WITNESS HAS RELAPSE

Blood Transfusion May Save Life of Mrs. Gibson.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Jane Gibson underwent a blood transfusion operation this morning in the Jersey City hospital.

The star witness for the prosecution in the Hall-Mills murder case was placed on an operating table beside Fireman Thomas Kent, from whom the blood was drawn.

Dr. Charles B. Kelley, one of the attending physicians, denied reports that Mrs. Gibson had suffered a collapse.

"A blood transfusion was made to correct the condition of moderately severe secondary anaemia," he stated.

News of Mrs. Gibson's relapse came as a surprise as reports yesterday were that Mrs. Gibson was improved and Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson had planned to put her on the stand before next Wednesday when by which time it was expected he would have completed the state's case.

Physicians now believe that even if the blood transfusion is a success, it will be a long time before she is able to take the witness stand.

Mrs. Gibson's relapse is a blow to the prosecution, as Simpson has built the main structure of the state's case around her.

She testified at the Hall-Mills preliminary hearing on Aug. 13, this year that she saw Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and two men at the scene of the slaying of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, in De Russey's lane four years ago. She testified that Willie Stevens was also there that night and so was another man. She told the same story four years ago after the first investigation and since that time has reiterated the many details of her visit to the lane on her mule.

NUMERICALLY AT LEAST, PRESIDENT CALVIN COOLIDGE IS RETURNING TO WHITE HOUSE FROM SCENE OF HIS GREATEST PUBLIC TRIUMPH

By GEORGE E. DURNO.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12.—Running 15 minutes ahead of schedule President Coolidge's train passed through here today on the return trip to Washington.

ABOARD THE PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Numerically at least, President Coolidge was returning to the national capital today from the scene of his greatest public triumph.

Gauged by extent of vocal demonstration Minneapolis and St. Paul, which he visited in June, 1925, still hold the call in the matter of presidential receptions, but never has Mr. Coolidge—nor any other executive—addressed such a vast throng as was assembled Armistice Day in Kansas City, Mo.

Behind the president was a memory of massed humanity aggregating at least 150,000 individuals. They had jammed together in a solid blanket on all sides of the $2,000,000 liberty memorial from which the president spoke, and despite the chill of a winter wind they had listened attentively to his mild, but nevertheless positive denouncement of European politics insofar as relations with the United States are concerned.

Train Crosses Ohio.

The estimate of the crowd was not taken on the word of partisan citizens but curiously enough, was arrived at in comparison with the throng that witnessed the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Philadelphia where the exact number of seats was known and where the people were crowded into a space which the vision could determine and remember.

The president's return trip thus far has been as uneventful as was the outgoing journey. Missouri and Illinois were left behind during the night. Today, the special train crosses Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania. A quiet day was in prospect.

In the private car housing the executive and Mrs. Coolidge is a phonograph machine of the latest type wherewith they may amuse themselves. In the evening—before the 11:30 arrival at Washington—they can look forward to another of the movie features placed aboard by Jack Connolly, personal representative of Will Hays.

Death Knell of Court.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Coolidge's ultimatum to Europe that the United States will enter the world court on its own terms or not at all was accepted here today as sounding an official death knell to the project, and signifying the removal of the issue, for the time being at least, from the realm of politics.

The principal powers of Europe have already agreed the senate's reservations are not acceptable. The president has said these reservations will not be changed. There the matter rests. There, apparently, it will continue to rest until the powers change their attitude.

The irreconcilables are jubilant, and even some of those who reluctantly voted for the court last January under pressure from the White House were relieved today over the turn of events.

One effect of the president's speech may be to forestall the introduction in the senate next month of a resolution to recall the favorable vote of last session, although anti-court opinion is not unanimous on it. Some of them believe that such a resolution should be introduced and passed while the temper of the senate and of the White House is aroused over the matter. Others believe that Mr. Coolidge gave a coup de grace to the whole project at Kansas City yesterday, and that no good purpose would be served in stirring up the issue again.

Senators Approve Speech.

Few of Mr. Coolidge's speeches have been received with such universal senate approbation as that of yesterday. Even the Democrats who assisted in passing the adherence resolution praised the president's stand.

Senator Walsh (D.), of Montana, who was one of the court leaders in the fight last winter, said the president had "accurately reflected the attitude of the senate."

Senator Johnson (R.), of California, an original irreconcilable, said, "Apparently with a sigh of relief the president has kissed the league of nations goodbye."

Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said the speech "was fine as far

He took a post graduate course at the University of Chicago where he was awarded an M. A. degree.

He was superintendent of the Lisbon schools for the past nine years, [illegible] was connected with [illegible] Caldwell, O. He was a member of the session of the Lisbon Presbyterian church, president of the Lisbon Kiwanis club, a member of the Chapter and Blue lodges of Masons and Columbiana County Schoolmasters' club.

His death followed that of his mother which occurred in her home at Malvern less than three weeks ago.

He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Doris and Martha; two brothers, F. P. Geiger, superintendent of the New Philadelphia schools; Edward Geiger, Malvern, and one sister, Mrs. Herbert Weaver, Canton.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Lisbon High school auditorium. Rev. P. W. Macauley, of the First Presbyterian church, will be in charge. Rev. A. C. Reynolds, of Fredonia, Pa., a personal friend, will deliver the sermon. Dr. W. H. McMasters, president of Mt. Union college, will also speak. Burial will be made in Mt. Union cemetery, Alliance.

Defer Anderson Trial Ruling; Fultz Case Also Held Up

The court of appeals, meeting in Lisbon today, announced that decision on the question of a third trial for George A. Anderson, East Liverpool automobile dealer, twice convicted of manslaughter in the death of Frank R. McLain, 27, taxicab fleet operator, will not be handed down until the Harrison county session at Cadiz on Nov. 29.

Date of the decision in the appeal of the city of Wellsville from the common pleas court ruling, restoring Chief of Police John H. Fultz to office, will be fixed this afternoon.

Dirigible Off to Norfolk, Va.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Nov. 12.—The navy dirigible Los Angeles left the base here at 11 o'clock this morning for a flight to Norfolk, Va. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, in charge, said that the ship might remain at Norfolk overnight, returning to Lakehurst at noon tomorrow.

All members of Painters Local 165 are requested to be present at their meeting. Business of importance.

NOTICE ELKS
Our member, Don Lanning, and his company of male members will be entertained at a Stag Party in our Club Rooms Saturday night.

EDITOR SAYS HE PAID NO MONEY FOR CARD BEARING FINGERPRINTS

"I Told Edward Schwartz" (Newark Police Department Member) That if He Could Help Clean Up Murder Mystery, He Would be Doing Service to State," That's All I Gave Him," Philip Payne Says.

PROFESSIONAL CARD OF SLAIN RECTOR WAS FOUND NEAR VICTIMS' BODIES

Barbara Tough, for Seven Years Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall's Personal Maid, Testifies She Did Not See Anything Unusual in Hall Home on Night of Double Crime Four Years Ago.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

COURT HOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 12.—"I told Schwartz (Edward Schwartz, of the Newark police department) that if he could help clean up the Hall-Mills murder mystery, he would be doing a service to the state of New Jersey. That's all I gave him, for this card."

So declared Philip Payne, managing editor of the New York Daily Mirror, on the witness stand in the Hall-Mills murder trial today when he was asked if he had "paid" anything for "Exhibit S17"—the professional card of the slain Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, which the state contends bears the fingerprint of Willie Stevens, one of the defendants. The card was found near the bodies of the slain minister and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, in De Russey's lane on the night of Sept. 14, 1922.

The editor leaned over the railing and fired this answer back at the chief counsel for the defense, Robert H. McCarter, who had been demanding to know "What he gave Schwartz." Schwartz is a fingerprint expert.

The New York Mirror had been active in opening the inquiry after four years and it is understood had [illegible] much evidence to Special Prosecutor [illegible].

Talks in Calm, Low Voice.

Payne talked in a calm, low voice and at one point McCarter sought to hurry him to which the editor belligerently replied:

"Haven't I as much right to take my time answering your questions as you have to take your time in asking them?"

McCarter glared at him, his pugnacious chin stuck forward.

Payne had told Simpson he received the card about the first of July and that he had given no financial consideration to get it.

McCarter then cross-examined.

"When did you first meet Mr. Schwartz?"

"Several years ago."

"Where did you receive the card?"

"In a Newark hotel."

"How did you learn he had the card?"

"He told me while we were walking along the street in Newark, and asked me to meet him at the hotel."

Payne then said the card was turned over to him in the taxicab just after [illegible] left the St. Francis hotel.

"What did you give Schwartz?"

"Nothing material."

"What then?"

"I told Schwartz," said Payne, with great emphasis, "that if he could clear up this crime he would be doing a great service to the state of New Jersey."

Exhibit Copy of Newspaper.

Simpson took a copy of the Daily Mirror, dated Aug. 27, 1926, from among the exhibits and read therefrom an article which stated that the fingerprints on the card shown in a picture in the publication were those of Willie Stevens.

"Has Willie Stevens ever communicated with you orally, or in any other way regarding this accusation—has he sued you or has he tried to have you arrested for criminal libel?" Simpson shouted.

"No, he has not," replied editor Payne.

"That will come later,' spoke up McCarter.

"Well, it's pretty late as it is," snapped Simpson.

Sent Reporter for Story.

Payne said he sent Herbert Mayer, a Mirror reporter, to Middletown to see Joseph A. Faurot, the Bertillon expert, to get a story in connection with the card.

STAR WITNESS HAS RELAPSE

Blood Transfusion May Save Life of Mrs. Gibson.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Jane Gibson underwent a blood transfusion operation this morning in the Jersey City hospital.

The star witness for the prosecution in the Hall-Mills murder case was placed on an operating table beside Fireman Thomas Kent, from whom the blood was drawn.

Dr. Charles B. Kelley, one of the attending physicians, denied reports that Mrs. Gibson had suffered a collapse.

"A blood transfusion was made to correct the condition of moderately severe secondary anaemia," he stated.

News of Mrs. Gibson's relapse came as a surprise as reports yesterday were that Mrs. Gibson was improved and Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson had planned to put her on the stand before next Wednesday when by which time it was expected he would have completed the state's case.

Physicians now believe that even if the blood transfusion is a success, it will be a long time before she is able to take the witness stand.

Mrs. Gibson's relapse is a blow to the prosecution, as Simpson has built the main structure of the state's case around her.

She testified at the Hall-Mills preliminary hearing on Aug. 13, this year that she saw Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and two men at the scene of the slaying of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, in De Russey's lane four years ago. She testified that Willie Stevens was also there that night and so was another man. She told the same story four years ago after the first investigation and since that time has reiterated the many details of her visit to the lane on her mule.

NUMERICALLY AT LEAST, PRESIDENT CALVIN COOLIDGE IS RETURNING TO WHITE HOUSE FROM SCENE OF HIS GREATEST PUBLIC TRIUMPH

By GEORGE E. DURNO.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12.—Running 15 minutes ahead of schedule President Coolidge's train passed through here today on the return trip to Washington.

ABOARD THE PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Numerically at least, President Coolidge was returning to the national capital today from the scene of his greatest public triumph.

Gauged by extent of vocal demonstration Minneapolis and St. Paul, which he visited in June, 1925, still hold the call in the matter of presidential receptions, but never has Mr. Coolidge—nor any other executive—addressed such a vast throng as was assembled Armistice Day in Kansas City, Mo.

Behind the president was a memory of massed humanity aggregating at least 150,000 individuals. They had jammed together in a solid blanket on all sides of the $2,000,000 liberty memorial from which the president spoke, and despite the chill of a winter wind they had listened attentively to his mild, but nevertheless positive denouncement of European politics insofar as relations with the United States are concerned.

Train Crosses Ohio.

The estimate of the crowd was not taken on the word of partisan citizens but curiously enough, was arrived at in comparison with the throng that witnessed the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Philadelphia where the exact number of seats was known and where the people were crowded into a space which the vision could determine and remember.

The president's return trip thus far has been as uneventful as was the outgoing journey. Missouri and Illinois were left behind during the night. Today, the special train crosses Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania. A quiet day was in prospect.

In the private car housing the executive and Mrs. Coolidge is a phonograph machine of the latest type wherewith they may amuse themselves. In the evening—before the 11:30 arrival at Washington—they can look forward to another of the movie features placed aboard by Jack Connolly, personal representative of Will Hays.

Answers to Questions

Q. What does Man O'War weight? W. S.

A. Man O'War weighs about 1275 pounds and weighed about 1159 pounds when racing.

Q. What are "beaux arts"? M. L.

A. The term beaux arts is applied to painting, sculpture, architecture, engraving, and musical composition.

Q. Do all the sons of the King of England have titles such as the Prince of Wales? H. F.

A. Only the two eldest sons of the king of England have special titles, as the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York. The other sons are merely known as Prince Henry and Prince George of England.

Q. How long do dogs live? L. S. M.

A. The mortality rate has not been compiled, but the average life of a dog is from eight to nine years.

Q. Who was court dressmaker to Empress Eugenie? E. L. B.

A. Worth is credited with having designed the gowns of Empress Eugene.

Q. If relatives in Ireland are left money by a naturalized Irishman in this country, must the relatives come over in order to get the legacy? M. O'B.

A. It would not be necessary. An attorney may be appointed or a trustee who can receive the money and make it payable at a bank in Ireland after all duties assessed are paid.

Q. How much whiskey is there in the bonded warehouses now? A. F. W.

A. There were as of July 1, 1926, 23,814,140 gallons of whiskey in the government warehouses. These figures can not be recorded as strictly accurate, since much of the whiskey was placed in the government depositoris as early as 1911, and the majority was placed as early as 1917. A certain amount of lessening of the stock is due to evaporation and leakage which is estimated as nearly one-third of the total amount.

Q. What is meant by "Plantation of Ulster?" H. G. C.

A. The Ulster Plantation was the colonization of a large part of Ulster, Ireland, by English and Scottish settiers, 1609-11. The troubles of the early 17th century resulted in the forfeiture of a large part of Ulster to the Crown. In 1608 a commission was appointed to determine what to do with the lands. It was proposed to colonize the whole district with retired civil and military servants and colonists from England and Scotland. The lands were divided into portions of 1000, 1,500, and 2,000 acres and each large proprietor was bound to build a castle on his estate and forbidden to alienate the land to Irishmen.

Q. Is it true that a poisonous snake can bite a hog and not poison it? M. F.

A. It is generally considered that a hog is immune to a snake bite, due to the heavy layer of fat. It takes such a long time for the venom to be absorbed in the blood system that usually it does no harm.

So rapidly is the use of crude oil taking the place of coal in Italy that the amount of the liquid fuel imported today is twice that of the same period three years ago.

A LITTLE PRAISE GOES A LONG WAYS

"Why stint our applause, when we attend a public performance?" A friend asked us. "Applause means everything to stage folks. It's the only way they can find out if they please us. Too many of us are too stingy with encouragement for these hard-working people."

Not a bad thought, to give more pleasure to those who provide pleasure for us.

But don't let us stop there with our applause! All about us are striving souls, to whom a bit of praise is golden inspiration. Let us stint our censure rather than our applause.

A NEW FUR COAT FOR WARMTH AND SMARTNESS

Furriers are artists this year. They have made pictures with soft, deep pelts—with sleek skins — with bright-hued silk as linings.

Almost without exception, coats are slender and tubelike, with tailored shoulders and sleeves. But collars lend themselves to many styles.

The models are those that smartest women will wear to smartest places this winter and the furs are those first chosen, therefore finest quality is assurred. Fine furs, fine workmanship, authentic styles at moderate prices.

Self-trimmed or trimmed with contrasting fur.

Princeton-Harvard Situation Far From Clear Despite Peace Efforts

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—With Harvard alumni, abetted by Yale, striving to heal the breach between the Crimson and Princeton, and reports of new ententes, including an eastern Big Ten, filling the air, the status of Princeton-Harvard situation was far from clear today. In a formal statement, Howard Elliott, chairman of the Northern Pacific railroad and president of the Harvard board of overseers, spoke for peace and resumption of the athletic relations that would preserve the old Big Three intact.

He asked for an apology, "man fashion," from the Hardvard authorities and their offer to "sit down, talk things over and arrange for a resumption of cordial relations." At the same time, he made it clear that he did not speak for the board but merely as an individual overseer.

His effort to placate Princeton, however, was deprecated by the statement of William Bingham, athletic director at Harvard, who said he wished to "make Harvard's attitude and policy perfectly clear."

In doing so, he pointed out that the playing of games against the same opponents every year tended to keep the excitement of the contests at too high a pitch and that, therefore, "except for its final game with Yale, it is Harvard's policy, as soon as circumstances permit, to play football with other colleges only at suitable intervals."

Since it was this attitude that Princeton claimed it resented most, those in close touch with the situation felt today that the warring institutions were as far apart as ever.

The possibility that a Big Ten could be formed by Princeton, Yale, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Brown, Dartmouth, Army, Navy, Syracuse and Colgate was considered remote, owing to athletic differences between several of the teams mentioned. Syracuse and Army have definitely severed relations and Princeton and Pennsylvania have not played football for years by mutual desire.

In addition, several of the institutions already have arranged their 1927 schedules and the others are in the progress of formation. Pennsylvania for example, has closed for three November dates and could hardly resume football relations with either Princeton or Harvard, as suggested.

The report that Yale, Harvard and Dartmouth would form a new Big Three also was scouted on the ground that it could not rotate on a home-and-home basis because of the inaccessibility by Hanover, N. H., the site of Dartmouth.

Cleveland's Pro Cage Champs Set For Hard Season

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 12. — The team which brought the world's basketball championship to Cleveland last season is hard at work preparing for the 1926-27 American league schedule, which opens with Cleveland playing at Rochester, N. Y., on Nov. 20. Cleveland returns to its home court following the Rochester tilt to pry off the lid in the Fifth city against Brooklyn on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 25. A torrid battle is looked for in the opening game in Cleveland, which will be played at Public Hall, scene of all Cleveland's home games this year. It was from Brooklyn that Cleveland won the world's title last year.

The same team which won the highest honors in professional basketball for Cleveland a year ago will attempt to retain their title this season. Max Rosenblum has signed his entire regular team, which is made up of Dave Kerr, Nat Hickey, Carl Husta, Honey Russell and Rich Deghan.

Cookie Cunningham, a star at Ohio State for three seasons and chosen all-western center, has been added to the lineup. Cunningham, who is six feet, three inches in height and weighs 205 pounds, is expected to prove a valuable asset to Cleveland once he works his way into the championship machine. Another newcomer has been signed in Steve Olzewski, a star with Union Trust teams in Cleveland for several years. He is rated the best class A player Cleveland has developed in many years.

Marty Friedman returns as coach of the Clevelanders. He was the guiding genius of the team that won national honors last year.

Two of the substitutes of last season have been released to the Chicago team. They are Gunther and Shephard. Gilbert Ely, now practicing dentistry at Pioneer, O., continues on Cleveland's reserve list.

IRISH AND ARMY REACH NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Notre Dame and the Army, keyed up for the biggest gridiron meeting of the year to date, will arrive in town today to go through a final workout for the east-west extravaganza at the Yankee stadium tomorrow afternoon. A capacity crowd of 70,000 will see the game, with the demand for tickets indicating that more than twice that number would be present if the limits of the field permitted.

Neither team has been defeated this year and, with every indication pointing to a homeric struggle, the betting on the outcome of the game was transacted at even money. The Cadets however, were generally favored to win by a slight margin.

The Irish will arrive in New York early and will proceed to the Westchester-Biltmore Country club at Rye for a light workout. The Army, arriving this afternoon, will be rushed to the stadium for practice. The players of both squads are in excellent condition, with the exception of Trapnell the Army back, who may not be able to play, owing to injuries.

Notre Dame has a big edge in the 13 games played by the two teams, having gained eight victories to four, with one game ending in a tie. However, one of the Army victories was that 27 to 0 rout of last year and the Irish are pining for revenge.

The vogue for wearing stockings in humid Uruguay has become so great that hosiery mills there are working twenty-four hours a day to keep up with orders.

Austria will hold in Vienna an exhibition at which will be shown the latest methods for developing power from water, heat, chemicals or the air.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

Come In, Suburbs!

The question of annexation of residential districts north of the city proper, including La Croft, Fisher Park, Sherwood, Maplewood, Park boulevard and Beechwood, as well as Harker avenue and other sections in the upper part of East End, may be answered at today's hearing before the county commissioners.

Arguments pro and con on the proposal, which has been initiated by the municipal planning commission and approved by the city council, are being heard in the municipal court headquarters. The three members of the county board are sitting as judges and jurors. Their verdict will determine whether East Liverpool is to stand still or become a larger community.

There are a thousand and one arguments in support of annexation, and few against it. By far and large, it would be seem to be for the interests of the suburban districts to come into the city. Outside, they are, and should be, deprived of municipal accommodations. A unit of the community, they have, and should have, fire and police protection and municipal water service.

Come in, suburbanites, and let's work together for a bigger and better East Liverpool.

American Coal For Europe

Europe is said to be entering her winter season with a coal shortage of 100,000,000 tons.

The English coal strike is responsible. The continent, as well as Great Britain, is starving for coal. The French and German mines cannot make up the deficit. America has been called upon, but too late, to provide full relief.

Nations are searching for expedients of many kinds. There are strange projects soberly put forth, such as burning English chalk cliffs, tapping the interior heat of the earth through deep shafts, and following up Sir Oliver Lodge's quest for "atomic power." Only the first of these could be done immediately, and it is not very practical. Waterpower and tide-power may provide relief only in the distant future.

Coal can be brought from China, where there are ample supplies in the ground, but not much this winter. The Chinese themselves lack available coal.

There will be serious inroads into European forests. Millions of trees that should be kept for lumber will be sacrificed for fuel.

American coal mines at present offer most hope. Europe's extermity is America's opportunity, as it has been more than once in the past. Our eastern and middle-western soft coal fields are prospering, for the first time in years. Mines are operating full time and wages are rising, as thousands of train loads move to tide-water for ocean shipment.

And all because a few leaders of men in England cannot agree about the adjustment of wages and profits in a single, centralized, local industry.

America, while profiting by European blunders, will do well to guard against a similar blunder of her own, next year, when the miners' agreement expires.

Chewing Gum in The Orient

American rule may not be popular in the Philippines, but American chewing gum has conquered. An American official at Manila says it has almost entirely displaced the betel nut, formerly the universal masticatory of the East Indies from time immemorial.

It is a natural change. Chewing betel nuts requires nuts, green leaves and lime, and a box to carry them in, and stains the teeth black. Chewing gum is much more convenient, just as fragrant, costs no more, gives the jaws just the same needless exercise and whitens the teeth. And white teeth are coming into style in the Orient. Chewing gum may conquer Asia.

Meanwhile this distinctly American product, almost unobserved, is winning a comparable triumph at home. It is probably chewing gum,, more than anything else, that is responsible for the disuse of chewing tobacco. Gum-chewing is not a pleasant habit, yet it has its compensations.

Earnings Of Women

American women earn more than they used to. The average woman worker filing an income tax gets from $1,000 to $2,000 a year. Over 150,000 women who are heads of families had average incomes last year of nearly $3,000. Of single working women there were some 773,314, with average incomes of $2,436. There were 173,225 married women who filed income tax returns separately from their husbands, and their average incomes were about $5,500.

Of course many women earn money on a lower level than the income tax payers. Many of them work half time, or are in ill-paid occupations.

But the general fact is that last year more than a million women earned enough to bring them under the income tax law, and they earned pretty competently.

Some of our very best people are scandalized at the informality of Queen Marie. As we go to press, it looks doubtful whether the queen is endangering American democracy or America is endangering royal democracy.

It must be said for Chicago that her bandit war hasn't yet got to the trench stage.

THE RUSH FOR THE LIFEBOATS.

It happened soon after the Titanic disaster occurred that a certain manager produced at a Broadway theatre the first work of a certain young dramatist.

Afterwards the budding dramatist perfected his art and achieved a considerable reputation. But his initial offering was not what the most charitable friend could call a success. In fact it was a conspicuous failure. The critics were pretty well agreed in the opinion that while worse plays might have ben written this was the worst play any of them had ever seen.

At the end of the second act members of the audience began to reach for their coats and hats. A stream of persons whose intention it plainly was to get out and to stay out filled the aisles. The movement became a rush. Hundreds were departing, hundreds more evidently were preparing to depart.

At the back of the house where the crush was thickest the tall form of Ben Hapgood Burt, the humorous song-writer, loomed, and in a great voice Burt cried out:

"One moment, please! Women and children first!"

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. — Thoughts while strolling: The yellow car labeled "Miss Miami" with a live monkey chained to the windshield. What became of Annette Kellerman? Five hair tinting parlors in one block. Don't cheer, the poor devils, etc.

More mystery plays. With solemn butlers and missing jewels. The dapper burlesque dance team with red, jagged shrapnel scars. Bob Hilliard. And his whole lapel flower. A horse and buggy. Wonder if there is a hay and feed store in New York?

The Danish pastry parlor with six red headed waitresses. The Metropolitan needs a scrubbing. Two old sandwich men still wearing straw hats. A flood of new cabarets—without covert charge. For the dinner hour only. After that every man for himself.

Two chorus girls reading the racing news—and sighing. Manhattan's lingering twilight and that peaceful glow of light from the big office buildings. Orchestra fiddlers who eat early in cafeterias. Wearing dinner coats.

Movie electric signs still getting bigger. And more complicated in color and action. Those gown and hat shops which seem to flourish with early evening trade. Likewise the beauty salons. Allan Dwan's owlish expression. Came the Dwan-ha-ha.

That worldly sidewalk group about the Palace stage entrance. Sime of Variety. The boy lookouts for a newsie dice game. Rarely see fresh roasted peanuts any more. Are they fattening too?

There are decent night clubs, but they are in the minority, and prohibition has spawned a gilded type of dive in Manhattan's Tenderloin that make the old Bowery joints seem eminently respectable. The worst one received in the Bowery joint was knockout drops and perhaps an awakening in a nearby alley minus the gold hunting case watch and a front tooth.

The new kind of gyp joints are the hangout for the most sinister type of criminals to be found in a great city. They have brought all the gunmen, dope fiends, hold-up boys and hi-jackers out of the East Side cellars into the dazzling lights of Broadway. The underworld no longer wears sweaters and caps. It is as well groomed as Fifth avenue.

Most proprietors are those shifty fellows who graduated from Raines Law hotel bell hops into bootlegging and then night club proprietors. There are many known to be in league with big jewel thieves and blackmailers. It has given night life a mechanical touch that creaks. No longer is there the spontaneity of the old days when patrons came laughing and talking from the theatre.

They enter night clubs these days as though it were a grim business—something they feel might end in disaster. Decent people mingle with gorillas and call it an "experience." Nobody seems to laugh. It is as though everybody waited a little breathlessly, for something to happen and if they wait long enough it will. Clang! Clang!—The wagon again.

All the unlovely brood of Broadway procurers, pimps and parasites who were formerly kept moving along the Broadway paves have found an easy, comfortable and profitable haven in the gyp joints.

One may see almost anything along Broadway. For instance—the top of a brilliantly lighted movie canopy. Two men step out of an office window evidently to read a letter one has in his hand. A woman in furs joins them. There is an introduction and all three light cigarettes and converse as roaring Broadway tumbles by.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The Cotton Problem—II.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The crux of the problem of the cotton industry as it is presented today is that the cotton growers have produced a larger crop than can be absorbed by, normal market requirements, both at home and abroad. Moreover, they have done this for two successive years. The result is a glutted market—not actual so much as in prospect—with a drop in the price of cotton until it is below the cost of production.

This means a loss to cotton growers that approximates, as has been stated, from $400,000,000 to $500,000,000, and that might prove even more disastrous had not steps been taken to steady the market.

Furthermore it means a great handicap, if not a serious loss, to the manufacturers of cotton, for the greatest market for their wares in this country is in the cotton-growing states. If the cotton growers are impoverished, they can not buy on the scale that they buy normally, hence the cotton manufacturers suffer.

The cotton crop this year, according to government estimates, will run to about 17,500,000 bales. Normally it runs from 13,500,000 to 15,000,000 bales. With conditions as they are throughout the world—and it is to be remembered that normally we expect 60 per cent of our cotton crop—it has been figured that this year's crop is about 4,000,000 bales too large. The mere announcement of the government crop estimate put the price of cotton on a toboggan.

No one criticises the government for making this estimate, and no one questions its accurracy. The cotton world could not get along without the government crop estimates. They are universally regarded as invaluable. Had this year's figures indicated a short crop, the result would have been an advance, and probably a sharp advance, in the price. It just happened that an unusually large crop was forecasted and that that had to bring about a drop in the price.

Thus the first phase of the problem presented to President Coolidge's commission, which is headed by Eugene Meyer, jr., and includes Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, was to prevent the glutting of the market, and thereby to stablize the price, to a degree, at least.

The Power of Money or Credit.

This has already been accomplished prospectively. Mr. Meyer has made a trip through the cotton growing states, and wherever he has gone he has promised, with the evidence to make good his promise, that for every million dollars raised locally he would provide an additional $10,000,000 to be used in carrying over the surplus of the cotton crop for from 18 months to two years. Through this magic power of money or credit, or both, it has been assured, therefore, that some 4,000,000 bales of cotton will be withheld from market until conditions warrant its being sold, with a resultant steadying effect upon the market price of the South's great staple.

But—and there is a large BUT in the equation—if permanent good is to result the cotton growers must cooperate. They must curtail their acreage for next year's crop, and for some years to come. They must not produce next year, nor the year after, more cotton than their markets can absorb at a fair price. The curtail figure that has been set is 25 per cent. Unofficially it is stated that it would be a good thing for everybody concerned if the South planted 30 to 40 per cent fewer acres to cotton next year than it planted this year.

Lest there be any doubt that this is true it may be said upon the authority of one of the best informed men in the government service, who obviously, can not permit himself to be quoted, that if the United States did not produce a single bale of cotton next year there would be no cotton shortage. The price might, and undoubtedly would, do a sky-rocket stunt, but that would be because of the speculators, and not because there would be enough actual cotton in sight to meet all the world's actual needs.

It is recognized, however, that it is an extremely difficult matter to carry through this proposed curtailment of cotton acreage. The growers will

Furthermore it means a great handicap, if not a serious loss, to the manufacturers of cotton, for the greatest market for their wares in this country is in the cotton-growing states. If the cotton growers are impoverished, they can not buy on the scale that they buy normally, hence the cotton manufacturers suffer.

The cotton crop this year, according to government estimates, will run to about 17,500,000 bales. Normally it runs from 13,500,000 to 15,000,000 bales. With conditions as they are throughout the world—and it is to be remembered that normally we expect 60 per cent of our cotton crop—it has been figured that this year's crop is about 4,000,000 bales too large. The mere announcement of the government crop estimate put the price of cotton on a toboggan.

No one criticises the government for making this estimate, and no one questions its accurracy. The cotton world could not get along without the government crop estimates. They are universally regarded as invaluable. Had this year's figures indicated a short crop, the result would have been an advance, and probably a sharp advance, in the price. It just happened that an unusually large crop was forecasted and that that had to bring about a drop in the price.

Thus the first phase of the problem presented to President Coolidge's commission, which is headed by Eugene Meyer, jr., and includes Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, was to prevent the glutting of the market, and thereby to stablize the price, to a degree, at least.

The Power of Money or Credit.

This has already been accomplished prospectively. Mr. Meyer has made a trip through the cotton growing states, and wherever he has gone he has promised, with the evidence to make good his promise, that for every million dollars raised locally he would provide an additional $10,000,000 to be used in carrying over the surplus of the cotton crop for from 18 months to two years. Through this magic power of money or credit, or both, it has been assured, therefore, that some 4,000,000 bales of cotton will be withheld from market until conditions warrant its being sold, with a resultant steadying effect upon the market price of the South's great staple.

But—and there is a large BUT in the equation—if permanent good is to result the cotton growers must cooperate. They must curtail their acreage for next year's crop, and for some years to come. They must not produce next year, nor the year after, more cotton than their markets can absorb at a fair price. The curtail figure that has been set is 25 per cent. Unofficially it is stated that it would be a good thing for everybody concerned if the South planted 30 to 40 per cent fewer acres to cotton next year than it planted this year.

Lest there be any doubt that this is true it may be said upon the authority of one of the best informed men in the government service, who obviously, can not permit himself to be quoted, that if the United States did not produce a single bale of cotton next year there would be no cotton shortage. The price might, and undoubtedly would, do a sky-rocket stunt, but that would be because of the speculators, and not because there would be enough actual cotton in sight to meet all the world's actual needs.

It is recognized, however, that it is an extremely difficult matter to carry through this proposed curtailment of cotton acreage. The growers will

New Method of Dealing With Great Combines Adopted.

PLAN EFFECTIVE

Department of Justice Apples Economic Legal Brake.

WASHINGTON—The United States government's new method in dealing with big business combinations is resulting in benefit to both the promoters of these so-called trusts, and the general public, according to William J. Donovan, assistant to the attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions.

"Heretofore, action has been taken against corporations after the combination complained of had been formed and had entered into the economic life of the country," Donovan said.

"Dissolution proceedings, after prolonged investigation and protracted trials too often resulted in decrees more of form than of fact. While recently more effective methods of dissolution have been evolved, at best they are an agonizing process and far from satisfactory.

"A more simple and perhaps more obvious method has now been adopted.

"The effectiveness of this method is evidenced by certain examples of the past few months.

New Trust Plan.

"If an advertised merger or proposed combination be suspected of illegality, investigation is started at once and if these be evidence of illegality proceedings are instituted before the plan can be consummated. By this method, stock in the concern is not unloaded upon the public, the interest of the consumer is protected, the honest producer is benefitted and the evil of the promoter is averted."

Donovan pointed out it is fair also to the honest projector of the plan who believes that he is acting within the law. The issue is at once presented to the court, which must in any case make the final determination and its decision is the nature of an advisory judgment.

"If the judgment be in favor of the defendant," Donovan continued, "he can proceed with his plan with greater assurance and increased prestige. If it be declared violative of the law, then with this advice in advance, he is saved the inconvenience and the financial expense attendant upon endless litigation after his business has been set up."

Donovan made these assertions in a statement relative to the relationship which should exist between government and business.

"The means that shall be taken to regulate, or to own, or to operate industry, must be decided by the principle of what best serves the public," Donovan declared.

Applying Brakes.

"There are those who believe that there should be no interference with business—that the restraints of the Sherman law and the Clayton act should be removed. Others would abolish our present capitalistic system and in the accomplishment of that end are content with the growth of great combinations, in the hope that this will bring in increased government control and finally nationalization of industry."

Donovan feels that the middle ground seems to be occupied by those who believe in the strict application of the competitive principle in order that governmental ownership may be avoided.

Accepted theories of economics and principles of law sometimes clash, according to Donovan. He added that when that clash occurs, public officials must apply the yardstick of the law. Practical experience indicates, however, that these clashes are more infrequent that certain extremists would have us believe, it was pointed out.

"What the department of justice is endeavoring to do is not to smash legitimate and honest business, but to apply the economic legal brake to runaway speculation, to illegal methods of business and to illegitimate combinations," Donovan concluded.

Airplanes, automobiles and motion picture machines will be among the exhibits featured at the first international sample fair and students' exhibition to be held in San Salvador.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Don't Let a Cough or Cold 'Go Down'

If you let a cough get down into your bronchial tubes or lungs, it stops being merely a nuisance and becomes a real danger.

A "head cold" is only a bother while it stays in your head. But once it gets down into the danger zone, serious trouble threatens.

Act promptly to check the cough; to keep the head cold from "going down." Sure and lasting relief is as near as the nearest drug store.

Quickly and unfailingly Ayer's Cherry Pectoral goes straight to the seat of danger. Real medicine, reaching deep with its soothing, healing power, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes of your throat and bronchial tubes.

If you are catching cold; if you have a "head cold"; if your chest is tight; if you have a cough — even if bronchitis has developed — Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! Keep your cold from going down into the danger zone.

Cherry Pectoral is pleasant, safe and dependable — for children and grown people. At all druggists — 60c; twice as much, $1.00. 1b24c

REPENTANCE IS URGED BY DR. MEL MORRIS

Life Can be Begun Again Despite Sinfulness.

STIRRING SERMON

Another Large Crowd Attends Baptist Church Services.

That life can be begun again despite the sinfulness of the past was affirmed in a stirring sermon by Rev. Mel. Morris, evangelist, now holding a series of meetings at the First Baptist church last evening. "No matter what the depth of depravity that has been reached the gospel of Christ, accepted and applied, will nullify all wrong doing by merit of His shed blood," he said, "and enable the transformed sinner to start existence anew in the purity and innocence of a young child."

Hearing him was one of the largest throngs of the present revival, the auditorium being filled to capacity and a large overflow utilizing the Sunday school room. In attendance was a large contingent of the Salvation Army, accompanied by its band and headed by Field Major and Mrs. Walter Hughes.

Several musical numbers were given by the band following the invocation by Rev. O. L. Benedum of the Nazarene church, who also at the service's conclusion gave the benediction.

Major Hughes sang and led the congregation in several numbers: "At They Feet I Fall," "Since Jesus Came Into My Heart," "Remember Me" and "I Came to Jesus."

Mrs. Hughes, following the sermon, led in the post-service prayer.

Announcement was made that a delegation from the C. C. Thompson Pottery Co., would be in attendance at tonight's service.

"From filthy, scarlet hued rags the finest of white paper is made," the evangelist pointed out. "Something like that is the transformation that is experienced by the sinner, steeped in sin, who by the blood of Christ, once he surrenders his old life and humbly throws himself upon him, will have his sould made pure again. 'Though your sins be as scarlet they shall be white as snow.'"

He told of a leading banker in a small community who, abconding after failing to become a Christian, saw an electric sign in Canada where he had fled with the words: "The blood of Jesus Christ, His son, cleanses from all sin." He fought out that night in his hotel the fight as to suicide or surrendering to God. He decided upon the latter place, returned to his home, confessed and upon his neighbors, recognizing his sincerity, he was given the chance to make good. He did, recompensing all his losses and living a life of an outstanding Christian for 20 years subsequently. "What this man did every sinner can do," declared the minister. "The blood of Christ will cleanse, purify and renew all who come to Him."

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion or Stomach Trouble CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis accompanied by dangerous stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with pepsin or artificial digestents that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little hot water and Bisurated Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bisurated Magnesia, to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. It soaks up the harmful excess acid much as a sponge or blotting paper might and your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive.

Don Lanning Will Present Musical Comedy Hit, 'Irene'

Broadway Stage Success is Bill at Ceramic Theatre Tonight and Saturday Afternoon and Night.

Don Lanning, East Liverpool's own star, who has scored a tremendous hit in two shows presented this week at the Ceramic theatre, will be seen tonight and Saturday in "Irene," a musical comedy success. It will be presented as nearly like the New York show as possible.

In "Irene," Don is to be seen in the difficult role of the male modiste, Madame Lucy, a designer of georgous gowns and frocks. He is a scream every minute of the play and is ably supported by Mildred Robison in the stunning role of "Irene," the waif who has become one of the most fashionable throughout the art of Mlle. Lucy.

Others in support of Lanning are Milton Reick, Rafe Pauliott, Emily Ross and Patsy Cullen, Lew Hampton, Edna Jacques, and Bartley Cahill and Jack Barbee.

There will be two shows tonight, one at 7 and another at 9, with a matinee tomorrow at 2 o'clock and two shows tomorrow night.

Tomorrow is Lanning's farewell to his home town. His next engagement is at the Court theatre, Wheeling, W. Va.

Brothers and Cousin Are Prisoners in Somerville, N. J.

By James L. Kilgallen.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 12.—Before the curtain rises each day revealing the Hall-Mills murder trial drama, there is enacted a scene in the Somerset county jail, just back of the courthouse, that is not without its pathos.

It is Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall's visit to the little bleak jail.

She goes there each morning, shortly after 9 o'clock to see her brothers, Willie and Henry Stevens, who are accused with her of having committed one of the most brutal double murders in American criminal history.

"Good morning," she invariably says with a cheerful smile as she is ushered into the reception room by "Jim" Major, the warden, to meet her brothers who are waiting for her, eager for this brief meeting that helps so much to give all of them courage to meet the ordeal of the day in court.

Willie and Henry Model Prisoners.

What a contrast in the daily routine of this pale-faced, blackgarbed woman! Not long ago, it was her custom to pay a daily visit to the Church of St. John the Evangelist in New Brunswick; now it is a daily trip to a jail. Formerly surrounded by a circle of friends who admired and perhaps envied her as the wealthy pastor's wife; now a woman deserted by all but "the loyal few."

She has been free on bail, but Willie and Henry have had to stay in jail. She feels for them keenly. They have been taking their plight philosophically enough, if all accounts be true, but she feels that somehow she must give them solace.

Willie is always delighted to see her and he shows it when he rushes to greet her. Henry is more reserved but he is glad to see her just the same.

Both Willie and Henry are model prisoners. They do not give the warden the slightest trouble. Willie likes to play cards; Henry loves to read. Willie doesn't take his incarceration too hard; in fact, this writer was assured by the Main street barber who shaves Willie in the jail, that "Willie is full of jokes and never talks about the trial." He likes to play solitaire and, when he gets some one to play with him, cribbage. He reads, too, having been discovered the other day reading a book on metallurgy.

When Mrs. Henry Stevens asked him why he was reading that particular book, Willie replied.

"It's the bread and butter of my Literary Digest.

Henry goes in for heavy fiction, particularly books pertaining to the sea. He is quite a fisherman.

Now and then Mrs. Stevens calls to see Henry and plays cribbage with him.

In the jail, too, is Henry de la Bruyere Carpender, cousin of Mrs. Hall, who is also accused of the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir singer, Mrss. Eleanor Mills. But Carpender, who is a Wall street broker, is not to be tried until later. His loyal wife visits him almost daily. She said today that it was "awful" to keep Henry waiting for trial — he wants to be at the side of Frances and Henry and Willie.

The visit of President Coolidge before the arrival of the queen apparently sapped the vitality of officialdom.

"I thought of telegraphing you folks and asking you to come," said Mayor A. I. Beach to one of the officials in the royal party.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Lorena Blackinton.

Mrs. Lorena Young Blackinton, wife of Fred L. Blackinton, and former Wellsville resident, died yesterday afternoon at Battle Creek, Michigan. She was a daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. A. I. Young.

Funeral services will be held tonight in Pittsburgh. The body will be taken to Wellsville tomorrow morning for burial in Spring Hill cemetery.

Six Organizations Feature Armistice Day Programs Here

Legion, Foreign War Vets, Elks, Sons of St. George, B'Nai Israel Sisterhood and Knights of Columbus Celebrate.

Armistice Day celebrations, conducted independently by six organizations in East Liverpool last night, were successes from every standpoint.

More than 100 men, the majority of them World War veterans, attended the banquet and "jamboree" given under the auspices of East Liverpool post, No. 4, American Legion. Hugh K. Martin, Columbus, past department commander of the Ohio American Legion, was the speaker at the banquet given in the Y. M. C. A. at 6:30 o'clock. He was introduced by Attorney William S. Foulks, adjutant of the local post. The chorus singing was led by R. M. Baur, while pantrope music was featured by the Smith & Phillips Music company.

Attorney W. S. Stevenson, Joseph Smith and John Bailey were speakers at the "jamboree" in the Legion rooms beginning at 9 o'clock. A vaudeville performance was an added feature. Refreshments were served.

The community entertainment, given by Private Eddy Post No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in their rooms in the Brookes building was also largely attended. Rev. Frank G. Fowler, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, was the speaker. A musical program, in which vocal and instrumental numbers were presented, was also given.

The Elks' lodge celebrated the day by entertaining 75 children from the McCullough-Jefferson County home. The youngsters were guests of Don Lanning at a matinee at the Ceramic theatre, enjoyed an hour's automobile ride about the city and then returned to the lodge temple for a chicken dinner. After the dinner they presented a patriotic program of musical and literary numbers and also offered dance specialties. Sayre's orchestra played. The children returned home at 9:30 o'clock in a special car provided by The Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company. Members of the lodge and their friends were entertained at a dance afterwards.

About 300 guests attended the supper and entertainment given by the Sons of St. George in the St. Stephens Parish house. A program of music and speaking was carried out following the banquet, the entertainment being concluded with a dance. Dr. Edward B. Andrews, of the American Guild of Health, in East Liverpool for a series of special meetings, made an address.

The Temple Sisterhood of the B'nai Israel Temple, celebrated the day serving a turkey dinner to 300 persons.

The Knights of Columbus entertained with patriotic program and smoker in their rooms in the Ingram building.

Coolidge Returning

as it went," meaning he thought Mr. Coolidge should have gone even further and recommended the recall of last January's action.

Only a handful of the ardent proleague and pro-court senators found fault with Mr. Coolidge's expressed attitude. Senator Bruce (D.), of Maryland, said the court "will outlive the president's valedictory."

Little Criticism in London.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Despite its nationalistic tone and sharp, caustic comments on European affairs, the speech of President Coolidge at the dedication of the Liberty War Memorial at Kansas City yesterday, has met with general approval and comparatively little criticism in British government circles.

One prominent government official who preferred that his name be not used, characterized the speech as follows:

"President Coolidge's address is essentially an extremely sensible utterance made by a patriotic American. There is nothing in the speech to which we could legitimately object as a government.

"President Coolide's remarks about the Armistice ending the war are eminently just. We agree perfectly with him regarding the necessity of dropping recriminations between nations.

"As to America's part in the war, Mr. Coolidge is perfectly right in taking the attitude he has adopted, while his criticisms upon the old time "armed camp" of Europe are unanswerable."

Great Britain is not surprised by President Coolidge's announcement that America is through with the world court unless the senate's reservations are adhered to.

"His announcement regarding the world court doesn't take us by surprise," the official said. "We have known his attitude for months. The only point where the president does stop on open and debatable ground is in his reference to American prosperity, and his indirect references to debts."

President Coolidge urged the American people, in his address, not to be ashamed of their prosperity, and ascribed the alleged unpopularity of Americans abroad to the fact that America was a creditor nation.

French Newspapers Silent.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—The French newspapers printed President Coolidge's Armistice Day speech at length, but in the main refrained from any comment on its interpretation.

Geneva Interpretations.

GENEVA, Nov. 12.—In authoritative league of nations circles here President Coolidge's Armistice Day speech at Kansas City yesterday is interpreted as definitely barring the United States from membership in the world court.

It was declared that the present members of the world court can not gracefully make more concessions to the United States than those made at the Geneva signatory conference in September.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Industrial stocks and high priced specialties staged a modest "demonstration" in the early trading today by way of emphasizing Wall street's hearty approval of the extra dividend of $4 a share ordered by the directors of General Motors corporation. The stage was set for the squeezing of the shorts in some of the market favorites, and the bears beat a rapid retreat as stocks in this group were marked up 2 to 5 points above yesterday's close.

Thomas Lewellyn Home in Minerva Street is Looted

Home of Thomas Llewellyn, upper Minerva street, was looted between 7 and 9 o'clock last night while members of the family were absent.

Entrance to the house was made by jimmying a window leading into the bath room located on the first floor, Patrolman Herman Roth found upon investigation.

The loot included a wrist watch, 38 caliber revolver, two ladies' rings, pearl necklace, money bank, bank book, man's ring, pair tan oxfords, pair lady's black satin slippers, men's gloves and handkerchiefs.

Police believe boys were responsible.

10 O. K. Annexation

in order to give the community, now in the township, "improvements which are sorely needed." He declared that the residents of the township work or have business interests in the city and as a result are really a part of the municipality.

"The city is short of sites for homes and factories and the only available space is that in the township," Cawood said. Upon cross-examination by Brokaw, Cawood said that the land which the city proposes to annex is not totally "built-up."

J. W. Newman, teller at the First National bank, and resident of Maplewood, said he favored the move, for it would give that community not only city water but also street lights as well as police and fire protection. He said that he had full confidence that the city officials will provide these advantages if the annexation plan should be sanctioned. He was cross-examined by Boyd.

Librarian Testifies.

Harry Thompson, manager of the decorating departments of the East End plants of the Homer Laughlin China company, testified that he wanted to come into the city for the advantages which would be offered by having city water and fire protection. He said that the difference of 3.1 mills in the tax rat would be a good investment. The witness expressed the opinion that two men might be kept on duty at the Northside fire station instead of one if annexation were successful.

Miss Hall, librarian at the Carnegie Library, said that the library was open to all residents of the city and that non-residents were permitted to use the institution by paying a $1 fee per year. She said that her salary was paid by the city. Upon cross-examination by Boyd, Miss Hall explained that the Carnegie Library board was the governing body of the institution.

William B. Louthan, secretary-treasurer of the Louthan Manufacturing company and a resident of the Park boulevard, said he would have no objection to coming into the city of the water mains were extended to his home. Upon cross-examination—by Brokaw, the witness said he believed that a majority of the residents would sign contracts for city water if the mains were constructed.

Joseph Thompson, who is employed by the Hall China company, said that he was preparing to erect a home on property which he recently acquired on the Park Way road and that he was anxious to obtain city water before he built. He said that fire insurance costs $1 more per thousand in the township than it would if the territory were in the city and had fire protection.

Harry Deidrick, Maplewood potter, said he favored coming into the city for he wanted city water, street lights and fire protection. He said that the improvements would be well worth the difference in the tax rate.

W. H. Powell, Jennings avenue contractor, testified that he found it hard to sell property located outside the city limits because there is no fire protection. He said that the water lines were laid past his place and that he had the advantages of city water but had no fire protection. The witness expressed the opinion that the city would be justified in charging non-residents of the city 10-percent additional over the city rates for water.

Adjournment at Noon.

A. W. Crawford, wholesale produce dealer, who resides in Park boulevard, said that he favored annexation. He stated that he would like the advantage of city water.

Other residents of the township and city officials were to testify this afternoon.

Cast for "Her Song"

Robert Sample appears as Blumberg, a theatrical producer.

Other comedians include three stage hands, "Juice," "Props" and and "Charlie," the stage carpenter—William Hayes, Edwin McGraw and Vincent Broomhall. Miss Eileen Todd will essay the role of Gladys Van Tine, a specialty dancer, while Earl Reese will be Graig Randall, Christine's lover. The part of Paul Gartin, a Broadway idol, will be played by Virgil Hasson; Blossom, a Broadway stage director, by Kenneth Berg; Mr. Porter, by James McNutt; Fritz, a music pupil, by Ralph Jones and the doorman, by Ralph Hall.

Choruses of "Spotlight Girls," "Bobbed Haired Flappers," "Charleston Dancers," "Follies" and others will also take part.

The play will be offered in three scenes, the first and third being the home of Emil Kronheim in New Hassel, a small town in Pennsylvania and the second will be the stage of a Broadway theatre. Elaborate costumes and scenic equipment will be supplied by the Rogers Producing company.

Tickets for the play may be purchased at the three Carnahan drug stores, East End, Newell and down town, at the Bulger drug store; from members of the cast or any member of the DeMolay.

Committees in charge of the show are:

General production—Robert R. Kevan and Robert G. Bloor.

Program and advertising — Julius Erlanger, Russell Heddleston, Jr., and Robert Kenney.

Talent—Glenn Robert and George Allison.

increase their acreage by 15 per cent. How much wheat would they plant were the price $2.49, which the farmers feel they ought to have? And where would the government get money to buy the surplus $2.49 wheat?

Farmers can help their wheat situation by backing Secretary Hoover's plan for a canal to the gulf through the Mississippi valley and another from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic ocean.

That would make every bushel of wheat worth from six to 18 cents more.

Since the war railroads have raised rates six to 18 cents a bushel, and surplus American wheat on its way to Liverpool pays that tax.

Argentine and ---ralian wheat has the six to 18 cents advantage per bushel over American wheat at Liverpool, where the price is made.

Hall-Mills Defense Hit

He said that he had expected the official records of Willie Stevens' fingerprints would be taken to Middletown but he did not know they were taken, by Mayor or anyone else.

"After you got that card, did you suggest sending it out to Middletown?" asked McCarter.

"No."

"When did you heart it had been taken to Middletown?"

"The same day."

"Where had the card been between the time in July it was given you and August 17, when it was taken to Middletown?"

"In a steel cabinet in my office in New York. It was wrapped in waxed paper."

First "Break" in Story.

McCarter asked the editor how much money the New York Mirror spent on their investigation shortly before the arrest of Mrs. Hall.

Simpson objected asserting that McCarter was "drawing a red herring across the case," and confusing the jury.

Judge Parker overruled the question.

McCarter sought to bring out that the first "break" in the story was when Arthur S. Riehl brought suit for annulment of his marriage to Louise Geist Riehl, former maid in the Hall home, and that "an attorney for the corporation which employs you drew up the petition for the annulment."

Simpson interrupted with an objection shouting.

"The first 'break' in this case was when Eleanor Mills' throat was cut."

Barbara Tough on Stand.

Barbara Tough, the chatty Scot woman who for seven years was Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall's personal maid, was recalled to the witness stand.

She had previously told in her drawling manner that Mrs. Hall was out of the Hall home at 10 o'clock on the night four years ago when the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were slain. The time of the crime has been fixed at 10:30 p. m.

Miss Tough looked directly at Prosecutor Alexander Simpson as he began to shoot questions at her.

Simpson asked her the name of the "Guild Girls" who were gossiping about Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills in the church of St. John the Evangelist of New Brunswick.

The defense objected to testimony regarding gossip.

"I will get the information elsewhere—that's all."

Senator Clarence Case, of defense counsel, walked to the witness stand and put his hand on the railing as he cross-examined Miss Tough.

"Did you see anything unusual in the Hall home on the night of the murder?" Case asked.

"No."

"In going upstairs that night at 10 o'clock you didn't go anywhere near the bedroom of Dr. and Mrs. Hall?"

"No," replied the maid.

"Danny" Mills is Spectator.

Watching the proceedings for the first time was "Danny" Mills, 16-year-old son of James Mills, who sat next to his sister, Charlotte.

Mrs. Hall sat pale and quiet and garbed in black in the prisoners' dock. Henry Stevens looked fresher than on other days in a new blue suit. Willie was dressed as usual in a gray suit.

Pearl Bahmer, who had been subpoenaed by the defense to appear in court today, was not among the early arrivals. The defense plans, it is said, to use the girl to batter down the state's theory of the crime.

One Slain as She Returns From Music Lesson—Another Probably Fatally Wounded as She Walks Home.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—A maniac killer who has shot two school girls within the past 48 hours, killing one and probably fatally injuring the second, was being hunted by the authorities here today.

Victoria Delimata, 16, was the first victim. She was shot and instantly killed Wednesday night while returning home from a music lesson. Twenty hours later, Esther Haas, 13, was shot as she walked home from school. Her condition is critical.

Circumstances surrounding both shooting were identical. The same calibre pistol was used in each instance. The fact that both shootings occurred in the same section of the city led investigators to believe that one person committed both crimes.

A former inmate of the Kankakee State Insane hospital, living in the neighborhood, is being sought for questioning. The absence of any motive for the strange attacks suggests the theory that a maniac with a penchant for killing young girls is abroad.

Residents of Chicago Heights, where both shootings occurred, are terrified. Many parents have refused to allow their children to leave the house, pending the arrest of the mysterious assassin. Others are sending their children to and from school under heavy guard.

BARNEY THOMAS IS FINED $25

Barney Thomas was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today after he was found guilty upon charge of the illegal possession of intoxicating liquors.

Annual convention of the Women's Home Missionary society of the North-East Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church which has been in session at the First Methodist Episcopal church since Wednesday afternoon, is scheduled to close today with the election of officers and the selection of next year's meeting place. The 1927 convention will be held in the Norwalk district, but the city has not been determined.

Last evening's session was featured by an address by Miss Margaret Palmer, Scranton, national field secretary, who discussed a school for Mexican children which she conducted near Hollywood, California. Musical numbers were rendered by a mixed quartet, consisting of Miss Mildred Weaver, Prof. W. A. Macdonald, Mrs. Robert Weinhardt and Rowland T. Kaufman. Mrs. J. J. Wyeth lead the devotional exercises.

Rev. Mr. Grimmage, in charge of the Friendship Community center in Cleveland, discussed his work among colored people at the afternoon meeting. A children's hour followed, after which Mrs. J. W. Dowds, Cambridge, conducted a Floral Garden in which she presented work among children. Mrs. L. E. Coffman was the final speaker.

Work of the organization in the Halloway, Byesville and Pearl Street institutions at Youngstown and other deaconesses homes were presented at the morning session by six speakers. Committees were appointed.

WIDOW PAYS DAILY VISIT TO KIN IN JAIL

"Good Morning," She Says With Cheerful Smile.

Brothers and Cousin Are Prisoners in Somerville, N. J.

By James L. Kilgallen.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 12.—Before the curtain rises each day revealing the Hall-Mills murder trial drama, there is enacted a scene in the Somerset county jail, just back of the courthouse, that is not without its pathos.

It is Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall's visit to the little bleak jail.

She goes there each morning, shortly after 9 o'clock to see her brothers, Willie and Henry Stevens, who are accused with her of having committed one of the most brutal double murders in American criminal history.

"Good morning," she invariably says with a cheerful smile as she is ushered into the reception room by "Jim" Major, the warden, to meet her brothers who are waiting for her, eager for this brief meeting that helps so much to give all of them courage to meet the ordeal of the day in court.

The Elks' lodge celebrated the day by entertaining 75 children from the McCullough-Jefferson County home. The youngsters were guests of Don Lanning at a matinee at the Ceramic theatre, enjoyed an hour's automobile ride about the city and then returned to the lodge temple for a chicken dinner. After the dinner they presented a patriotic program of musical and literary numbers and also offered dance specialties. Sayre's orchestra played. The children returned home at 9:30 o'clock in a special car provided by The Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company. Members of the lodge and their friends were entertained at a dance afterwards.

About 300 guests attended the supper and entertainment given by the Sons of St. George in the St. Stephens Parish house. A program of music and speaking was carried out following the banquet, the entertainment being concluded with a dance. Dr. Edward B. Andrews, of the American Guild of Health, in East Liverpool for a series of special meetings, made an address.

The Temple Sisterhood of the B'nai Israel Temple, celebrated the day serving a turkey dinner to 300 persons.

The Knights of Columbus entertained with patriotic program and smoker in their rooms in the Ingram building.

as it went," meaning he thought Mr. Coolidge should have gone even further and recommended the recall of last January's action.

Only a handful of the ardent proleague and pro-court senators found fault with Mr. Coolidge's expressed attitude. Senator Bruce (D.), of Maryland, said the court "will outlive the president's valedictory."

Little Criticism in London.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Despite its nationalistic tone and sharp, caustic comments on European affairs, the speech of President Coolidge at the dedication of the Liberty War Memorial at Kansas City yesterday, has met with general approval and comparatively little criticism in British government circles.

One prominent government official who preferred that his name be not used, characterized the speech as follows:

"President Coolidge's address is essentially an extremely sensible utterance made by a patriotic American. There is nothing in the speech to which we could legitimately object as a government.

"President Coolide's remarks about the Armistice ending the war are eminently just. We agree perfectly with him regarding the necessity of dropping recriminations between nations.

"As to America's part in the war, Mr. Coolidge is perfectly right in taking the attitude he has adopted, while his criticisms upon the old time "armed camp" of Europe are unanswerable."

Great Britain is not surprised by President Coolidge's announcement that America is through with the world court unless the senate's reservations are adhered to.

"His announcement regarding the world court doesn't take us by surprise," the official said. "We have known his attitude for months. The only point where the president does stop on open and debatable ground is in his reference to American prosperity, and his indirect references to debts."

President Coolidge urged the American people, in his address, not to be ashamed of their prosperity, and ascribed the alleged unpopularity of Americans abroad to the fact that America was a creditor nation.

French Newspapers Silent.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—The French newspapers printed President Coolidge's Armistice Day speech at length, but in the main refrained from any comment on its interpretation.

Geneva Interpretations.

GENEVA, Nov. 12.—In authoritative league of nations circles here President Coolidge's Armistice Day speech at Kansas City yesterday is interpreted as definitely barring the United States from membership in the world court.

It was declared that the present members of the world court can not gracefully make more concessions to the United States than those made at the Geneva signatory conference in September.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Industrial stocks and high priced specialties staged a modest "demonstration" in the early trading today by way of emphasizing Wall street's hearty approval of the extra dividend of $4 a share ordered by the directors of General Motors corporation. The stage was set for the squeezing of the shorts in some of the market favorites, and the bears beat a rapid retreat as stocks in this group were marked up 2 to 5 points above yesterday's close.

Thomas Lewellyn Home in Minerva Street is Looted

Home of Thomas Llewellyn, upper Minerva street, was looted between 7 and 9 o'clock last night while members of the family were absent.

Entrance to the house was made by jimmying a window leading into the bath room located on the first floor, Patrolman Herman Roth found upon investigation.

The loot included a wrist watch, 38 caliber revolver, two ladies' rings, pearl necklace, money bank, bank book, man's ring, pair tan oxfords, pair lady's black satin slippers, men's gloves and handkerchiefs.

Police believe boys were responsible.

in order to give the community, now in the township, "improvements which are sorely needed." He declared that the residents of the township work or have business interests in the city and as a result are really a part of the municipality.

"The city is short of sites for homes and factories and the only available space is that in the township," Cawood said. Upon cross-examination by Brokaw, Cawood said that the land which the city proposes to annex is not totally "built-up."

J. W. Newman, teller at the First National bank, and resident of Maplewood, said he favored the move, for it would give that community not only city water but also street lights as well as police and fire protection. He said that he had full confidence that the city officials will provide these advantages if the annexation plan should be sanctioned. He was cross-examined by Boyd.

Librarian Testifies.

Harry Thompson, manager of the decorating departments of the East End plants of the Homer Laughlin China company, testified that he wanted to come into the city for the advantages which would be offered by having city water and fire protection. He said that the difference of 3.1 mills in the tax rat would be a good investment. The witness expressed the opinion that two men might be kept on duty at the Northside fire station instead of one if annexation were successful.

Miss Hall, librarian at the Carnegie Library, said that the library was open to all residents of the city and that non-residents were permitted to use the institution by paying a $1 fee per year. She said that her salary was paid by the city. Upon cross-examination by Boyd, Miss Hall explained that the Carnegie Library board was the governing body of the institution.

William B. Louthan, secretary-treasurer of the Louthan Manufacturing company and a resident of the Park boulevard, said he would have no objection to coming into the city of the water mains were extended to his home. Upon cross-examination—by Brokaw, the witness said he believed that a majority of the residents would sign contracts for city water if the mains were constructed.

Joseph Thompson, who is employed by the Hall China company, said that he was preparing to erect a home on property which he recently acquired on the Park Way road and that he was anxious to obtain city water before he built. He said that fire insurance costs $1 more per thousand in the township than it would if the territory were in the city and had fire protection.

Harry Deidrick, Maplewood potter, said he favored coming into the city for he wanted city water, street lights and fire protection. He said that the improvements would be well worth the difference in the tax rate.

W. H. Powell, Jennings avenue contractor, testified that he found it hard to sell property located outside the city limits because there is no fire protection. He said that the water lines were laid past his place and that he had the advantages of city water but had no fire protection. The witness expressed the opinion that the city would be justified in charging non-residents of the city 10-percent additional over the city rates for water.

Adjournment at Noon.

A. W. Crawford, wholesale produce dealer, who resides in Park boulevard, said that he favored annexation. He stated that he would like the advantage of city water.

Other residents of the township and city officials were to testify this afternoon.

Robert Sample appears as Blumberg, a theatrical producer.

Other comedians include three stage hands, "Juice," "Props" and and "Charlie," the stage carpenter—William Hayes, Edwin McGraw and Vincent Broomhall. Miss Eileen Todd will essay the role of Gladys Van Tine, a specialty dancer, while Earl Reese will be Graig Randall, Christine's lover. The part of Paul Gartin, a Broadway idol, will be played by Virgil Hasson; Blossom, a Broadway stage director, by Kenneth Berg; Mr. Porter, by James McNutt; Fritz, a music pupil, by Ralph Jones and the doorman, by Ralph Hall.

Choruses of "Spotlight Girls," "Bobbed Haired Flappers," "Charleston Dancers," "Follies" and others will also take part.

The play will be offered in three scenes, the first and third being the home of Emil Kronheim in New Hassel, a small town in Pennsylvania and the second will be the stage of a Broadway theatre. Elaborate costumes and scenic equipment will be supplied by the Rogers Producing company.

Tickets for the play may be purchased at the three Carnahan drug stores, East End, Newell and down town, at the Bulger drug store; from members of the cast or any member of the DeMolay.

Committees in charge of the show are:

General production—Robert R. Kevan and Robert G. Bloor.

Program and advertising — Julius Erlanger, Russell Heddleston, Jr., and Robert Kenney.

Talent—Glenn Robert and George Allison.

increase their acreage by 15 per cent. How much wheat would they plant were the price $2.49, which the farmers feel they ought to have? And where would the government get money to buy the surplus $2.49 wheat?

Farmers can help their wheat situation by backing Secretary Hoover's plan for a canal to the gulf through the Mississippi valley and another from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic ocean.

That would make every bushel of wheat worth from six to 18 cents more.

Since the war railroads have raised rates six to 18 cents a bushel, and surplus American wheat on its way to Liverpool pays that tax.

Argentine and ---anian wheat has the six to 18 cents advantage per bushel over American wheat at Liverpool, where the price is made.

THINGS are done differently in different countries. When some German bankers got into trouble they committed suicide. Here they would have gone to Europe.

In Japan, an important official is accused of dishonesty. His friends send him a pine coffin containing a neatly made tray and on it a sharp knife in a white scabbard. It is a knife for committing hari-kari. The Japanese is politely requested to rip open his abdomen and die.

HERE, statesmen accused of stealing a naval oil reserve, and requested to come to court, say that the constitution is outrageously violated. They think it was made to protect such innocence as theirs.

Hall-Mills Defense Hit

He said that he had expected the official records of Willie Stevens' fingerprints would be taken to Middletown but he did not know they were taken, by Mayor or anyone else.

"After you got that card, did you suggest sending it out to Middletown?" asked McCarter.

"No."

"When did you heart it had been taken to Middletown?"

"The same day."

"Where had the card been between the time in July it was given you and August 17, when it was taken to Middletown?"

"In a steel cabinet in my office in New York. It was wrapped in waxed paper."

First "Break" in Story.

McCarter asked the editor how much money the New York Mirror spent on their investigation shortly before the arrest of Mrs. Hall.

Simpson objected asserting that McCarter was "drawing a red herring across the case," and confusing the jury.

Judge Parker overruled the question.

McCarter sought to bring out that the first "break" in the story was when Arthur S. Riehl brought suit for annulment of his marriage to Louise Geist Riehl, former maid in the Hall home, and that "an attorney for the corporation which employs you drew up the petition for the annulment."

Simpson interrupted with an objection shouting."

"The first 'break' in this case was when Eleanor Mills' throat was cut."

Barbara Tough on Stand.

Barbara Tough, the chatty Scot woman who for seven years was Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall's personal maid, was recalled to the witness stand.

She had previously told in her drawling manner that Mrs. Hall was out of the Hall home at 10 o'clock on the night four years ago when the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were slain. The time of the crime has been fixed at 10:30 p. m.

Miss Tough looked directly at Prosecutor Alexander Simpson as he began to shoot questions at her.

Simpson asked her the name of the "Guild Girls" who were gossiping about Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills in the church of St. John the Evangelist of New Brunswick.

The defense objected to testimony regarding gossip.

"I will get the information elsewhere—that's all."

Senator Clarence Case, of defense counsel, walked to the witness stand and put his hand on the railing as he cross-examined Miss Tough.

"Did you see anything unusual in the Hall home on the night of the murder?" Case asked.

"No."

"In going upstairs that night at 10 o'clock you didn't go anywhere near the bedroom of Dr. and Mrs. Hall?"

"No," replied the maid.

"Danny" Mills is Spectator.

Watching the proceedings for the first time was "Danny" Mills, 16-year-old son of James Mills, who sat next to his sister, Charlotte.

Mrs. Hall sat pale and quiet and garbed in black in the prisoners' dock. Henry Stevens looked fresher than on other days in a new blue suit. Willie was dressed as usual in a gray suit.

Pearl Bahmer, who had been subpoenaed by the defense to appear in court today, was not among the early arrivals. The defense plans, it is said, to use the girl to batter down the state's theory of the crime.

BARNEY THOMAS IS FINED $25

Barney Thomas was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today after he was found guilty upon charge of the illegal possession of intoxicating liquors.

Thomas is alleged by the police to have been seen leaving a home in Broadway at 1 o'clock this morning, enter the Thompson Hotel, and hand another man a half pint of corn liquor. He was arrested by Patrolman Roth.

NORWALK TO GET MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEET

North East Ohio Conference Convention Near End.

ELECT OFFICERS

Miss Margaret Palmer Speaks in Methodist Episcopal Church.

Annual convention of the Women's Home Missionary society of the North-East Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church which has been in session at the First Methodist Episcopal church since Wednesday afternoon, is scheduled to close today with the election of officers and the selection of next year's meeting place. The 1927 convention will be held in the Norwalk district, but the city has not been determined.

Last evening's session was featured by an address by Miss Margaret Palmer, Scranton, national field secretary, who discussed a school for Mexican children which she conducted near Hollywood, California. Musical numbers were rendered by a mixed quartet, consisting of Miss Mildred Weaver, Prof. W. A. Macdonald, Mrs. Robert Weinhardt and Rowland T. Kaufman. Mrs. J. J. Wyeth lead the devotional exercises.

Rev. Mr. Grimmage, in charge of the Friendship Community center in Cleveland, discussed his work among colored people at the afternoon meeting. A children's hour followed, after which Mrs. J. W. Dowds, Cambridge, conducted a Floral Garden in which she presented work among children. Mrs. L. E. Coffman was the final speaker.

Work of the organization in the Halloway, Byesville and Pearl Street institutions at Youngstown and other deaconesses homes were presented at the morning session by six speakers. Committees were appointed.

agree to it readily and blandly enough, but when it comes to a showdown they demonstrate that they lack what sociologists would term class or group consciousness and loyalty. In other words, to borrow a term from the lexicon of labor controversies, they "scab" on one another.

One grower, who finds himself in a hard way financially because of the present situation, says to himself. "Now, everybody has agreed to cut down his acreage next year, which will mean a short crop and higher prices. The smart thing for me to do is to raise just as much cotton as I did this year, or even a little bit more, and I'll profit by the high prices." And he acts accordingly. He thinks he will be one of the few who know the smart thing to do. When next year's crop estimates are out he learns that he has a lot of company!

Pity, Rather Than Censure.

There are extenuating circumstances and reasons for this grower. He, and everyone who loks at the world through a similar knothole, is more to be pitied than censured. In the first place, he did not intentionally contribute to an unusually large cotton crop this year. He planted only the acreage that he though would yield him a normal crop. He did not figure on so much cotton per acre, nor upon what an acre might produce under the most favorable conditions.

He realized only too well, from past experience, what he might expect, taking into consideration the usual weather conditions, the prospective ravages of the boll weevil, and the many other hazards of cotton growing. It wasn't his fault that there happened to be unusually fine cotton-growing weather this season, that the boll weevil seemingly did not try to get in his deadly work, and that all other conditions worked out to produce him a banner crop. It never occurred to him that if his acres yielded him more cotton than ever before he would have to sell his crop at less than it cost him to raise and market it.

It is very hard for this grower—and his name is legion—to learn that it is to his own interest to conform to the acreage-curtailing proposition. He'd do it if he were only sure that his neighbors and all the other cotton growers would conform. He just doesn't want to be left out when the pie or the cake is being cut and passed around!

Happily, through real concerted effort, it is promised that now there will be a curtailment of the cotton acreage next year. Local bankers and merchants who extend credit to the cotton growers can and will see to it that every man to whom they extend credit plants only the number of acres he is supposed to plant. They will look after that part of the solution of the cotton problem.

And to recalcitrants they will point out the stubborn fact that in 1921 the average yield per acre was 124 pounds of cotton, while in 1926 it was 176 pounds, with resultant disaster, the difference on the total acreage of the United States being almost exactly the four million excess bales. "Cut down your acreage or don't raise so much per acre!" they will insist.

BREAKS A COLD IN A FEW HOURS

First dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves all grippe misery

Don't stay stuffed-up!

Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils or nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only thirty-five cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute.

COAL MEN SEE OIL DEPLETION WORRYING U. S.

Bituminous Conference Will Study New Fuel Production.

PITTSBURGH MEET

France and England Will be Represented at Session.

PITTSBURGH.—German scientists who lead the world in coal research and the production of fuel oil from soft coal will lay their information before the International Conference on Bituminous Coal, called here for November 15, President Thomas S. Baker, of Carnegie Institute of Technology, sponsor of the conference, said today.

Methods and processes envolved by Dr. Fredrich Bargius and Prof. Franz Fischer, the German delegates, will be carefully considered by the conference in its effort to arrive at an economical solution of soft coal problems Baker declared.

Even France and England, which also will be represented at the conference, have made far more progress with their coal problems than the United States, it was pointed out, but this is because the foreign countries have not the wealth of petroleum available to this country.

Petroleum Problems.

Because of the scarcity of petroleum existing for years in the European countries they attacked the problems of producing fuel oil from coal while the United States was enjoying the benefits of a natural supply of petroleum, but Carnegie Institute officials point out that the knowledge that our oil supply is limited has caused an awakening of American fuel technologists.

With the Bergin method the greater part of a given quantity of coal is converted into liquid fuel. A mixture of pulverized coal and petroleum is heated to a temperature of about 700 degrees Fahrenheit in an atmosphere of hydrogen under pressure. Under these conditions the greater part of the coal is converted into liquid products which may be separated into approximately one-third each of heavy gasoline. Diesel engine oil, and fuel oil.

Fischer, who is director of coal research at Mulheim-Ruhr, has made a liquid fuel oil which he calls "synthol" by heating water gas under similar high pressure in the presence of a catalyptic material. "Synthol" is a mixture of alcohol, aldehydes and hydrocarbons. It already has been used successfully in automobile engines as a substitute for gasoline, according to reports.

Make Alcohol From Coal

Scarcely less widely known than Bergius and Fischer is Gen. Georges Patart, of Paris, who has invented a process for making alcohol from coal. He will represent France at the conference.

England's delegation includes Dr. C. H. Lander, director of fuel research of the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, Dr. R. Lessing, fuel technologist, Geoffrey M. Gill, consulting engineer and gas specialist, and Harold Nielson, inventor of the L. & N. process.

What the United States can offer in helping solve the problem of a waning petroleum supply will be presented by a large number of American engineers and scientists who have made important investigations and invented successful processes.

While the problem of obtaining fuel oil from soft coal probably will receive the most attention, the conference will be split up into special sessions at intervals, for the discussion of such problems as the complete gasification of coal, high temperature distillation, coal tar products, power and fertilizers, it was announced. The smokeless fuel problem of big cities also will be given a prominent place on the agenda.

World production of rayon for this year will exceed 200,000,000 pounds.

WELLSVILLE RED CROSS ROLL CALL BEGINS ON NOV. 21

SCOUT TROOPS WILL DO MAJOR PART OF WORK

COSTS DOLLAR

Local Unit Contributed To County Tornado Relief Fund.

With Boy Scout troops doing a major portion of the work, Wellsville's annual Red Cross Roll Call campaign will get under way on Sunday, November 21, committee members announced today.

The Scouts, including four troops of 120 boys, will work under the direction of their scoutmasters, Harold Driggs, of the Methodist Protestant church; Grattan V. Dugan, of the Immaculate Conception church; Stewart Parker, of the United Presbyterian church, and S. E. Daw, of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The roll call organization this year is not asking for large donations from any individual or group of individuals, but feels that interest in the movement would be carried to a greater extent if each person in the city should contribute just a dollar.

No definite quota has been fixed, it was pointed out. Efforts will be made to obtain as many memberships as possible until the close of the campaign on Thanksgiving Day.

The Wellsville Red Cross organization contributed $100 to the county tornado relief fund and a smilar amount to the Florida relief fund and, as a result, the treasury is at a somewhat lower ebb than in former years.

Schools Conclude American Education Week Observance

Annual observation of American Education week, which has been under way in the local schools this week, will close today.

Programs in keeping with the spirit of the observance, which is sponsored by the American Legion and the National Department of Education, was carried to the students through English classes.

Okeh Record No. 40664, "How Many Times?" and 'Who Wouldn't?' fox trot, with chorus by Ray Stilwell, of Wellsville, on sale at Bert's Piano and Repair Shop, 1513 Main street. Phone 492-J.

Local Gridiron Fans Off to Capital for Ohio-Michigan Tilt

Wellsville will not be without its customary quota of football lovers Saturday at Columbus when Ohio State and Michigan battle in the Capital City stadium in the game that probably will decide Big Ten championship honors for the season.

Among those from this city who will take in the game are Mr. and Mrs. Martin T. Abbott, Edward T. Fogo, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McMillan, S. E. Daw, Misses Nan and Helen Stevenson, Dr. J. M. King, Bernard Purinton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hibbins, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Aughinbaugh, Miss Kathryn McKim, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Arnold and others.

LEGION HOLDS PARADE, MEET

Civil War Vets, Scouts Aid in Observance Here.

Wellsville post 70, American Legion, held its annual Armistice day celebration yesterday, a street parade, followed by a smoker, being the chief features of the observance.

Approximately fifty American Legionnaires and other ex-service men, in uniform, formed the nucleus of the street parade. In the line of march also were 125 or more Boy Scouts, members of the four local troops.

Veterans of the Civil war and Legion auxiliary members rode in automobiles.

The procession was headed by the American Legion band.

After traversing the principal streets of the city the marchers wound up at the Legion rooms in Main street where luncheon was served by the Legion auxiliary. Boy Scouts and Civil war vets were the organization's guests.

Adrresses were given by R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church and Victory Free, newspaperman.

FREIGHT WRECK IS CLEANED UP

Through traffic over the Pennsylvania railroad lines near Stratton, a few miles south of Wellsville, which were badly torn up Tuesday afternoon when a string of ten ore cars were wrecked, was resumed early this morning over temporary rails.

Passenger and freight traffic was at a standstill Tuesday night following the wreck but transfers were put in operation on Wednesday and this system was in effect until this morning.

Tracks were torn up for a distance of 200 yards, although no one was injured.

HIGH STUDENTS SCORE SUCCESS IN "KATHLEEN"

Capacity House Sees Initial Performance.

MUSIC FEATURE

Cast to Give Matinee Today for School Children.

Presented before a capacity house that frequently indicated its approval, "Kathleen," a John Rogers production that was given its premiere by a cast of 150 high school and grade students last night in the high school auditorium, unquestionably went over as one of the most successful stage hits that has yet been performed by students here.

Little in the nature of flaws was to be found with the work of the principals in the enactment of their various parts as the plot was unfolded on the stage. "Lines" worked almost faultlessly and a perfect schooling showed in the precision with which the principals made their appearances.

The part of Kathleen O'Day, the leading feminine role, found perfect expression by Miss Evelyn Fassett, playing opposite Earl Eschbacher, who, as Jimmie Stanton, was exceptionally good. The roles of Miss Flossie Neverset and Ned Rollingston, in the hands of Miss Ina Daw and Don Brannan respectively, were well played and the same can be said for Richard Haugh as Teckley Bramble, as Lem Underbuck; Vaugh McMorrow, as Hans Swindler, the proprietor of the village grocery, all of whom were prominent in comedy roles; Arabella Wilkins, by Katherine Satow, and Michael Flynn, by Verle Mellott.

Musical scores were bright and catchy. Among the song hits were "Every Road is the High Road," by Kathleen and Jimmy; "Love Light," by Ned and Flossie; "Deduction," by Arabelle, Lem and Hans; "Kathleen," by Jimmy, and "Don't Forget," by Kathleen.

Group movements were executed well throughout the playlet. A matinee will be given this afternoon for school children in addition to tonight's performance.

Rev. John Solomon, Pittsburgh, To Lecture at U. P. Church Sunday

Will Discuss "The Lord's Supper in the Light of the Jewish Passover."

Rev. John Solomon, a Hebrew Christian, of Pittsburgh, Pa., will deliver an address on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First United Presbyterian church here, according to announcement by Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor.

Rev. Solomon is scheduled to speak on the subject, "The Lord's Supper in the Light of the Jewish Passover."

The lecture will be illustrated with the original emblems as used in the passover service of the Jewish people The table will be set for the passover supper. On it will be placed a series of objects, each one of particular significance.

John Solomon was born in Europe, of strictly orthodox Jewish parents. His acquaintance with Jewish manners and customs qualify him for his lectures.

The services will be public.

TWO FREED IN KENNEY DEATH

Rocco Carbicella, However, is Held on Charge of Murder.

Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, at a special hearing at Lisbon today to determine whether not sufficient evidence warranted the detention of three men on charges of murder in connection with the death of Patrolman James Kenney in Wellsville on May 17, last, held one of the suspects without bond and dismissed charges against the others.

Rocco Carbicella was held on the murder count, while his brother, Bennie Carbicella, and Joseph Fusco, were freed.

Several witnesses were heard.

Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes, who

termed the hearing a "fishing expedition" on the part of the defense, told the court that the state had not submitted all is evidence.

Attorney W. A. O'Grady, of Wellsville, represented the Carbicellas, while Attorney George T. Farrell, of Lisbon, was counsel for Fusco.

YELLOW CREEK CHURCH PROGRAM

Services will be held Sunday at the usual hours in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church, according to announcement by Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor.

There will be preaching at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school will convene at 10 a. m., and young people will meet at 7 p. m., with Mrs. J. A. Fraser and Mrs. W. A. Falconer as leaders.

Prof. J. H. Dickason will appear in the third number of the church's lecture course on Wednesday evening, November 17. His subject will be, "A Message from No. 16542."

Rev. Stewart will preach in the Long's Run Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Sunday school will convene at 1:30 p. m.

SCOUTS SEEK BUDGET SHARE IN DRIVE HERE

Four Local Troops Will Make Campaign Saturday.

ONE-DAY DRIVE

County Scout Executive Will Supervise Work.

Arrangements have practically been perfected for the one-day drive to be conducted here Saturday by the city's four Boy Scout troops for the purpose of obtaining Wellsville's share of the county Scout budget.

The drive will get under way at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and Scouts will canvass the streets throughout the day.

The Wellsville Scouts' part of the county budget was $1,060. Of this amount approximately half has been raised thus far. It is hoped to obtain the remainder Saturday.

This fund is used to finance the summer camp and other expenses of the organization.

Local Scout backers assert that it is important that the campaign be carried through to a successful conclusion.

$100,756 BID ON STATE ROAD

Branham-Edwards Company Submits Low Proposal.

The lowest bid, $100,756.06, submitted to the state road commission for the grading and draining of the three-mile section of the Lincoln highway from Chester to the Pennsylvania state line, was that of the Branham-Edwards Construction company of Clarksburg, it was announced today.

Second lowest bidder was the Kecley Construction company, whose estimate was $121,057.31. Eight other firms, including the H. E. Bunce company, who hold the contract for the other section of the road, submitted estimates.

Contract will be awarded at the meeting of the state road commission to be held Monday at Charleston.

CORN BORER BAN TO BE CONTESTED

Commissioner of Agriculture John W. Smith yesterday denied that the corn borer, complained of to the federal department of agriculture which is threatening to quarantine West Virginia corn, broom corn, and corn products, against interstate shipment, is present anywhere in the state, except perhaps in one small section in the upper Panhandle. Mr. Smith said that he did not know of the existence of the borer in the state at all, but he had received a report that it had appeared. This is being investigated.

The commissioner's denial came in answer to a press dispatch from Washington which said that the quarantine was under consideration for both West Virginia and Indiana, adding that a public hearing would be held in Washington November 17 to decide the matter.

Mr. Smith said that he had not been officially notified of the hearing, but he expects to send a man from the department to represent West Virginia's interests.

The borer complained of is said to be a European species recently brought to this country and has no relation to the corn borer moth which recently swarmed around the down town building in Charleston in large quantities. The moths which appeared here are quite common all over the country, it was said at the department, and while it feeds some on corn, the damage is not great. This moth, it was said, feeds on any kind of grain or grass and covers such a wide territory that its damage is not seriously considered.

UNION MEETINGS DRAW LARGELY

Union evangelistic meetings were held last night in the First Presbyterian church. The sermon was given by Rev. R. C. Ehrheart, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. He used for his text, "Be not deceived, God is not Mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." He illustrated the sermon with free hand crayon sketches.

Approximately 150 boys and girls gave a program of songs, Bible drills and yells under the direction of Prof. Ralph E Mitchell. The meeting was the largest attended of the series.

Meeting tonight will take the form of a "Family Night" service and will be held in the First Christian church. Parents are urged to bring their entire families.

JANET NASH WEDS ROBERT MACKALL

Miss Janet Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nash, and Robert E. Mackall, son of Mrs. Dora Mackall, both of Georgetown, were married here Wednesday in the rectory of St. Matthew's Episcopal church by Rev. F. C. Roberts, rector of the church. The ring service was used. Wedding dinner was served at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Burton Trimble in Georgetown, with covers arranged for 14 guests.

The groom is employed at the Crucible Steel plant, Midland, Pa. They will make their home with the bride's mother.

HEALTH CAMP IS GUTTED BY FIRE

WELLSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 12.—Several persons narrowly escaped with their lives here early this morning when fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed Bellview health camp, including 10 cottages, entailing a loss of approximately $10,000.

Dr. H. G. Prentiss, of Baltimore, and his valet, fled from their cottage just before it collapsed in flames.

As no fire-fighting apparatus was available all but a few remote cottages were destroyed.

Branham-Edwards Company Submits Low Proposal.

The lowest bid, $100,756.06, submitted to the state road commission for the grading and draining of the three-mile section of the Lincoln highway from Chester to the Pennsylvania state line, was that of the Branham-Edwards Construction company of Clarksburg, it was announced today.

Second lowest bidder was the Kecley Construction company, whose estimate was $121,057.31. Eight other firms, including the H. E. Bunce company, who hold the contract for the other section of the road, submitted estimates.

Contract will be awarded at the meeting of the state road commission to be held Monday at Charleston.

CORN BORER BAN TO BE CONTESTED

Commissioner of Agriculture John W. Smith yesterday denied that the corn borer, complained of to the federal department of agriculture which is threatening to quarantine West Virginia corn, broom corn, and corn products, against interstate shipment, is present anywhere in the state, except perhaps in one small section in the upper Panhandle. Mr. Smith said that he did not know of the existence of the borer in the state at all, but he had received a report that it had appeared. This is being investigated.

The commissioner's denial came in answer to a press dispatch from Washington which said that the quarantine was under consideration for both West Virginia and Indiana, adding that a public hearing would be held in Washington November 17 to decide the matter.

Mr. Smith said that he had not been officially notified of the hearing, but he expects to send a man from the department to represent West Virginia's interests.

The borer complained of is said to be a European species recently brought to this country and has no relation to the corn borer moth which recently swarmed around the down town building in Charleston in large quantities. The moths which appeared here are quite common all over the country, it was said at the department, and while it feeds some on corn, the damage is not great. This moth, it was said, feeds on any kind of grain or grass and covers such a wide territory that its damage is not seriously considered.

MASONIC LODGE OFFICERS NAMED

Grand treasurer, S. N. Myers, Martinsburg; grand secretary, George M. Ford, Wheeling; grand lecturer, Prescott C. White, Morgantown; grand chaplain, the Rt. Rev. L. Gravatt, Charleston; grand captain of host, Lawrence G. Kincheloe, Clarksburg; grand principal sojourner, Carney M. Layne, Huntington; grand royal arch captain, John W. Mason, Fairmont; grand master third veil, John M. Cook, Athens; grand master second veil, Robert S. Lemon, Parkersburg; grand master first veil, Walter O. Coover, Martinsburg; grand marshal, H. A. Berry, Thurmond; grand tiler, Edwin K. Stout, Clarksburg.

FOOTBALL FANS TO ATTEND GAME

Large crowd of Chester fooball fans plan to witness the game tomorrow afternoon between Chester and East Liverpool high school teams which will be staged at Columbian park, East Liverpool.

Coach Ray Wilde put the local squad through final practice session this afternoon on the high school field.

UNION MEETINGS DRAW LARGELY

Union evangelistic meetings were held last night in the First Presbyterian church. The sermon was given by Rev. R. C. Ehrheart, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. He used for his text, "Be not deceived, God is not Mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." He illustrated the sermon with free hand crayon sketches.

Approximately 150 boys and girls gave a program of songs, Bible drills and yells under the direction of Prof. Ralph E Mitchell. The meeting was the largest attended of the series.

Meeting tonight will take the form of a "Family Night" service and will be held in the First Christian church. Parents are urged to bring their entire families.

Army-Notre Dame Clash May Determine Gridiron Supremacy

Walsh Picks Irish To Find Weak Spots In Cadets' Defense

Michigan and Ohio State Battle for Big Ten Honors; Stanford Favorite Over Washington; Presidents on Big End of Odds in Annual Tilt With Panther.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—If such there might be in this age of hocus pocus, the heir apparent to the national championship in college football possibly will be thrust into the light of day tomorrow as a result of a series of games of great consequence. However, it is an age of exaggerated values, the "front" is everything, and, for all of me, the well dressed man may be stepping blandly along in a pair of shoes that are spats.

The greatest game of the year will take place in the next twenty-four hours at the Yankee stadium with Notre Dame and West Point as the principals. They are deservedly listed among the leading teams of the country. If either or both has been getting by on a "front," this game will show it. If I was to suspect anyone, it would be the Army.

Picks Notre Dame.

It hasn't the soundest defense in the world and my opinion is that a smart team like Notre Dame will find the hole in the high hat. In case I have failed to make myself clear, I think the Irish will win. So do the Irish.

It may be that some of these other unbeaten teams have been wearing a waiter's "dickey" at the banquet. If so, the meetings involving Michigan and Ohio State, the Navy and Georgetown, Tennessee and Alabama, Stanford and Washington and Boston college and Haskill Indians may leave some high class folks feeling rather naked.

Michigan-State Battle.

If it wasn't for the fact that Northwestern is very much in the running, the Michigan-Ohio State game would definitely determine the winner of the Big Ten title. Michigan already has been discountenanced by the Navy but it showed last Saturday that it was on the way back and now anything can happen. I wouldn't attempt to call this one, in spite of the fact that Ohio State has been well rested and is rarin' to go.

They probably are the two best teams in the conference but Northwestern can hardly go wrong with only Chicago and Iowa to beat. Still, it may be that Northwestern is picking up a live one in Chicago tomorrow, for the season doesn't exist in which Stagg fails to make at least one winning gesture.

The Navy, I think, is the 1926 team of destiny and, therefore, will take Georgetown like the cat took chloroform. Florida should be a push-over for Alabama but the remaining unbeaten team of the South, Tennessee, will have to be as good as its record implies to head off a greatly improved Vanderbilt eleven.

Stanford proved to be the best team on the coast when it came from the rear to beat Southern California, yet the Warner entry is not foolproof defensively and may be another of those outfits that are all "front." If so, Washington may furnish the expose, although I must admit that the latter doesn't look the part.

The truth about Boston college, which has beaten everyone in general but none in particular, also may come to the surface during the game with Haskell.

Brown Should Win.

The Indians by long odds are the best team Boston College has seen this year. Sowhow, I fear the worst here.

The same feeling might be lavished on the undefeated Brown team if it wasn't for the fact that the writer witnessed Harvard's ineptitude last week. Brown has enjoyed a siesta since the Dartmouth game and should win.

Syracuse and Colgate will furnish their annual drag-out, with no chance possible as the winner. Another good one will be Nebraska and Kansas Aggies with the valley conference title somewhere in the offing. I like Nebraska. However, Missouri should come back at the expense of Washington and remain right up with the paco.

Presidents Favored.

The Pittsburgh-W. and J. affair is another "natural," with the Presidents my choice, provided anyone cares. New York University, another national contender, would appear to have drawn a "breather." That is, provided N. Y. U. is as good as they say it is. However, there will be no breathing done during the Pennsylvania-Columbia and Cornell-Darmouth meetings.

Oh, yes, Princeton and Yale are to meet as representatives of what the comedians used to call the big three. Watch this one closely. Princeton is a natural favorite. Yale has a fighting chance, but no more.

ALL-AMERICAN GRID CANDIDATES

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

This is the day of specialization in football, as in other things. In offering the name of Henry Chauncey, Harvard backfield member, as worthy of consideration for an All-American place we take this into consideration. Chauncey's claims to fame rests with his trusty toe. He is Hardvard's drop kick artist and punter. Because of his great work as a kicker he does not play through the greater part of the games but is called in to stem the opposing tide with a well timed punt out of danger or to calk up a goal from the field.

CHARLES ROGERS

HENRY CHAUNCY

Chauncey would at least demand consideration in the selection of such reserve material in addition to the regular playing backfield.

"All Pennsylvania needs to have a wonderful team is another Rogers," is the way one scribe lauds the Pennsylvania halfback, the outstanding figure on the Quake eleven.

He has helped make Pennsylvania one of the greatest scoring machines in the east, to show his offensive worth. He takes the leading role in executing the "magic" plays of the team, in which deception alone makes or breaks the play. In addition to this he is a great defensive player.

OLD S. R. O. SIGN OUT AT STATE

2,000 Extra Admissions for Standing Room go on Sale

COLUMBUS, Nov. 12. — Thirty five gridders, Coach "Hurry Up" Yost and trainers who will represent Michigan in the football classic of the year at Ohio stadium here tomorrow, arrived early today and were hurried to the Columbus Athletic club where they will make their headquarters until Saturday night.

This afternoon they will run through a final drill at the stadium. They will be followed by Coach Wilce's proteges from Ohio State, and then all will be set for the greatest sporting spectacle in Ohio's history.

Every train coming to the city today brought hundreds for the game. All hotels were being flooded with requests for reservations but not a room was available.

Announcement of the sale of 2,000 extra admissions for standing room in the uppermost tier of the stadium was welcome news to fans, and it was predicted today there will be several times that number waiting when the first of the ducats is offered an hour before game time.

Collins Goes Hunting.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.— Eddie Collins, deposed manager of the Chicago White Sox, thought so little of his dismissal by Charles A. Comiskey that he went duck shooting today, according to the statement of Mrs. Collins. She said she didn't expect Eddie to return before evening and that she had no idea what his plans for next season might be.

Stage Chester Clash On East End Gridiron

Interest in Saturday Battle Between Old School Rivals Assures Record Crowd; Blue and White Lineup Indefinite Today; Injuries Take Toll of Linemen; Bromby Doubtful.

Taking rank with the best scholastic football attractions that have been produced here this season the East Liverpool-Chester clash tomorrow afternoon at Columbian park is certain to attract the record crowd of the season to date.

That the contest will be staged on the East End lot was announced today by Coach George Kidder of the Blue and White. Patterson Field, the school's athletic ground, which has been absolutely useless this fall as a result of rains, was originally considered as a possible site for the gridiron production, but this week's usual quota of rain dispelled any hopes to this end.

The Blue and White will go into the fray with two linesmen, Crawford and Smith, idle as a result of injuries. Crawford sustained a fractured wrist Wednesday afternoon in scrimmage session, and Smith is suffering from an injured ankle. Bromby, halfback, afflicted similarly, is in a doubtful condition.

However, Coaches Kidder and Cox are confident they will be able to plug up the holes sufficiently well to turn back the Purple and Gold invasion.

The unusually large amount of good backfield material will make it possible for Kidder to build up the ball carrying quartet acceptably and although Bromby's absence would mean the subtraction of a lot of line punching, there would still be plenty of speed left with Tommy Pusey, VanDyne, McConville, Lincoln, Deidrick and others to take up the burden. Kidder's lineup was indefinite today while Wilde probably will use Miller, Hines, Edwards, DeLong, Cundiff, Dalrymple and Plate on the line, with Hoskinson, Kimble, Bartley and Shaw on the backfield.

The contest will get under way at 3 o'clock.

ROPER REGRETS BIG THREE BREAK

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 12.—"Bill" Roper, coach of the Princeton football team, along with many others at Princeton, regrets the breaking up of the "Big Three" alliance.

"I am sorry to see the 'Big Three' broken up, but I never meddle with what the board of control does," Roper said. 'It's not up to me."

The undergraduates believe that the board took the only acceptable course in view of the jibes at Princeton's expense which the Harvard Lampoon published on the eve of the Princeton-Harvard game last Saturday.

Additional sport on Page Three.

LIBERTYS PLAY LEETONIA TEAM

Liberty Billiards will hold their final workout tonight at City park in preparation for their game Sunday with the Leetonia Independents at Kelley's park. The squad is asked to report at 6 o'clock.

The Libertys will face the Leetonians without the services of Garvey and Earl Watson, both of whom were injured in the Lisbon contest last week. Their absence will leave big holes in the Liberty lineup. The management, however, hopes to be able to impress "Hop" Stewart, of Maplewood, into service and has requested that he report for practice tonight at 6:30.

The Leetonia outfit is a 155-pound squad and numbers several ex-collegians in the lineup.

A three-cornered playoff for the city title has been proposed by the Liberty management with the East End Blues, the Laughlin China company and the Libertys figuring. Managers of the three teams will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Liberty.

The Libertys are also out with a challenge to the Midland eleven.

Sharkey on Gene's Trail.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, who came into prominence through his victory over Harry Wills, today announced that he was ready to take on various title contenders as a means of getting a championship bout with Gene Tunney. Among others Sharkey mentioned were Harry Persson, of Sweden; Paul Berlenbach, former light heavyweight champion, and Monte Munn, the nimble Nebraskan.

More than 1,500 automobile tires from America were sold in Rumania in the last twelve months.

Toronto Eleven's Weight Too Much for Locals.

LINING up against the Toronto Tigers yesterday afternoon at Smith Field, Chester, with practically an ex-high roster, with but few exceptions, the specially selected Veterans of Foreign Wars football team held the famous Jefferson county combine to a two touchdown victory, the final count being 12 to 0.

The visitors' margin of conquest was represented by one touchdown until the last minute of play when Comer, after a long pass had put the ball in scoring distance, punched it across, four downs being required to make four yards.

The Tigers registered their first score in the opening period following a series of end runs, Romey going across.

The Vets at times ripped big holes in the visitors' line but were unable to maintain their drive, the Tigers stiffening to hold them for downs. Ernest Bucher, ex-high and former Denison star, was the big gun in the Vets' attack, doing most of the ground gaining for the locals.

The weight of the Toronto outfit was too big a handicap for the Vets to overcome.

UP TO HARVARD, SAYS COACH YOST

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 12.—Harvard will have to do the asking if a grid game is arranged with Michigan, it was indicated here today. Little concern over the severing of athletic relations between Princeton and Harvard was shown.

"There has been no mention of a game with Harvard since the break between the two eastern universities," Fielding H. Yost, Michigan director of athletics, said.

Harvard, according to report, was angling for a Michigan game some weeks ago.

PERSHING, DAWES ROOT FOR CADETS

CHICAGO, Nov. 12. — General John J. Pershing will be an enthusiastic rooter at the Army-Navy football game here Nov. 27, according to his own admission today.

He will witness the famous service classic from the box of his good friend, Vice President Charles G. Dawes, another ardent Army fan.

"Dawes and I will be in there rootin' for old Army, you can bet," smiled the famous "Black Jack."

Walsh Picks Irish To Find Weak Spots In Cadets' Defense

Michigan and Ohio State Battle for Big Ten Honors; Stanford Favorite Over Washington; Presidents on Big End of Odds in Annual Tilt With Panther.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—If such there might be in this age of hocus pocus, the heir apparent to the national championship in college football possibly will be thrust into the light of day tomorrow as a result of a series of games of great consequence. However, it is an age of exaggerated values, the "front" is everything, and, for all of me, the well dressed man may be stepping blandly along in a pair of shoes that are spats.

The greatest game of the year will take place in the next twenty-four hours at the Yankee stadium with Notre Dame and West Point as the principals. They are deservedly listed among the leading teams of the country. If either or both has been getting by on a "front," this game will show it. If I was to suspect anyone, it would be the Army.

Picks Notre Dame.

It hasn't the soundest defense in the world and my opinion is that a smart team like Notre Dame will find the hole in the high hat. In case I have failed to make myself clear, I think the Irish will win. So do the Irish.

It may be that some of these other unbeaten teams have been wearing a waiter's "dickey" at the banquet. If so, the meetings involving Michigan and Ohio State, the Navy and Georgetown, Tennessee and Alabama, Stanford and Washington and Boston college and Haskill Indians may leave some high class folks feeling rather naked.

Michigan-State Battle.

If it wasn't for the fact that Northwestern is very much in the running, the Michigan-Ohio State game would definitely determine the winner of the Big Ten title. Michigan already has been discountenanced by the Navy but it showed last Saturday that it was on the way back and now anything can happen. I wouldn't attempt to call this one, in spite of the fact that Ohio State has been well rested and is rarin' to go.

They probably are the two best teams in the conference but Northwestern can hardly go wrong with only Chicago and Iowa to beat. Still, it may be that Northwestern is picking up a live one in Chicago tomorrow, for the season doesn't exist in which Stagg fails to make at least one winning gesture.

The Navy, I think, is the 1926 team of destiny and, therefore, will take Georgetown like the cat took chloroform. Florida should be a push-over for Alabama but the remaining unbeaten team of the South, Tennessee, will have to be as good as its record implies to head off a greatly improved Vanderbilt eleven.

Stanford proved to be the best team on the coast when it came from the rear to beat Southern California, yet the Warner entry is not foolproof defensively and may be another of those outfits that are all "front." If so, Washington may furnish the expose, although I must admit that the latter doesn't look the part.

The truth about Boston college, which has beaten everyone in general but none in particular, also may come to the surface during the game with Haskell.

Brown Should Win.

The Indians by long odds are the best team Boston College has seen this year. Sowhow, I fear the worst here.

The same feeling might be lavished on the undefeated Brown team if it wasn't for the fact that the writer witnessed Harvard's ineptitude last week. Brown has enjoyed a siesta since the Dartmouth game and should win.

Syracuse and Colgate will furnish their annual drag-out, with no chance possible as the winner. Another good one will be Nebraska and Kansas Aggies with the valley conference title somewhere in the offing. I like Nebraska. However, Missouri should come back at the expense of Washington and remain right up with the pace.

Presidents Favored.

The Pittsburgh-W. and J. affair is another "natural," with the Presidents my choice, provided anyone cares. New York University, another national contender, would appear to have drawn a "breather." That is, provided N. Y. U. is as good as they say it is. However, there will be no breathing done during the Pennsylvania-Columbia and Cornell-Darmouth meetings.

Oh, yes, Princeton and Yale are to meet as representatives of what the comedians used to call the big three. Watch this one closely. Princeton is a natural favorite. Yale has a fighting chance, but no more.

ALL-AMERICAN GRID CANDIDATES

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

This is the day of specialization in football, as in other things. In offering the name of Henry Chauncey, Harvard backfield member, as worthy of consideration for an All-American place we take this into consideration. Chauncey's claims to fame rests with his trusty toe. He is Hardvard's drop kick artist and punter. Because of his great work as a kicker he does not play through the greater part of the games but is called in to stem the opposing tide with a well timed punt out of danger or to calk up a goal from the field.

CHARLES ROGERS

HENRY CHAUNCY

Chauncey would at least demand consideration in the selection of such reserve material in addition to the regular playing backfield.

"All Pennsylvania needs to have a wonderful team is another Rogers," is the way one scribe lauds the Pennsylvania halfback, the outstanding figure on the Quake eleven.

He has helped make Pennsylvania one of the greatest scoring machines in the east, to show his offensive worth. He takes the leading role in executing the "magic" plays of the team, in which deception alone makes or breaks the play. In addition to this he is a great defensive player.

OLD S. R. O. SIGN OUT AT STATE

2,000 Extra Admissions for Standing Room go on Sale

COLUMBUS, Nov. 12. — Thirty five gridders. Coach "Hurry Up" Yost and trainers who will represent Michigan in the football classic of the year at Ohio stadium here tomorrow, arrived early today and were hurried to the Columbus Athletic club where they will make their headquarters until Saturday night.

This afternoon they will run through a final drill at the stadium. They will be followed by Coach Wilce's proteges from Ohio State, and then all will be set for the greatest sporting spectacle in Ohio's history.

Every train coming to the city today brought hundreds for the game. All hotels were being flooded with requests for reservations but not a room was available.

Announcement of the sale of 2,000 extra admissions for standing room in the uppermost tier of the stadium was welcome news to fans, and it was predicted today there will be several times that number waiting when the first of the ducats is offered an hour before game time.

Collins Goes Hunting.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12. — Eddie Collins, deposed manager of the Chicago White Sox, thought so little of his dismissal by Charles A. Comiskey that he went duck shooting today, according to the statement of Mrs. Collins. She said she didn't expect Eddie to return before evening and that she had no idea what his plans for next season might be.

Stage Chester Clash On East End Gridiron

Interest in Saturday Battle Between Old School Rivals Assures Record Crowd; Blue and White Lineup Indefinite Today; Injuries Take Toll of Linemen; Bromby Doubtful.

Taking rank with the best scholastic football attractions that have been produced here this season the East Liverpool-Chester clash tomorrow afternoon at Columbian park is certain to attract the record crowd of the season to date.

That the contest will be staged on the East End lot was announced today by Coach George Kidder of the Blue and White. Patterson Field, the school's athletic ground, which has been absolutely useless this fall as a result of rains, was originally considered as a possible site for the gridiron production, but this week's usual quota of rain dispelled any hopes to this end.

The Blue and White will go into the fray with two linesmen, Crawford and Smith, idle as a result of injuries. Crawford sustained a fractured wrist Wednesday afternoon in scrimmage session, and Smith is suffering from an injured ankle. Bromby, halfback, afflicted similarly, is in a doubtful condition.

However, Coaches Kidder and Cox are confident they will be able to plug up the holes sufficiently well to turn back the Purple and Gold invasion.

The unusually large amount of good backfield material will make it possible for Kidder to build up the ball carrying quartet acceptably and although Bromby's absence would mean the subtraction of a lot of line punching, there would still be plenty of speed left with Tommy Pusey, VanDyne, McConville, Lincoln, Deidrick and others to take up the burden. Kidder's lineup was indefinite today while Wilde probably will use Miller, Hines, Edwards, DeLong, Cundiff, Dalrymple and Plate on the line, with Hoskinson, Kimble, Bartley and Shaw on the backfield.

The contest will get under way at 3 o'clock.

LIBERTYS PLAY LEETONIA TEAM

Liberty Billiards will hold their final workout tonight at City park in preparation for their game Sunday with the Leetonia Independents at Kelley's park. The squad is asked to report at 6 o'clock.

The Libertys will face the Leetonians without the services of Garvey and Earl Watson, both of whom were injured in the Lisbon contest last week. Their absence will leave big holes in the Liberty lineup. The management, however, hopes to be able to impress "Hop" Stewart, of Maplewood, into service and has requested that he report for practice tonight at 6:30.

The Leetonia outfit is a 155-pound squad and numbers several ex-collegians in the lineup.

A three-cornered playoff for the city title has been proposed by the Liberty management with the East End Blues, the Laughlin China company and the Libertys figuring. Managers of the three teams will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Liberty.

The Libertys are also out with a challenge to the Midland eleven.

Sharkey on Gene's Trail.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, who came into prominence through his victory over Harry Wills, today announced that he was ready to take on various title contenders as a means of getting a championship bout with Gene Tunney. Among others Sharkey mentioned were Harry Persson, of Sweden; Paul Berlenbach, former light heavyweight champion, and Monte Munn, the nimble Nebraskan.

More than 1,500 automobile tires from America were sold in Rumania in the last twelve months.

ROPER REGRETS BIG THREE BREAK

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 12.—"Bill" Roper, coach of the Princeton football team, along with many others at Princeton, regrets the breaking up of the "Big Three" alliance.

"I am sorry to see the 'Big Three' broken up, but I never meddle with what the board of control does," Roper said. 'It's not up to me."

The undergraduates believe that the board took 'he only acceptable course in view of the jibes at Princeton's expense which the Harvard Lampoon published on the eve of the Princeton-Harvard game last Saturday.

VETS BOW TO TIGERS, 12-0

Toronto Eleven's Weight Too Much for Locals.

LINING up against the Toronto Tigers yesterday afternoon at Smith Field, Chester, with practically an ex-high roster, with but few exceptions, the specially selected Veterans of Foreign Wars football team held the famous Jefferson county combine to a two touchdown victory, the final count being 12 to 0.

The visitors' margin of conquest was represented by one touchdown until the last minute of play when Comer, after a long pass had put the ball in scoring distance, punched it across, four downs being required to make four yards.

The Tigers registered their first score in the opening period following a series of end runs, Romey going across.

The Vets at times ripped big holes in the visitors' line but were unable to maintain their drive, the Tigers stiffening to hold them for downs. Ernest Bucher, ex-high and former Denison star, was the big gun in the Vets' attack, doing most of the ground gaining for the locals.

The weight of the Toronto outfit was too big a handicap for the Vets to overcome.

| Toronto Tigers | | Veterans |
|---|---|---|
| Smith | L.E. | Cox |
| Rhoades | L.T. | Kidder |
| Rhoades | L.G. | Coleman |
| Hinkle | C. | Cox |
| Conley | R.G. | Kinsey |
| Gerace | R.T. | Dunlap |
| Mundy | R.E. | Howard |
| Ferris | Q. | McVale |
| Romey | L.H. | McDole |
| Johnson | R.H. | Reese |
| Comer | F. | Bucher |

Substitutions—Finley for Reese; Benedict for Hinkle.

Touchdowns—Romey, Comer.

UP TO HARVARD, SAYS COACH YOST

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 12.—Harvard will have to do the asking if a grid game is arranged with Michigan, it was indicated here today. Little concern over the severing of athletic relations between Princeton and Harvard was shown.

"There has been no mention of a game with Harvard since the break between the two eastern universities," Fielding H. Yost, Michigan director of athletics, said.

Harvard, according to report, was angling for a Michigan game some weeks ago.

PERSHING, DAWES ROOT FOR CADETS

CHICAGO, Nov. 12. — General John J. Pershing will be an enthusiastic rooter at the Army-Navy football game here Nov. 27, according to his own admission today.

He will witness the famous service classic from the box of his good friend, Vice President Charles G. Dawes, another ardent Army fan.

"Dawes and I will be in there rootin' for old Army, you can bet," smiled the famous "Black Jack."

When the club is swung back with both arms working with a feeling that they are one, the club drops into position at the top with the player well turned away from the ball and standing at comparative ease, thought about the shoulders and in the left arm is a feeling of tension — as if the body had been wound up. This tension is not rigidity, but tightness. You should feel this tightness because it gives solidity to the hitting blow and there cannot be this solidity if the swing is entirely loose and ragged. One of the difficult things to learn is that the club should not be taken back too far. I mean do not strain and pull at yourself in order to get it away back. ## LISBON GAME IS CANCELLED

Death of Superintendent Geiger Prevents Contest.

Superintendent of Schools S. E. Daw today announced the temporary cancellation of the high school football game with Lisbon tomorrow as a result of the death of Superintendent W. H. Geiger, of the Lisbon schools, which occurred early this morning.

The Orange and Black eleven was scheduled to clash with the central countians on the Lisbon lot in their only game prior to the Thanksgiving day battle with East Liverpool, at the Ceramic City.

As a result of the cancellation, the local eleven will be idle, with the exception of its customary scrimmages and other workouts, until the day of the East Liverpool contest, according to present indications.

Efforts will be made, it was announced, to play off the game with Lisbon, although school authorities were uncertain as to what possible date will be selected.

Princess Does Her Own Scrubbing

Princess Alexandra Victoria.

Princess Alexandra Victoria (above), the divorced wife of Prince August Wilhelm, the former Kaiser's fourth son, does her own scrubbing. A prominent lawyer recently visited her modest little apartment and found her hard at work. She is now the wife of former Commander Ruemann of the Imperial Navy. She was born a Princess of Schleswig-Holstein and is a niece of the late Empress Augusta Victoria.

Cross Atlantic Travel Booms British Trade; Figures Disclosed

LONDON.—Belief that trade depression is giving way before a brighter time is intensified by the figures for North Atlantic passenger traffic figures this year.

The figures relate to the westbound voyages of four of the principal lines, the White Star, Cunard, United States Line and the Canadian Pacific. They cover the period from January 1 to August 31, 1926.

The main fact that emerges is that these companies have carried to the United States or Canada 27,776 more passengers than in the corresponding period of last year, in spite of the fact that there have been fewer sailings.

For 1926 the total is 246,729 against 219,053.

An enlarged factory in Belgium is expected to produce 2,000,000 English f et of glass each month.

REVOLT AVERTED

Tentative List of New Chairman is Announced.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. — Facing the possibility of trouble in event of retaining nominal control of the senate in the seventieth congress. Republican leaders today began to solidify their party lines by making peace with the little group of insurgent senators.

The first act in the peace program was a tacit agreement that no fight shall be made to prevent Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, leader of the insurgents, from becoming chairman of the judiciary committee in the coming short session of congress. Under the senate's traditional senority rule, Norris will be awarded this chairmanship, succeeding the late Albert B. Cummin, of Iowa.

The attitude of Republican leaders, it was learned, has quieted threats of a revolt aimed at keeping Norris out of the chairmanship because he campaigned in behalf of William B. Wilson, Democratic nominee, in Pennsylvania's recent senatorial election. The leader of this movement was said to be Senator David A. Reed, Republican, of Pennsylvania, but indications were that he found little sympathy for the movement.

The Republican committee on committees will meet within ten days to ratify the selection of Norris as judiciary chairman and of a number of other chairmanships where vacancies were created either by the deaths of Senators Cummins and Bert M. Fernald, of Maine, or by potential promotion. A tentative list of the new chairmen for the short session follows:

Judiciary — George W. Norris, of Nebraska.

Agriculture—Charles L. McNary, of Oregon

Public buildings—Irvine L. Lenroot, of Wisconsin.

Should Phipps be named to the irrigation chairmanship, a new chairman will be named to succeed him as head of the committee on education and labor. His successor would be either Senator James Couzens, of Michigan, or Senator Jesse H. Metcalf, of Rhode Island. Again if Couzens were given this post, a new chairman of the civil service committee would have to be selected for which Senator Porter H. Dale, of Vermont, has the preference over other members under the seniority rule.

The deaths of Cummins and Fernald and the defeats of Senators William M. Butler in Massachusetts and George H. Williams in Missouri will cause another scramble for their posts on senate committees. The principal plum will be a membership on the powerful foreign relations committee, which Butler held, as well as two posts on the interstate commerce committee, which Cummins and Fernald held.

Frenchman Sets New Record Relative to Blood Transfusions

PARIS.—France has a new record holder, Raymond Briez, who during his twenty-nine years of existence has given his blood to those in need on 101 occasions.

Recipients of Briez' blood are said to include the president of a South American Republic, several princes of the blood and many titled persons. At least half, however, have been poor neglected persons without friends.

Briez exacts no money for his services. He cherishes, however dozens of touching letters of thanks.

During the 101 blood transfusion operations to which he has submitted Briez has given approximately six gallons of blood. He gave blood seventeen times during the month of July, and three times in one day.

URGE INDUSTRY TO PUT BRAKES ON TRUST IDEA

W. J. Donovan Cites Danger of Improper Combination.

SARGENT'S AID

Believes Evils of Modern Development are Recognized.

WASHINGTON—Good sense alone should prompt the leaders of industry to apply an economic brake to undue combination and consolidation, and particularly to those calculated to violate the competitive principle.

This is the opinion of William J. Donovan, assistant to Attorney General Sargent, who is in charge of the government's anti-trust investigations.

"Banking institutions, upon whose support these expansions must necessarily depend, should direct their effort to that end," Donovan said.

"It is definitely better that the reformation should come from within and corrective methods should be applied by industry itself.

"Certainly there are many indentified with industry who recognize that it is only by the rigid maintenance of the competitive system that ultimate governmental regulation or ownership may be averted."

Sees Evils of System.

Donovan said that the present evils of modern industrial development are coming to be recognized. Resentment towards consolidations are growing as they did against the combinations of the early nineties.

"It is not a fanciful notion that as a result of unrestrained and illegal combination, the people of the country may be aroused to the point of destructive anger so that all consolidations may suffer, those that are economically sound and beneficial as well as those that are uneconomic and prejudicial" Donovan warned.

"It is not difficult to conceive that as a result of huge combinations being illegally formed and arbitrarily administered, government should be forced to interfere and take over and regulate these corporations, even though in so doing there might be developed a bureaucracy in the country with attendant evils greater than those sought to be corrected.

"If that day should come it will be due not so much to the desire of the people of this country to accept socialistic doctrine as it will be to the folly of those, who in their domination of industry, have failed to conform to that principle of competition upon which our economic life has been based."

Notes Differences

Pointing out the differences between the old moves toward big trusts, and those of today, Donovan pointed out that now most of the combinations are for the purpose of securing additional capital. To secure the needed capital these corporations are pursuing the deliberate policy of attracting the small investor.

"We have existing these two factors—one a reservoir of untouched capital, the other industry in its desire to expand seeking this capital," Donovan said.

Properly directed and guided this meeting can be a most happy one for the economic life of the country, but it places a heavy responsibility upon those who are charged with such guidance.

"Those charged with managing business in which the great bulk of the stock is held by individuals who have neither the training nor opportunity of participating in the activity of the business, owe a particularly high obligation to their stockholders."

Wants Enforcement.

Donovan pointed out that legislation enacted against monopolies and combinations which grew during the nineties was prompted by the deep fear in the American people that these combinations constituted a menace to their economic and social organization.

"It may be remarked," he said, "that if existing legislation is adequate to avert the dangers apprehended, it only remains for prosecuting officers to enforce the law in order to insure our safety.

"But the history of recent years reveals that despite the earnest effort made to enforce the law, the trend toward combination has continued.

"This can only mean that the existing laws are not adequate to meet all the varying forms of combination that have been devised; already this fact is a matter of public discussion."

Donovan made it clear, however, that he did not necessarily mean that these combinations not covered by the present laws, are harmful or uneconomic.

LICENSE PLATES NOW BEING ISSUED

Automobile license plates for 1927 are now being issued by the state road commission by application in person, it was announced today. The mailing department has been at work getting the tags for next year moving for a week, and today about 1,000 plates had been granted.

It is expected that the early moveing of the plates will materially reduce the congestion which usually develops the first of the year. This year, it was said in the license department, getting the plates will be simpler than last year owing to the fact that the ownership certificates have already been granted.

The annual "come early and avoid the rush" was called yesterday for the first time this year. It was said that now it was but a few minutes work to issue the plates over the counter, but towards the end of the year the applicants will have to stand in line.

Lodgemen To Meet.

Members of Clark lodge No. 447, I. O. O. F. will meet this evening in the Aaron building, Fifth street. Routine business will be transacted.

CHURCH PLANS SPECIAL PROGRAM

Patriotic program in connection with the observance of Armistice day will be given at the evening services Sunday night in the First Christian church. The program will consist of patriotic songs and music.

Rev. W. D. Brock, pastor of the church, will deliver an address on the subject, "If Christ was a Citizen of the United States Today, What Would He Do?"

GROSS SALES TAX REPEAL SOUGHT

Number of organizations of the state composed of manufacturers and business men are forming plans for the introduction of a bill at the next session of the legislature seeking to repeal the gross sales tax law.

Since the close of the last session the matter has been taken up by various groups and resolutions passed urging repeal of the measure.

Fans to Attend Game.

Delegation of local football fans plan to attend the game tomorrow in Pittsburgh between the University of Pittsburgh and Washington and Jefferson. The largest crowd of the season is anticipated.

Seal Drive Planned.

Plans will shortly be announced for the annual Red Cross Roll call drive in Hancock county. Seal sales will be conducted in all parts of the state. Proceeds of the sales are devoted to the fight being waged to stamp out tuberculosis.

For Colds, Grip or Influenza and as a Preventive, take Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets. A Safe and Proven Remedy. The box bears the signature of E. W. Grove. 30c.

Because of a lack of attendance the exhibition in Soerabaya, Java, to arouse interest in foreign products, has been closed.

GOOD ADVICE ON STUBBORN COUGHS

End Them in 15 Minutes

One swallow of a newly discovered prescription often relieves—at once—the most stubborn cough; the kind that might otherwise hang on for weeks. Works on a new principle. Equally good for sore throat for which purpose it is far superior to gargles. Contains no chloroform or harmful drugs, therefore safe for children and adults. It is called Thoxine. Your money refunded if relief doesn't come in 15 minutes. 35c., 60c. and $1.00. At all good druggists.

Hindu Citizen

Sakhavam Gavesh Pardit (above), attorney, scholar and writer of Los Angeles, is the first Hindu to become a United States citizen. Immigration authorities brought the case before a Court of Appeals, which affirmed the granting of citizenship.

BIBLE MEETING LAUNCHED HERE

Rev. H. W. Jones, of Grove City, Pa., and Rev. E. M. Fadden, D. D., of Pittsburgh, Pa., were the principal speakers last night at the opening session of the Community Messianic Bible conference in the Second Presbyterian church. The opening address was made by Rev. Frederic A. Dean, pastor of the church.

Rev. John Solomon, of Pittsburgh, Pa., will lecture tonight on "The Lord's Supper in the Light of the Jewish Passover." Rev. W. H. Jones will have as his subject, "Genesis To Revelation."

Community mass meeting will be held on Sunday afternoon which will be addressed by Rev. E. M. McFadden, D. D. His topic will be "The Jew an Asset or a Liability." He will also speak at the evening service in the church on the subject, "We Would See Jesus."

Many Attend Revival.

Revival services in the Oakland Free Methodist church are being largely attended. The sermon last night was delivered by Rev. A. L. Duncan, pastor of the Chester Free Methodist church.

Scouts Meet Tonight.

Members of the Boy Scouts troop will meet at 7:30 this evening in the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church.

RAILROAD CUTS IN NEW TRACK

A report from the office of the engineers in charge of Pennsylvania railroad construction in Beaver county states that the new track at Smith's Ferry was cut in yesterday.

The new track eliminates a section of old track, abandoned by reason of changing the line to conform with new highway construction work at this point, which when completed will eliminate a grade crossing.

There is no radical change of alignment at this place, the new track being laid almost parallel to the old line to conform with the crossing construction, now under way.

Aid Society To Meet.

Members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Regular missionary program will be carried out during the session.

Lodge Members Meet.

Regular meeting of Pennova lodge No. 880, I. O. O. F., met last night in the Hill building, Mulberry street. Routine business was transacted.

DOUBLE ACTING

Makes Baking Easier

No waste of time. No loss of materials. No worry. No danger of bakings falling due to jar of oven door when you use Calumet. It's double acting. Contains two leavening units—one begins to work when the dough is mixed, the other waits for the heat of oven, then both units work together. A sure way to bake-day success, bake-day savings and superior results.

BOUILLON ASKS NEW PACT ON FRENCH DEBT

Foreign Affairs President Expresses Views.

HASTE IS URGED

Hesitancy is Proof of Good Faith, He Says.

PARIS.—"My opinion in July was that we should negotiate a new debt agreement with America, or at least introduce into the present agreement bilateral reservations concerning clauses of transfer and of safety. My opinion remains the same."

Deputy Franklin-Bouillon, president of the chamber of foreign affairs commission, thus expressed his opposition to the ratification of the Mellon-Berenger debt accord, in an exclusive interview with International News Service.

Presiding over one of the two chamber commissions which have been asked to examine the accord and report their findings to the chamber of deputies, M. Franklin-Bouillon's opinion carries considerable weight.

"I realize fully the necessity of speedily regulating our debt to America," he continued. "I realize also that a sane policy of monetary stabilization requires foreign credits, and such credits can be obtained only after debt settlements have been made.

"But the French parliament cannot assume an engagement which France may not be able to carry out.

"Our American friends ought to understand that our hesitancy in ratifying an accord impossible of execution is really a proof of our loyalty and good faith."

Deputy Franklin-Bouillon belongs to the conservative wing of the Radical Socialist party which holds the balance of power in the chamber. He is considered the bad boy of his party. Usually holding views different than the majority of his party colleagues, he nevertheless contrives to hold his position as one of the leading lights of the group. More than a year ago he recognized the necessity for a political truce and the formation of a National Union cabinet, similar to that over which M. Poincare today presides. He was roundly abused by many of his colleagues who maintained that salvation could be obtained only by the parties of the left working together and alone.

Franklin-Bouillon in 1921 and 1922 carried out a delicate diplomatic mission to Turkey. Before that he made a propaganda tour of the United States and greatly enhanced his reputation as an orator, both in English and in French.

Opposes Cancellation.

The deputy denied that he had ever suggested cancellation of war debts.

"A cancellation campaign, started in Europe, would only defeat its own purposes," he declared. "Such a campaign started in America and emenating from spontaneous American public opinion alone could achieve such ends.

"Our campaign should be confined to the solid ground of clauses of safety and of transfer. We should be content to solicit equitable treatment, taking into account the manner in which our bills were compiled, our capacity to pay and our possibility of transfer.

"Our negotiators at Versailles in 1919 and in Washington this year alone should be held responsible for the failure to have our rights recognized. Though it appears to me that their incapacity was criminal I cannot blame our English and American friends."

Debt is Too High.

M. Franklin-Bouillon took up the argument, so dear to many French politicians, that the total of the American debt is too high, that France is being asked to pay the excess profits of American manufacturers who furnished war materials to France and on which the United States government collected heavy taxes.

"Price exaggerations on war materials were scandalous; graft was prevalent; we paid the taxes levied upon the manufacturers in our purchase price as well as the cost of constructing factories," he said. "Don't you think it would be best to have a careful verification of the bills for these war materials and serious discussion of their amounts?

The Balkite Trickle Charger

and your "A" battery supply "A" radio current from the light socket

The Balkite Trickle Charger can be left permanently connected to your "A" battery and the light socket. Thus it keeps your battery at full charge always and in effect converts it into a light socket "A" power supply. It is the most popular of all methods of charging "A" batteries. Over 200,000 are now in use.

The Balkite Trickle Charger is permanent. It has no tubes and nothing to wear out or replace. It is noiseless in operation and in most cases can be used during reception. Can be used as a trickle charger with any 6-volt "A" battery. With 4-volt batteries as an intermittent charger, or as a trickle charger if a resistance is added. Ask your dealer. Fansteel Products Company, Inc., North Chicago, Illinois.

Love's gifts, like love itself, should be everlasting

A PURCHASE FROM YOUR JEWELER IS AN INVESTMENT IN PERMANENT VALUES

IN choosing a gift, ask yourself two questions: What should the gift say? . . . And for how long should it continue the saying?

For a gift is a message from the heart. Its mission is to tell, in beauty and service, what the giver would tell in words.

Choose the gift, therefore, in accordance with the message you would have it carry.

If you intend merely a pretty compliment for the day or the occasion, perhaps you may appropriately choose a short-lived trifle as your offering.

But if lasting fidelity is your message, let the gift reflect the constancy of your thought in its very composition.

"Constancy Gifts," both for the slender and opulent purse, are found most readily at the jewelry store. For the jeweler specializes in jewels. And every item he sponsors must measure up to jewel standards.

The official trade-slogan of the jewelers of America is: "Gifts that Last." So the sentiment you express through your jeweler is usually expressed "in perpetuity."

There is no finer gift than an Elgin Watch. Featured in a wide style variety and sold at prices ranging from $15 to $1700.

Foreign Affairs President Expresses Views.

Hesitancy is Proof of Good Faith, He Says.

PARIS.—"My opinion in July was that we should negotiate a new debt agreement with America, or at least introduce into the present agreement bilateral reservations concerning clauses of transfer and of safety. My opinion remains the same."

Deputy Franklin-Bouillon, president of the chamber of foreign affairs commission, thus expressed his opposition to the ratification of the Mellon-Berenger debt accord, in an exclusive interview with International News Service.

Presiding over one of the two chamber commissions which have been asked to examine the accord and report their findings to the chamber of deputies, M. Franklin-Bouillon's opinion carries considerable weight.

"I realize fully the necessity of speedily regulating our debt to America," he continued. "I realize also that a sane policy of monetary stablization requires foreign credits, and such credits can be obtained only after debt settlements have been made.

"But the French parliament cannot assume an engagement which France may not be able to carry out.

"Our American friends ought to understand that our hesitancy in ratifying an accord impossible of execution is really a proof of our loyalty and good faith."

Deputy Franklin-Bouillon belongs to the conservative wing of the Radical Socialist party which holds the balance of power in the chamber. He is considered the bad boy of his party. Usually holding views different than the majority of his party colleagues, he nevertheless contrives to hold his position as one of the leading lights of the group. More than a year ago he recognized the necessity for a political truce and the formation of a National Union cabinet, similar to that over which M. Poincare today presides. He was roundly abused by many of his colleagues who maintained that salvation could be obtained only by the parties of the left working together and alone.

Franklin-Bouillon in 1921 and 1922 carried out a delicate diplomatic mission to Turkey. Before that he made a propaganda tour of the United States and greatly enhanced his reputation as an orator, both in English and in French.

Opposes Cancellation.

The deputy denied that he had ever suggested cancellation of war debts.

"A cancellation campaign, started in Europe, would only defeat its own purposes," he declared. "Such a campaign started in America and emenating from spontaneous American public opinion alone could achieve such ends.

"Our campaign should be confined to the solid ground of clauses of safety and of transfer. We should be content to solicit equitable treatment, taking into account the manner in which our bills were compiled, our capacity to pay and our possibility of transfer.

"Our negotiators at Versailles in 1919 and in Washington this year alone should be held responsible for the failure to have our rights recognized. Though it appears to me that their incapacity was criminal I cannot blame our English and American friends."

Debt is Too High.

M. Franklin-Bouillon took up the argument, so dear to many French politicians, that the total of the American debt is too high, that France is being asked to pay the excess profits of American manufacturers who furnished war materials to France and on which the United States government collected heavy taxes.

"Price exaggerations on war materials were scandalous; graft was prevalent; we paid the taxes levied upon the manufacturers in our purchase price as well as the cost of constructing factories," he said. "Don't you think it would be best to have a careful verification of the bills for these war materials and serious discussion of their amounts?

The Balkite Trickle Charger

and your "A" battery supply "A" radio current from the light socket

The Balkite Trickle Charger can be left permanently connected to your "A" battery and the light socket. Thus it keeps your battery at full charge always and in effect converts it into a light socket "A" power supply. It is the most popular of all methods of charging "A" batteries. Over 200,000 are now in use.

The Balkite Trickle Charger is permanent. It has no tubes and nothing to wear out or replace. It is noiseless in operation and in most cases can be used during reception. Can be used as a trickle charger with any 6-volt "A" battery. With 4-volt batteries as an intermittent charger, or as a trickle charger if a resistance is added. Ask your dealer. Fansteel Products Company, Inc., North Chicago, Illinois.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 12. — The body found stabbed, bound with rope and weighted down with a block of granite, in the Ohio river yesterday, was identified as that of Everett Heath, 20, of Waynesburg, Ky.

Heath, according to his brother-in-law, Edward Lovelace, who made the identification, was wanted in Birmingham, Ala., for shooting a motorcycle officer in July of 1923.

Police blamed a bootleg feud for the crime.

Heath has relatives in Indianapolis, it was said.

NASH

Leads the World to Greater Car Value

The illustration at the right shows how Nash encloses the entire front wheel brake mechanism, thus excluding all water, ice, and dirt.

No Extra Cost Standard Equipment

Safest - Smoothest - Simplest
4 Wheel Brakes

This brake system is exclusive to Nash and was engineered to embody the finest features developed by foreign and American 4-wheel brake authorities as well as the superiorities worked out by Nash over an extended period of 4-wheel brake experience.

Among its chief advantages is the fact that the smoothly powerful performance of these brakes is never impaired by climatic changes. And being of the mechanical type they operate with invariable regularity at all temperatures.

Thus Nash eliminates the possibility of the side-sway or skidding on wet or icy roads under rapid brake application which occurs with rear wheel brakes or partially-equalized 4-wheel brakes.

Reveals Sensational Secrets of New York's Society

MRS. PHILIP LYDIG
—the first wife of the late W. E. D. Stokes, a New York social leader, and descendant thru her mother of the Spanish Duke d'Alba

Mrs. Philip Lydig is astounding America. At last she opens the door to her life-time of experience—her associations with the men and women of New York's ultra-smart society. Tragedies that make you gasp are given in boldest relief—and in the next breath she tells you of the ridiculous and often amusing aspects of smart New York society.

TODAY a certain woman is famed as a leader of New York social life. Her husband owns one of the world's most valuable collections of art treasures. Her home is a mecca for nabobs and billionaires. Just a few years ago the same woman was a hopeless outcast. But she learned a little secret and started on the way to social prominence. What was the price she paid? How did she finally remove the last obstacle —the man who threatened to expose her methods and even bring her husband to financial failure?

This is only one of many such incidents that Mrs. Lydig gives with astonishing frankness in her article: "Frauds of Smart Society." This article is published exclusively in the December issue of The Red Book Magazine now on sale at all news-stands.

Is the Unwritten Marriage Law Passing?

As Discussed by JUDGE BEN B. LINDSEY

OUT of the hodge-podge of thousands of tangled human relationships, Judge Lindsey has evolved a philosophy so courageous, so removed from old standards—so daring—that the nation is staggered.

People, he declares, are making their own rules and laws, to suit their happiness and needs.

For example, he says—The love triangle is often a happy solution to marriage problems! One's love-life is his own and so long as he hurts no one, Society has no right to criticize or condemn.

That Infidelity is NOT at the root of marital troubles—but lack of fair play and a feeding of green-eyed jealousy.

That Freedom in love affairs, in marriage, leads to a monogamic marriage of itself. You will gasp mentally when you read his article in the December Red Book Magazine—The Moral Revolt; never before has any publication let such frankness go uncensored.

You will suddenly wake up to changes in thought and action that are cropping up all about you!

It is a vital issue—and will be thrust into your own life with tremendous force, if it has not entered already. Which side of the fence are you on—have you the courage to agree with Judge Lindsey?

Who understands people in all their pretense and sham, groping and floundering, better than the author—the real author who does not exaggerate or color—but who paints word-pictures as true and realistic as any snapshot of life!

And never before have we been able to offer you a group of such popular and beloved writers as in this December Red Book Magazine—authors who write of the people of today with a shrewd, understanding that is uncanny in its realism. Such as Rupert Hughes, Owen Johnson, Rita Weiman, Leroy Scott, Virginia Dale, Struthers Burt, Samuel Spewack and others—all names that mean stories that live for you, packed with the pulsating romance of Life—its ecstasies and tragedies.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 12. — The body found stabbed, bound with rope and weighted down with a block of granite, in the Ohio river yesterday, was identified as that of Everett Heath, 20, of Waynesburg, Ky.

Heath, according to his brother-in-law, Edward Lovelace, who made the identification, was wanted in Birmingham, Ala., for shooting a motorcycle officer in July of 1923.

Police blamed a bootleg feud for the crime.

Heath has relatives in Indianapolis, it was said.

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

The illustration at the right shows how Nash encloses the entire front wheel brake mechanism, thus excluding all water, ice, and dirt.

Safest - Smoothest - Simplest 4 Wheel Brakes

This brake system is exclusive to Nash and was engineered to embody the finest features developed by foreign and American 4-wheel brake authorities as well as the superiorities worked out by Nash over an extended period of 4-wheel brake experience.

Among its chief advantages is the fact that the smoothly powerful performance of these brakes is never impaired by climatic changes. And being of the mechanical type they operate with invariable regularity at all temperatures.

Thus Nash eliminates the possibility of the side-sway or skidding on wet or icy roads under rapid brake application which occurs with rear wheel brakes or partially-equalized 4-wheel brakes.

Laborer Yesterday, Millionaire Today, But Answers Alarm

John B. Bolton, Textile Worker, Who Perfected Semi-rigid Collar, Gets $1,314,241.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—Yesterday John B. Bolton, of this city, was dependent on his salary as a textile worker.

Today he is a millionaire.

Semi-rigid collars brought him the sudden wealth.

The ring of the alarm clock, however, continues to call him to duty. He answered the call of his alarm clock at 6 o'clock today and went to work in a Kensington textile mill as usual.

Bolton perfected a material which would make a collar look stiff but which is actually soft. He gave his patent to John M. Van Heusen, of Boston, who accumulated an immense fortune manufacturing the new collar. Bolton however, claims he received nothing and hence brought suit.

Years of litigation followed. Juries in various courts rendered verdicts for $1,314,241 in Bolton's favor. Appeal after appeal followed. The case was finally settled out of court yesterday and Bolton became America's newest millionaire.

SOUND, RESTFUL SLEEP MAKES WOMAN STRONG AND HEALTHY

Tepee Herb Tonic Went Right to the Root of Mrs. Paul's Troubles; Quieted Her Nerves.

Woe to the people who cannot sleep soundly; their nerves become all unstrung; they look haggard and worn; they feil tired even though they have not done any work; they are just "all in."

Good, restful, sound, refreshing sleep is the best medicine in old doctor Natures medicine chest and Tepee Herb Tonic, made from roots, barks and plants is the best medicine to make you sleep well. There is no narcotic or harmful ingredients used in making Tepee Herb Tonic. It acts more like a nerve food than a nerve tonic.

Mrs. Emma Paul, 3453 W. 46th St., Cleevland, had been unable to sleep soundly for four years. "The result was that I would wake up in the morning with a headache," she says. "I felt tired and worn out——exhausted.

"My stomach became sore and upset. I had spells of indigestion. I bloated after eating until I could hardly get my breath. Nothing tasted right.

"Then about seven months ago a growth started in my gall bladder. I had to undergo an operation. After my operation my stomach and nerves didn't get any better.

"I kept right on getting worse all of the time. I was so discouraged about my health that I was just about ready to give up. Several weeks ago I read about Tepee Herb Tonic and tried it. After I had taken one bottle I felt so much better that I went and got another.

"I have now taken five bottles and my stomach and nerves were never better. I have a good appetite and enjoy my meals. I do not have indigestion, gas or bloating.

"I sleep like a tired girl. My head is clear in the morning—no more headaches. I am not constipated as I was before.

"I have gained five pounds since I took my first dose of Tepee Herb Tonic."

Tepee Herb Tonic may be had in East Liverpool at Carnahan's Drug Stores.

Glitter

BY KATHARINE BRUSH.

BOOK FIVE—X,

He left her, and she heard him whistling down the hall—heard his voice and Bennett's, remotely, from the kitchen. When he reappeared he bore two long glasses. "Here," he said, giving her one. "Inhale that while I tell you more tidings. Maybe this isn't a red-letter day." He assumed an oratorical stance and with his left hand beat upon his breast so violently that the ice in the glass he held in his right clicked and jumped. "I've been promoted!

"Oh, not far, not far," he hastened to add, laughing at his mother's face. "Don't get all stewed up. I'm not managing editor yet, or anything. But—well, let me begin over."

He perched on the arm of her chair. "When I got back to the office this p. m. I began thinking the situation over, and that bid of Johnny's to the house party he and Peg are throwing right now down near New London began to sound very cagey. Everybody's down there, you know. Johnny and Peg, of course, and Larry, and Joe and his wife, and Dinny Purviance—" He fairly rushed over the next words "—'n'Cec'ly and the whole crowd. I sort of thought I'd like to go after all, now that things are as they are. So I braved Mr. Havens in his den, and he not only gave me a week off, starting tomorrow, but he told me that as soon as I get back they're going to let me take a shot at feature stories! Said he'd been watching me personally and thought I had the stuff. Said—get this, mother!—that Mose Blake, he's the city editor, told him I was a writer, not a reporter, and that for the sake of brevity he was having to cut out of my copy, every day, stuff that was 'so well written it's a crime to throw it away,' and that I ought to be given a chance to spread a bit.

"Of course," he added, Jock-like, 'that's probably mostly applesauce. But anyway, I'm going to get the chance—and more salary."

Then he was hugged and exclaimed over and beamed upon. And the two long glasses were touched together and drained. . . .

"Fill them again," said Madelaine Hamill "I want to drink to the house party, and—" she smiled impishly "—as my ingenious offspring puts it —'n'Cec'ly—"

Peg and Johnny met him at the station the next morning, and fell upon him with cries. "Look me in the eye!" said Peg immediately. "Are you cured? You must be, or you would'nt have come. Praise the Lord, Amen. Now we'll have a real house party!"

They hustled him along the platform, jabbering as they went, and interrupting one another.

"When we got your wire—"

"We didn't tell a soul you were coming—"

"Wanted to surprise 'em—"

"And believe me they'll be surprised! Like having a visitor from the Styx, or something!"

He was ushered to an automobile of incredible antiquity. "This is Lulu," said Peg. "We think she'll take us back to the beach, but we wouldn't want to put it in writing."

"How far is the beach?"

"'Bout five miles."

Throughout the ride, Peggy and Johnny reasoned gravely and often with the car, as with a refractory child. "Come on, now Lulu. You can make this all right. Let's see you go up sailing." . . . And then, disappointedly, "Aw, Lu! Have a heart!"

They sat three in the front seat, and in the intervals of Lulu's chastisement yelled conversation above the ructions of her mechanism.

"Everybody's in swimming," Peg announced. "Or at least, they were when we left, and I imagine they still will be. That's all we do. Swim, and dance, and swim, and eat, and swim. We practically live in our bathing suits."

"Who's on the party?" Jock wanted to know. "How many? Just the regular bunch?"

"Ten," said Peg, and listed them.

"Bill Burnholme not among those present?"

Peg looked blank. "Of course not. Why should he be? I've never even met the man—though of course I know all about him."

At this point Johnny shouted to Jock across Peg's lap, "Talk to dad?"

"Yup!"

"Suppose he told you about your new job?"

"You bet he did! I don't feel very swell about it! Guess I've got you to thank for that, Johnny."

"Like crazy you have! You've got nobody to thank but yourself—"

Peg planted a firm palm on her husband's chest and pushed him back into place. "Subside," she commanded sweetly. "Devote yourself to Lulu. I have certain somethings to whisper in this gent's ear before we get home." She turned to Jock. "What made you think Bill Burnholme would be here? Of course I know. You thought being Cecily's fiance, we'd naturally ask him."

"That's about it."

Man Loses Hope

"For ten years I suffered severely from stomach trouble. The doctors said I had cancer of the stomach and lost hope when they told me nothing would do but an operation. I took my last round of MAYR'S 2 1-2 years ago. Since then I sleep well, eat what I want and feel fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Sold by Jesse D. Holloway and druggists everywhere.

He left her, and she heard him whistling down the hall—heard his voice and Bennett's, remotely, from the kitchen. When he reappeared he bore two long glasses. "Here," he said, giving her one. "Inhale that while I tell you more tidings. Maybe this isn't a red-letter day." He assumed an oratorical stance and with his left hand beat upon his breast so violently that the ice in the glass he held in his right clicked and jumped. "I've been promoted!

"Oh, not far, not far," he hastened to add, laughing at his mother's face. "Don't get all stewed up. I'm not managing editor yet, or anything. But—well, let me begin over."

He perched on the arm of her chair. "When I got back to the office this p. m. I began thinking the situation over, and that bid of Johnny's to the house party he and Peg are throwing right now down near New London began to sound very cagey. Everybody's down there, you know. Johnny and Peg, of course, and Larry, and Joe and his wife, and Dinny Purviance—" He fairly rushed over the next words "—'n'Cecily and the whole crowd. I sort of thought I'd like to go after all, now that things are as they are. So I braved Mr. Havens in his den, and he not only gave me a week off, starting tomorrow, but he told me that as soon as I get back they're going to let me take a shot at feature stories! Said he'd been watching me personally and thought I had the stuff. Said—get this, mother!—that Mose Blake, he's the city editor, told him I was a writer, not a reporter, and that for the sake of brevity he was having to cut out of my copy, every day, stuff that was 'so well written it's a crime to throw it away,' and that I ought to be given a chance to spread a bit.

"Of course," he added, Jock-like, 'that's probably mostly applesauce. But anyway, I'm going to get the chance—and more salary."

Then he was hugged and exclaimed over and beamed upon. And the two long glasses were touched together and drained. . . .

"Fill them again," said Madelaine Hamill. "I want to drink to the house party, and—" she smiled impishly "—as my ingenious offspring puts it—'n'Cecily—"

Peg and Johnny met him at the station the next morning, and fell upon him with cries. "Look me in the eye!" said Peg immediately. "Are you cured? You must be, or you wouldn't have come. Praise the Lord, Amen. Now we'll have a real house party!"

They hustled him along the platform, jabbering as they went, and interrupting one another.

"When we got your wire—"

"We didn't tell a soul you were coming—"

"Wanted to surprise 'em—"

"And believe me they'll be surprised! Like having a visitor from the Styx, or something!"

He was ushered to an automobile of incredible antiquity. "This is Lulu," said Peg. "We think she'll take us back to the beach, but we wouldn't want to put it in writing."

"How far is the beach?"

"'Bout five miles."

Throughout the ride, Peggy and Johnny reasoned gravely and often with the car, as with a refractory child. "Come on, now Lulu. You can make this all right. Let's see you go up sailing." . . . And then, disappointedly, "Aw, Lu! Have a heart!"

They sat three in the front seat, and in the intervals of Lulu's chastisement yelled conversation above the ructions of her mechanism.

"Everybody's in swimming," Peg announced. "Or at least, they were when we left, and I imagine they still will be. That's all we do. Swim, and dance, and swim, and eat, and swim. We practically live in our bathing suits."

"Who's on the party?" Jock wanted to know. "How many? Just the regular bunch?"

"Ten," said Peg, and listed them.

"Bill Burnholme not among those present?"

Peg looked blank. "Of course not. Why should he be? I've never even met the man—though of course I know all about him."

At this point Johnny shouted to Jock across Peg's lap, "Talk to dad?"

"Yup!"

"Suppose he told you about your new job?"

"You bet he did! I don't feel very swell about it! Guess I've got you to thank for that, Johnny."

"Like crazy you have! You've got nobody to thank but yourself—"

Peg planted a firm palm on her husband's chest and pushed him back into place. "Subside," she commanded sweetly. "Devote yourself to Lulu. I have certain somethings to whisper in this gent's ear before we get home." She turned to Jock. "What made you think Bill Burnholme would be here? Of course I know. You thought being Cecily's fiance, we'd naturally ask him."

"That's about it."

Man Loses Hope

"For ten years I suffered severely from stomach trouble. The doctors said I had cancer of the stomach and lost hope when they told me nothing would do but an operation. I took my last round of MAYR'S 2 1-2 years ago. Since then I sleep well, eat what I want and feel fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

NEW LOWER PRICES place the Chrysler "60" further than ever beyond comparison with the ordinary type of light six

ANY attempt to compare the Chrysler "60" with the ordinary type of six is like comparing the modern dirigible with the old-style balloon—impossible, because the two are fundamentally different.

The difference begins with a black-and-white difference in engineering, the Chrysler "60" being designed and built under the plan of Standardized Quality, as if required to give 60 miles an hour for every mile and minute of its life.

Necessarily, the difference stands out even more sharply in performance—the extraordinary power reserve of the "60" giving it a smoothness at average speeds that you recognize at once as unattainable in the ordinary type of six built by ordinary manufacturing methods to ordinary performance standards.

Just as pronounced is the difference in comfort, agility and handling ease—in gasoline economy, dependability and long life—in every single feature that makes for complete motoring satisfaction.

Try out the Chrysler "60"—discover for yourself why, at its new lower prices, it is the inevitable choice of every purchaser who searches for utmost value in the light six field.

Lagging feet and longing hearts

THE third dance . . . and tired, utterly tired . . . sinking into the first chair—there perhaps to spend the rest of the evening. This was not the vivacious girl she had been a few years ago. Then thirty dances would have been her portion. What tragedy was this, that she, so young, should seem so old.

What tragedy indeed is constipation—one of the worst diseases to afflict the human race. It saps strength. It thieves beauty. It poisons. It ages its victims long before their time. But the hopeful part of it is—constipation can be safely and permanently relieved without the use of habit-forming pills and drugs. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the answer.

No matter if constipation has become chronic, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will bring permanent relief. This is why: Bran—ALL-BRAN—goes completely through the system without changing fiber. It is what doctors call a bulk food, a necessary aid to regular elimination.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief, or your grocer returns the purchase price. Its delightful nutty flavor makes it good as a cereal. Serve with milk or cream alone or with fresh or preserved fruit; with other cereals or cook in hot cereals; use in soups, or in the recipes given on every package.

Don't take chances. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is ALL BRAN—100% bran. That's why doctors recommend it. Sold by all grocers and served in hotels and restaurants.

A lovely skin

THAT'S what makes beauty—a lovely skin! A skin perfect in its texture—free from pimples, blackheads or blotches.

And how everybody loves to look at beautiful skin! How they admire the fresh, clean, healthy appearance a perfect skin gives!

And do you know what makes skin lovely? Well, it's healthy, rich, red blood. Healthy blood purifies the system—throws off the impurities that cause skin eruptions.

And S. S. S., that great blood cleanser and builder helps Nature make rich, red blood. You never have to worry with embarrassing skin blemishes when you keep your blood full of healthy red-blood-cells.

Take S. S. S. and have the beautiful skin that belongs to you. And while it's making your skin lovely, S. S. S. is giving you renewed strength and energy, too—building firm, plump flesh—increasing your appetite and making you healthy all over. It's the rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build that does it.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels

Give "California Fig Syrup" at once if bilious or constipated

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless, "fruity laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Scene from Low Fields' sensational New York Vanderbilt theatre musical comedy triumph, "The Girl Friend," coming to the Ceramic theatre, Tuesday evening, Nov. 16.

MIX IS WINNER IN NEW FILM

Ace of Cowboys in Train Robbery Picture at American.

Tom Mix, the ace of cowboys, breezed into the American theatre on Tony, the ace of horses, last night for a three-day engagement in "The Great K & A Train Robbery." The film is packed to the brim with cyclonic action and is the best thing that Tom Mix has ever turned out. It is a William Fox production.

Mix has donned his blue togs to play the part of Tom Gordon, a hard-riding, fast-shooting railroad detective. Tom has never appeared more handsome or as virile. And it is doubtful if he has ever urged Tony over the ground as he does in his latest effort.

The scenery alone is worth a trip to the theatre. Lew Seiler, the director, took the company to Royal Gorge on the Arkansas river, one of Colorado's noted beauty spots, and filmed most of the action there. This is in line with Mix's plan to have popular locations as backgrounds for his future productions.

Dorothy Dwan plays opposite Tom as the daughter of the president of the railroad. Miss Dwan is recognized as one of the most daring horsewoman in pictures and she proves why she has won a reputation by her work in "The Great K & A Train Robbery."

Briefly, the story concerns the adventures of the detective in tracking down a gang of desperadoes who have consistently robbed K & A trains. At times matters are quite complicated for him as he is mistaken for a bandit by the girl's father. But Tom finally routs the gang and wins the girl.

The film is based on Paul Leicester Ford's great story. Those in the cast, aside from the star and Miss Dwan, are William Walling, Harry Gripp, Carl Miller, Edward Peil, Sr., and Curtis McHenry.

Government railways of Italy are doing more business than last year.

RHEUMATISM, NEURITIS, PAIN

"Heet" Relieves Instantly

With applicator attached to cork, just brush "Heet" over the pain area, whether in knees, feet, legs, hands, shoulders, back, neck or body. Instantly, you feel this harmless, glorious, penetrating heat draw the pain, soreness and stiffness right out of the aching or swollen joint, muscle or nerve. Besides, "Heet" scatters the congestion and establishes a cure.

"Heet" contains two soothing, penetrating ingredients, too expensive to use in ordinary liniments or analgesics. "Heet" is a clean, pleasant liquid; doesn't stain, blister or irritate the skin and costs only 60 cents at any drug store.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels

Give "California Fig Syrup" at once if bilious or constipated

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless, "fruity laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Scene from Low Fields' sensational New York Vanderbilt theatre musical comedy triumph, "The Girl Friend," coming to the Ceramic theatre, Tuesday evening, Nov. 16.

MIX IS WINNER IN NEW FILM

Ace of Cowboys in Train Robbery Picture at American.

Tom Mix, the ace of cowboys, breezed into the American theatre on Tony, the ace of horses, last night for a three-day engagement in "The Great K & A Train Robbery." The film is packed to the brim with cyclonic action and is the best thing that Tom Mix has ever turned out. It is a William Fox production.

Mix has donned his blue togs to play the part of Tom Gordon, a hard-riding, fast-shooting railroad detective. Tom has never appeared more handsome or as virile. And it is doubtful if he has ever urged Tony over the ground as he does in his latest effort.

The scenery alone is worth a trip to the theatre. Lew Seiler, the director, took the company to Royal Gorge on the Arkansas river, one of Colorado's noted beauty spots, and filmed most of the action there. This is in line with Mix's plan to have popular locations as backgrounds for his future productions.

Dorothy Dwan plays opposite Tom as the daughter of the president of the railroad. Miss Dwan is recognized as one of the most daring horsewoman in pictures and she proves why she has won a reputation by her work in "The Great K & A Train Robbery."

Briefly, the story concerns the adventures of the detective in tracking down a gang of desperadoes who have consistently robbed K & A trains. At times matters are quite complicated for him as he is mistaken for a bandit by the girl's father. But Tom finally routs the gang and wins the girl.

The film is based on Paul Leicester Ford's great story. Those in the cast, aside from the star and Miss Dwan, are William Walling, Harry Gripp, Carl Miller, Edward Peil, Sr., and Curtis McHenry.

Government railways of Italy are doing more business than last year.

RHEUMATISM, NEURITIS, PAIN

"Heet" Relieves Instantly

With applicator attached to cork, just brush "Heet" over the pain area, whether in knees, feet, legs, hands, shoulders, back, neck or body. Instantly, you feel this harmless, glorious, penetrating heat draw the pain, soreness and stiffness right out of the aching or swollen joint, muscle or nerve. Besides, "Heet" scatters the congestion and establishes a cure.

"Heet" contains two soothing, penetrating ingredients, too expensive to use in ordinary liniments or analgesics. "Heet" is a clean, pleasant liquid; doesn't stain, blister or irritate the skin and costs only 60 cents at any drug store.

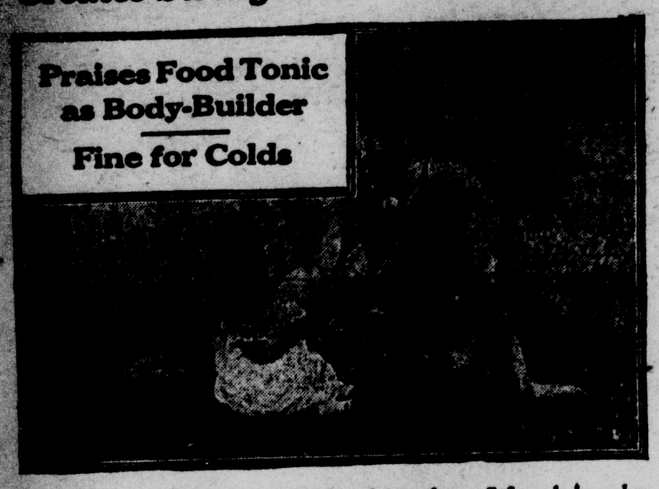
"The Building Power of Father John's Medicine Creates Strength for Whole System"



"When I was rather weakened and run down, I found that the building power of Father John's Medicine created strength for my whole system. I think it is fine for children who need building up. Since using it, I have been free from severe coughs or colds. Whenever I feel one coming on I take Father John's Medicine with good results." (Signed) Mrs. Dorothy Parent, Bangor Road, Orono, Me.

In millions of families, Father John's Medicine has proved its value as a body building tonic and in the treatment of colds, coughs, and throat troubles. In its more than 70 years of success, Father John's Medicine has come to be known as the greatest body builder for all the family. It is safe because it contains no alcohol or dangerous drugs.

'Girl Friend,' Lew Fields' Success, Comes Here Nov. 16

Wealth of Tuneful and Popular Musical Numbers and Pretty Chorus in Ceramic Theatre Attraction.

"The Girl Friend," Lew Fields' musical comedy success, which jumped into popular favor on its premiere at the New York Vanderbilt theatre last spring and where it is still playing to capacity audiences, will be staged at the Ceramic theatre Tuesday evening, Nov. 16.

It is said that rarely has a more brightly diverting play been presented in the metropolis, nor one that was more artistically staged and costumed. There is nothing in the play that is not blandly innocent. The book is by Herbert Fields, augmented by lyrics from the pen of Lorenz Hart and music composed by Richard Rodgers. The comedy is credited with a wealth of tuneful and popular musical numbers, intelligent principals, a chorus composed of young, pretty girls and boys who can sing and dance and who work in ensemble numbers calling for precision and synchronization equally as well as in individual exhibitions of speed and grace.

The story is of a youthful bicyclist who is self-trained on a Long Island dairly farm by hitching his wheel to a churn. Otherwise he is professionally advised by the daughter of an old cyclist and is soon in such shape that the city promoters begin to hear of him. Finally he comes to town, is handicapped by the schemes of the gamblers and the affections of the amorous city girls, but manages to remain sufficiently pure and strong to win the race and marry his girl friend.

Lew Fields, who, as a member of the famous team of comedians and managers, Weber and Fields, and later as an individual producer of musical plays made a reputation for the excellence of his touring companies, specially selected the cast and supervised the entire production of "The Girl Friend" which will be seen here.

The lilting melodies in the comedy in addition to the well known and popular "The Girl Friend" and "The Blue Room" are "Why Do I?" "The Damsel Who Done All the Dirt," "Town Hall Tonight," "Good Fellow Mine," "He's a Winner," "I'd Like to Take You Home" and "What Is It?"

The principal members of the company are Allan Gold, Frances Dewey, George B. Phelps, Gladys James, George Boques, Anita Wright, Teddy Durr, Elizabeth Raymond, Frances King, John McNamara, Helen Reilly, Charles Cooley, Jimmy Cort and Barry Bernard.

Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

WHEN the Bible says jealousy hath a most vehement flame, it doesn't exaggerate. Horrible testimony given by a doctor as to that killing of Mrs. Mills, in the Hall-Mills murder case, proves it.

The woman, after three bullets had been fired into her head, was dreadfully mutilated. Her throat was cut twice, her tongue cut out, and there were other horrible wounds inflicted on the dead body. The tongue is supposed to have been cut out because the woman's singing had charmed her clergyman from his straight and narrow path.

THE horrible case will again remind men that whoever stirs up jealously stirs up danger. They have been reminded of it, often enough, for five hundred thousand years, by blows on the head with sharp flints, by poison in the middle ages, by pistols later. But they never seem to learn.

WALL STREET is very proud of having "supplanted London as the world's money lender." This year the United States will lend more than a thousand million dollars in gold to foreign borrowers. In three years past this country has lent Europe four thousand million dollars. Gratifying, of course, but when will they get that money back?

LONDON as world money lender charged usually moderate, and always legal, rates of interest. Our financiers lend money to Europe on a basis that makes the borrower pay at the rate of 12 per cent for the first year, as much as 7 and 8 per cent thereafter.

THE usurer in many states loses principal and interest. Some of those American lenders will get unpleasant replies later when they ask for their principal. Meanwhile it is profitable for middlemen that get the "rakeoff."

ALL farmers and some congressmen are wondering what "can be done for the farmer." The farmer says: "Guarantee me a definite price for my crops." Common sense says that invites over-production, such as now breaks the price of cotton.

With wheat at $1.40 farmers will

COUNTY HEARING

Opponents Will Not Take Stand Until Late in Day.

Because of certain advantages such as city water, street lights, fire and police protection which they expect to derive by becoming residents of the municipality, ten witnesses declared they favored annexation at today's hearing before the county commissioners in municipal court headquarters.

Commissioners Sit as Jury.

More annexation supporters were to take the stand when the hearing reconvened at 1 o'clock this afternoon. All but one of those heard this morning were property owners in the township. Miss Mary Hall, librarian at the Carnegie library, and a resident in the city testified to the advantages offered by the library.

Commissioners Conrad Berg, Frank Bye and J. C. Kelly are sitting as a jury in the application of the city of East Liverpool to extend its boundary lines. L. H. Johnson, clerk to the commissioners, is also in attendance.

Commissioners Berg and Bye were late in reaching the court room, and as a result the hearing was not started until 10:30 o'clock. Solicitor Frank Hoover and Attorney J. H. Brookes, member of the Planning commission, are representing the city, while Attorneys Harry Brokaw and Charles Boyd are appearing for "certain interests" opposing the move.

R. L. Cawood Testifies.

At the outset of the hearing, Attorney Brookes asked that the lawyers reveal the identity of their clients, stating that he and Solicitor Hoover were appearing for the city. Attorney Boyd said that he represented "certain Maplewood residents." Attorney Brokaw submitted a petition stating that he represented the signers.

R. L. Cawood, president of the Patterson Foundry and Machine company and head of the American Paper Products company, was the first witness. He said that he favored annexation

Veteran American Statesman Served for 46 Years as Member of National House of Representatives.

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 12.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon is dead.

The veteran American statesman, who for 46 years was a member of the house of representatives, passed away at his home here today at the age of 90.

Death came quietly with members of his family by his bed. With him were his two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Leseure and Miss Helen Cannon.

For the past several days "Uncle Joe" had been failing. He experienced great difficulty in swallowing and while his pulse continued comparatively strong, his general condition was such that members of his family were hurriedly summoned by Dr. Charles E. Wilkinson.

Cannon's death marked the passing of one of America's most brilliant politicians.

While speaker of the house Cannon ruled that body with an iron hand. He was known as "Czar Joe" at times from the manner in which he held the house in order.

CAST FOR "HER SONG," DE MOLAY MUSICAL COMEDY, IS ANNOUNCED

Rogers Producing Company Offering Will be Staged Next Thursday and Friday at American Theatre.

Leading characters have been selected for the musical comedy, "Her Song," which will be presented at the American theatre next Thursday and Friday under auspices of Harding chapter, Order of DeMolay.

The principal role will be handled by Miss Freda McConnell, who will appear as Christine, beautiful daughter of Emil Kronheim, "music master" of the play, who years before deserted Christine's mother. Miss Maxine Herron plays the part of Ann Kelcy, Christine's friend, while William Cox will take the part of Emil, Christine's father.

Adele, Christine's mother, who, in the play, becomes a great stage celebrity only to totter from her throne later, will be Miss Beatrice Brannan of Wellsville. Comedy in the play is supplied in the parts of the three O'Haras—father and mother and son, Harry. These three parts are assigned George Allison, Miss Mary Alice McGonigal and Glenn Roberts.

Visit of America's Chieftain and Roumanian Royalty on Same Day Boosts Sale of High Hats.

By David P. Sentner.

ABOARD QUEEN MARIE'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Nov. 12.—Barely recovered from a narrow escape from being mobbed by over-enthusiastic crowds in Kansas City, Queen Marie of Roumania arrived today in St. Louis, gateway of the Mississippi valley.

The day's schedule called for a drive through the city in the morning, an exclusive luncheon and greeting of Roumanian residents at Washington University in the afternoon and a banquet and horse show in the evening. The royal party will leave tomorrow for Chicago where the battle between the high hats and the low hats will be decided.

This issue which is gaining in intensity as her majesty moves eastward, flared for but a moment in Kansas City. The visit of a president

W. H. GEIGER, 46, LISBON SCHOOL HEAD, DIES OF TYPHOID FEVER

Educator Succumbs in Central Clinic at Salem.

ILL THREE WEEKS

Superintendent in County Seat Town For Nine Years.

William H Geiger, 46, superintendent of the Lisbon public schools, and brother of F. P. Geiger, of New Philadelphia, formerly head of the East Liverpool public schools, died at 7 o'clock this morning in the Central Clinic, Salem, after a three weeks' illness of typhoid fever.

Mr. Geiger was born in Malvern, Stark county, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Geiger. He attended the Malvern schools and after his graduation entered Mount Union college where he received his A. B. degree. He took a post graduate course at the University of Chicago where he was awarded an M. A. degree.

He was superintendent of the Lisbon schools for the past nine years, and previously was connected with the schools at Caldwell, O. He was a member of the session of the Lisbon Presbyterian church, president of the Lisbon Kiwanis club, a member of the Chapter and Blue lodges of Masons and Columbiana County Schoolmasters' club.

His death followed that of his mother which occurred in her home at Malvern less than three weeks ago.

He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Doris and Martha; two brothers, F. P. Geiger, superintendent of the New Philadelphia schools; Edward Geiger, Malvern, and one sister, Mrs. Herbert Weaver, Canton.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Lisbon High school auditorium. Rev. P. W. Macauley, of the First Presbyterian church, will be in charge. Rev. A. C. Reynolds, of Fredonia, Pa., a personal friend, will deliver the sermon. Dr. W. H. McMasters, president of Mt. Union college, will also speak. Burial will be made in Mt. Union cemetery, Alliance.

Defer Anderson Trial Ruling; Fultz Case Also Held Up

The court of appeals, meeting in Lisbon today, announced that decision on the question of a third trial for George A. Anderson, East Liverpool automobile dealer, twice convicted of manslaughter in the death of Frank R. McLain, 27, taxicab fleet operator, will not be handed down until the Harrison county session at Cadiz on Nov. 29.

Date of the decision in the appeal of the city of Wellsville from the common pleas court ruling, restoring Chief of Police John H. Fultz to office, will be fixed this afternoon.

Dirigible Off to Norfolk, Va.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Nov. 12.—The navy dirigible Los Angeles left the base here at 11 o'clock this morning for a flight to Norfolk, Va. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, in charge, said that the ship might remain at Norfolk overnight, returning to Lakehurst at noon tomorrow.

All members of Painters Local 165 are requested to be present at their meeting. Business of importance.

"I Told Edward Schwartz" (Newark Police Department Member) That if He Could Help Clean Up Murder Mystery, He Would be Doing Service to State," That's All I Gave Him," Philip Payne Says.

PROFESSIONAL CARD OF SLAIN RECTOR WAS FOUND NEAR VICTIMS' BODIES

Barbara Tough, for Seven Years Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall's Personal Maid, Testifies She Did Not See Anything Unusual in Hall Home on Night of Double Crime Four Years Ago.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

COURT HOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 12.—"I told Schwartz (Edward Schwartz, of the Newark police department) that if he could help clean up the Hall-Mills murder mystery, he would be doing a service to the state of New Jersey. That's all I gave him, for this card."

So declared Philip Payne, managing editor of the New York Daily Mirror, on the witness stand in the Hall-Mills murder trial today when he was asked if he had "paid" anything for "Exhibit S17"—the professional card of the slain Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, which the state contends bears the fingerprint of Willie Stevens, one of the defendants. The card was found near the bodies of the slain minister and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, in De Russey's lane on the night of Sept. 14, 1922.

The editor leaned over the railing and fired this answer back at the chief counsel for the defense, Robert H. McCarter, who had been demanding to know "What he gave Schwartz." Schwartz is a fingerprint expert.

The New York Mirror had been active in opening the inquiry after four years and it is understood had turned over much evidence to Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson.

Talks in Calm, Low Voice.

Payne talked in a calm, low voice and at one point McCarter sought to hurry him to which the editor belligerently replied:

"Haven't I as much right to take my time answering your questions as you have to take your time in asking them?"

McCarter glared at him, his pugnacious chin stuck forward.

Payne had told Simpson he received the card about the first of July and that he had given no financial consideration to get it.

McCarter then cross-examined.

"When did you first meet Mr. Schwartz?"

"Several years ago."

"Where did you receive the card?"

"In a Newark hotel."

"How did you learn he had the card?"

"He told me while we were walking along the street in Newark, and asked me to meet him at the hotel."

Payne then said the card was turned over to him in the taxicab just after they left the St. Francis hotel.

"What did you give Schwartz?"

"Nothing material."

"What then?"

"I told Schwartz," said Payne, with great emphasis, "that if he could clear up this crime he would be doing a great service to the state of New Jersey."

Exhibit Copy of Newspaper.

Simpson took a copy of the Daily Mirror, dated Aug. 27, 1926, from among the exhibits and read therefrom an article which stated that the fingerprints on the card shown in a picture in the publication were those of Willie Stevens.

"Has Willie Stevens ever communicated with you orally, or in any other way regarding this accusation—has he sued you or has he tried to have you arrested for criminal libel?" Simpson shouted.

"No, he has not," replied editor Payne.

"That will come later,' spoke up McCarter.

"Well, it's pretty late as it is," snapped Simpson.

Sent Reporter for Story.

Payne said he sent Herbert Mayer, a Mirror reporter, to Middletown to see Joseph A. Faurot, the Bertillon expert, to get a story in connection with the card.

STAR WITNESS HAS RELAPSE

Blood Transfusion May Save Life of Mrs. Gibson.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Jane Gibson underwent a blood transfusion operation this morning in the Jersey City hospital.

The star witness for the prosecution in the Hall-Mills murder case was placed on an operating table beside Fireman Thomas Kent, from whom the blood was drawn.

Dr. Charles B. Kelley, one of the attending physicians, denied reports that Mrs. Gibson had suffered a collapse.

"A blood transfusion was made to correct the condition of moderately severe secondary anaemia," he stated.

News of Mrs. Gibson's relapse came as a surprise as reports yesterday were that Mrs. Gibson was improved and Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson had planned to put her on the stand before next Wednesday when by which time it was expected he would have completed the state's case.

Physicians now believe that even if the blood transfusion is a success, it will be a long time before she is able to take the witness stand.

Mrs. Gibson's relapse is a blow to the prosecution, as Simpson has built the main structure of the state's case around her.

She testified at the Hall-Mills preliminary hearing on Aug. 13, this year that she saw Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and two men at the scene of the slaying of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, in De Russey's lane four years ago. She testified that Willie Stevens was also there that night and so was another man. She told the same story four years ago after the first investigation and since that time has reiterated the many details of her visit to the lane on her mule.

NUMERICALLY AT LEAST, PRESIDENT CALVIN COOLIDGE IS RETURNING TO WHITE HOUSE FROM SCENE OF HIS GREATEST PUBLIC TRIUMPH

By GEORGE E. DURNO.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12.—Running 15 minutes ahead of schedule President Coolidge's train passed through here today on the return trip to Washington.

ABOARD THE PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Numerically at least, President Coolidge was returning to the national capital today from the scene of his greatest public triumph.

Gauged by extent of vocal demonstration Minneapolis and St. Paul, which he visited in June, 1925, still hold the call in the matter of presidential receptions, but never has Mr. Coolidge—nor any other executive—addressed such a vast throng as was assembled Armistice Day in Kansas City, Mo.

Behind the president was a memory of massed humanity aggregating at least 150,000 individuals. They had jammed together in a solid blanket on all sides of the $2,000,000 liberty memorial from which the president spoke, and despite the chill of a winter wind they had listened attentively to his mild, but nevertheless positive denouncement of European politics insofar as relations with the United States are concerned.

Train Crosses Ohio.

The estimate of the crowd was not taken on the word of partisan citizens but curiously enough, was arrived at in comparison with the throng that witnessed the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Philadelphia where the exact number of seats was known and where the people were crowded into a space which the vision could determine and remember.

The president's return trip thus far has been as uneventful as was the outgoing journey. Missouri and Illinois were left behind during the night. Today, the special train crosses Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania. A quiet day was in prospect.

In the private car housing the executive and Mrs. Coolidge is a phonograph machine of the latest type wherewith they may amuse themselves. In the evening—before the 11:30 arrival at Washington—they can look forward to another of the movie features placed aboard by Jack Connolly, personal representative of Will Hays.

Death Knell of Court.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Coolidge's ultimatum to Europe that the United States will enter the world court on its own terms or not at all was accepted here today as sounding an official death knell to the project, and signifying the removal of the issue, for the time being at least, from the realm of politics.

The principal powers of Europe have already agreed the senate's reservations are not acceptable. The president has said these reservations will not be changed. There the matter rests. There, apparently, it will continue to rest until the powers change their attitude.

The irreconcilables are jubilant, and even some of those who reluctantly voted for the court last January under pressure from the White House were relieved today over the turn of events.

One effect of the president's speech may be to forestall the introduction in the senate next month of a resolution to recall the favorable vote of last session, although anti-court opinion is not unanimous on it. Some of them believe that such a resolution should be introduced and passed while the temper of the senate and of the White House is aroused over the matter. Others believe that Mr. Coolidge gave a coup de grace to the whole project at Kansas City yesterday, and that no good purpose would be served in stirring up the issue again.

Senators Approve Speech.

Few of Mr. Coolidge's speeches have been received with such universal senate approbation as that of yesterday. Even the Democrats who assisted in passing the adherence resolution praised the president's stand.

Senator Walsh (D.), of Montana, who was one of the court leaders in the fight last winter, said the president had "accurately reflected the attitude of the senate."

Senator Johnson (R.), of California, an original irreconcilable, said, "Apparently with a sigh of relief the president has kissed the league of nations goodbye."

Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said the speech "was fine as far

Q. What does Man O'War weight? W. S.

A. Man O'War weighs about 1275 pounds and weighed about 1159 pounds when racing.

Q. What are "beaux arts"? M. L.

A. The term beaux arts is applied to painting, sculpture, architecture, engraving, and musical composition.

Q. Do all the sons of the King of England have titles such as the Prince of Wales? H. F.

A. Only the two eldest sons of the king of England have special titles, as the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York. The other sons are merely known as Prince Henry and Prince George of England.

Q. How long do dogs live? L. S. M.

A. The mortality rate has not been compiled, but the average life of a dog is from eight to nine years.

Q. Who was court dressmaker to Empress Eugenie? E. L. B.

A. Worth is credited with having designed the gowns of Empress Eugene.

Q. If relatives in Ireland are left money by a naturalized Irishman in this country, must the relatives come over in order to get the legacy? M. O'B.

A. It would not be necessary. An attorney may be appointed or a trustee who can receive the money and make it payable at a bank in Ireland after all duties assessed are paid.

Q. How much whiskey is there in the bonded warehouses now? A. F. W.

A. There were as of July 1, 1926, 23,814,140 gallons of whiskey in the government warehouses. These figures can not be recorded as strictly accurate, since much of the whiskey was placed in the government depositoris as early as 1911, and the majority was placed as early as 1917. A certain amount of lessening of the stock is due to evaporation and leakage which is estimated as nearly one-third of the total amount.

Q. What is meant by "Plantation of Ulster?" H. G. C.

A. The Ulster Plantation was the colonization of a large part of Ulster, Ireland, by English and Scottish settlers, 1609-11. The troubles of the early 17th century resulted in the forfeiture of a large part of Ulster to the Crown. In 1608 a commission was appointed to determine what to do with the lands. It was proposed to colonize the whole district with retired civil and military servants and colonists from England and Scotland. The lands were divided into portions of 1000, 1,500, and 2,000 acres and each large proprietor was bound to build a castle on his estate and forbidden to alienate the land to Irishmen.

Q. Is it true that a poisonous snake can bite a hog and not poison it? M. F.

A. It is generally considered that a hog is immune to a snake bite, due to the heavy layer of fat. It takes such a long time for the venom to be absorbed in the blood system that usually it does no harm.

So rapidly is the use of crude oil taking the place of coal in Italy that the amount of the liquid fuel imported today is twice that of the same period three years ago.

Steadily, Surely, Satisfactorily Supplying The Things The People Want

A LITTLE PRAISE GOES A LONG WAYS

"Why stint our applause, when we attend a public performance?" A friend asked us. "Applause means everything to stage folks. It's the only way they can find out if they please us. Too many of us are too stingy with encouragement for these hard-working people."

Not a bad thought, to give more pleasure to those who provide pleasure for us.

But don't let us stop there with our applause! All about us are striving souls, to whom a bit of praise is golden inspiration. Let us stint our censure rather than our applause.

Princeton-Harvard Situation Far From Clear Despite Peace Efforts

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—With Harvard alumni, abetted by Yale, striving to heal the breach between the Crimson and Princeton, and reports of new ententes, including an eastern Big Ten, filling the air, the status of Princeton-Harvard situation was far from clear today. In a formal statement, Howard Elliott, chairman of the Northern Pacific railroad and president of the Harvard board of overseers, spoke for peace and resumption of the athletic relations that would preserve the old Big Three intact.

He asked for an apology, "man fashion," from the Hardvard authorities and their offer to "sit down, talk things over and arrange for a resumption of cordial relations." At the same time, he made it clear that he did not speak for the board but merely as an individual overseer.

His effort to placate Princeton, however, was deprecated by the statement of William Bingham, athletic director at Harvard, who said he wished to "make Harvard's attitude and policy perfectly clear."

In doing so, he pointed out that the playing of games against the same opponents every year tended to keep the excitement of the contests at too high a pitch and that, therefore, "except for its final game with Yale, it is Harvard's policy, as soon as circumstances permit, to play football with other colleges only at suitable intervals."

Since it was this attitude that Princeton claimed it resented most, those in close touch with the situation felt today that the warring institutions were as far apart as ever.

The possibility that a Big Ten could be formed by Princeton, Yale, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Brown, Dartmouth, Army, Navy, Syracuse and Colgate was considered remote, owing to athletic differences between several of the teams mentioned. Syracuse and Army have definitely severed relations and Princeton and Pennsylvania have not played football for years by mutual desire.

In addition, several of the institutions already have arranged their 1927 schedules and the others are in the progress of formation. Pennsylvania for example, has closed for three November dates and could hardly resume football relations with either Princeton or Harvard, as suggested.

The report that Yale, Harvard and Dartmouth would form a new Big Three also was scouted on the ground that it could not rotate on a home-and-home basis because of the inaccessibility by Hanover, N. H., the site of Dartmouth.

Cleveland's Pro Cage Champs Set For Hard Season

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 12. — The team which brought the world's basketball championship to Cleveland last season is hard at work preparing for the 1926-27 American league schedule, which opens with Cleveland playing at Rochester, N. Y., on Nov. 20. Cleveland returns to its home court following the Rochester tilt to pry off the lid in the Fifth city against Brooklyn on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 25. A torrid battle is looked for in the opening game in Cleveland, which will be played at Public Hall, scene of all Cleveland's home games this year. It was from Brooklyn that Cleveland won the world's title last year.

The same team which won the highest honors in professional basketball for Cleveland a year ago will attempt to retain their title this season. Max Rosenblum has signed his entire regular team, which is made up of Dave Kerr, Nat Hickey, Carl Husta, Honey Russell and Rich Deghan.

Cookie Cunningham, a star at Ohio State for three seasons and chosen all-western center, has been added to the lineup. Cunningham, who is six feet, three inches in height and weighs 205 pounds, is expected to prove a valuable asset to Cleveland once he works his way into the championship machine. Another newcomer has been signed in Steve Olzewski, a star with Union Trust teams in Cleveland for several years. He is rated the best class A player Cleveland has developed in many years.

Marty Friedman returns as coach of the Clevelanders. He was the guiding genius of the team that won national honors last year.

Two of the substitutes of last season have been released to the Chicago team. They are Gunther and Shephard. Gilbert Ely, now practicing dentistry at Pioneer, O., continues on Cleveland's reserve list.

IRISH AND ARMY REACH NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Notre Dame and the Army, keyed up for the biggest gridiron meeting of the year to date, will arrive in town today to go through a final workout for the east-west extravaganza at the Yankee stadium tomorrow afternoon. A capacity crowd of 70,000 will see the game, with the demand for tickets indicating that more than twice that number would be present if the limits of the field permitted.

Neither team has been defeated this year and, with every indication pointing to a homeric struggle, the betting on the outcome of the game was transacted at even money. The Cadets, however, were generally favored to win by a slight margin.

The Irish will arrive in New York early and will proceed to the Westchester-Biltmore Country club at Rye for a light workout. The Army, arriving this afternoon, will be rushed to the stadium for practice. The players of both squads are in excellent condition, with the exception of Trapnell the Army back, who may not be able to play, owing to injuries.

Notre Dame has a big edge in the 13 games played by the two teams, having gained eight victories to four, with one game ending in a tie. However, one of the Army victories was that 27 to 0 rout of last year and the Irish are pining for revenge.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

Come In, Suburbs!

The question of annexation of residential districts north of the city proper, including La Croft, Fisher Park, Sherwood, Maplewood, Park boulevard and Beechwood, as well as Harker avenue and other sections in the upper part of East End, may be answered at today's hearing before the county commissioners.

Arguments pro and con on the proposal, which has been initiated by the municipal planning commission and approved by the city council, are being heard in the municipal court headquarters. The three members of the county board are sitting as judges and jurors. Their verdict will determine whether East Liverpool is to stand still or become a larger community.

There are a thousand and one arguments in support of annexation, and few against it. By far and large, it would be seem to be for the interests of the suburban districts to come into the city. Outside, they are, and should be, deprived of municipal accommodations. A unit of the community, they have, and should have, fire and police protection and municipal water service.

Come in, suburbanites, and let's work together for a bigger and better East Liverpool.

American Coal For Europe

Europe is said to be entering her winter season with a coal shortage of 100,000,000 tons.

The English coal strike is responsible. The continent, as well as Great Britain, is starving for coal. The French and German mines cannot make up the deficit. America has been called upon, but too late, to provide full relief.

Nations are searching for expedients of many kinds. There are strange projects soberly put forth, such as burning English chalk cliffs, tapping the interior heat of the earth through deep shafts, and following up Sir Oliver Lodge's quest for "atomic power." Only the first of these could be done immediately, and it is not very practical. Waterpower and tide-power may provide relief only in the distant future.

Coal can be brought from China, where there are ample supplies in the ground, but not much this winter. The Chinese themselves lack available coal.

There will be serious inroads into European forests. Millions of trees that should be kept for lumber will be sacrificed for fuel.

American coal mines at present offer most hope. Europe's extermity is America's opportunity, as it has been more than once in the past. Our eastern and middle-western soft coal fields are prospering, for the first time in years. Mines are operating full time and wages are rising, as thousands of train loads move to tide-water for ocean shipment.

And all because a few leaders of men in England cannot agree about the adjustment of wages and profits in a single, centralized, local industry.

Chewing Gum in The Orient

American rule may not be popular in the Philippines, but American chewing gum has conquered. An American official at Manila says it has almost entirely displaced the betel nut, formerly the universal masticatory of the East Indies from time immemorial.

It is a natural change. Chewing betel nuts requires nuts, green leaves and lime, and a box to carry them in, and stains the teeth black. Chewing gum is much more convenient, just as fragrant, costs no more, gives the jaws just the same needless exercise and whitens the teeth. And white teeth are coming into style in the Orient. Chewing gum may conquer Asia.

Meanwhile this distinctly American product, almost unobserved, is winning a comparable triumph at home. It is probably chewing gum,, more than anything else, that is responsible for the disuse of chewing tobacco. Gum-chewing is not a pleasant habit, yet it has its compensations.

Earnings Of Women

American women earn more than they used to. The average woman worker filing an income tax gets from $1,000 to $2,000 a year. Over 150,000 women who are heads of families had average incomes last year of nearly $3,000. Of single working women there were some 773,314, with average incomes of $2,436. There were 173,225 married women who filed income tax returns separately from their husbands, and their average incomes were about $5,500.

Of course many women earn money on a lower level than the income tax payers. Many of them work half time, or are in ill-paid occupations.

But the general fact is that last year more than a million women earned enough to bring them under the income tax law, and they earned pretty competently.

Some of our very best people are scandalized at the informality of Queen Marie. As we go to press, it looks doubtful whether the queen is endangering American democracy or America is endangering royal democracy.

It must be said for Chicago that her bandit war hasn't yet got to the trench stage.

My Favorite Stories
By IRVIN S. COBB

THE RUSH FOR THE LIFEBOATS.

It happened soon after the Titanic disaster occurred that a certain manager produced at a Broadway theatre the first work of a certain young dramatist.

Afterwards the budding dramatist perfected his art and achieved a considerable reputation. But his initial offering was not what the most charitable friend could call a success. In fact it was a conspicuous failure. The critics were pretty well agreed in the opinion that while worse plays might have ben written this was the worst play any of them had ever seen.

At the end of the second act members of the audience began to reach for their coats and hats. A stream of persons whose intention it plainly was to get out and to stay out filled the aisles. The movement became a rush. Hundreds were departing, hundreds more evidently were preparing to depart.

At the back of the house where the crush was thickest the tall form of Ben Hapgood Burt, the humorous song-writer, loomed, and in a great voice Burt cried out:

"One moment, please! Women and children first!"

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. — Thoughts while strolling: The yellow car labeled "Miss Miami" with a live monkey chained to the windshield. What became of Annette Kellerman? Five hair tinting parlors in one block. Don't cheer, the poor devils, etc.

More mystery plays. With solemn butlers and missing jewels. The dapper burlesque dance team with red, jagged shrapnel scars. Bob Hilliard. And his whole lapel flower. A horse and buggy. Wonder if there is a hay and feed store in New York?

The Danish pastry parlor with six red headed waitresses. The Metropolitan needs a scrubbing. Two old sandwich men still wearing straw hats. A flood of new cabarets—without couvert charge. For the dinner hour only. After that every man for himself.

Two chorus girls reading the racing news—and sighing. Manhattan's lingering twilight and that peaceful glow of light from the big office buildings. Orchestra fiddlers who eat early in cafeterias. Wearing dinner coats.

Movie electric signs still getting bigger. And more complicated in color and action. Those gown and hat shops which seem to flourish with early evening trade. Likewise the beauty salons. Allan Dwan's owlish expression. Came the Dwan-ha-ha.

That worldly sidewalk group about the Palace stage entrance. Sime of Variety. The boy lookouts for a newsie dice game. Rarely see fresh roasted peanuts any more. Are they fattening too?

There are decent night clubs, but they are in the minority, and prohibition has spawned a gilded type of dive in Manhattan's Tenderloin that make the old Bowery joints seem eminently respectable. The worst one received in the Bowery joint was knockout drops and perhaps an awakening in a nearby alley minus the gold hunting case watch and a front tooth.

The new kind of gyp joints are the hangout for the most sinister type of criminals to be found in a great city. They have brought all the gunmen, dope fiends, hold-up boys and hi-jackers out of the East Side cellars into the dazzling lights of Broadway. The underworld no longer wears sweaters and caps. It is as well groomed as Fifth avenue.

Most proprietors are those shifty fellows who graduated from Raines Law hotel bell hops into bootlegging and then night club proprietors. There are many known to be in league with big jewel thieves and blackmailers. It has given night life a mechanical touch that creaks. No longer is there the spontaneity of the old days when patrons came laughing and talking from the theatre.

They enter night clubs these days as though it were a grim business—something they feel might end in disaster. Decent people mingle with gorillas and call it an "experience." Nobody seems to laugh. It is as though everybody waited a little breathlessly, for something to happen and if they wait long enough it will. Clang! Clang!—The wagon again.

All the unlovely brood of Broadway procurers, pimps and parasites who were formerly kept moving along the Broadway paves have found an easy, comfortable and profitable haven in the gyp joints.

One may see almost anything along Broadway. For instance—the top of a brilliantly lighted movie canopy. Two men step out of an office window evidently to read a letter one has in his hand. A woman in furs joins them. There is an introduction and all three light cigarettes and converse as roaring Broadway tumbles by.

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The Cotton Problem—II.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The crux of the problem of the cotton industry as it is presented today is that the cotton growers have produced a larger crop than can be absorbed by normal market requirements, both at home and abroad. Moreover, they have done this for two successive years. The result is a glutted market—not actual so much as in prospect—with a drop in the price of cotton until it is below the cost of production.

This means a loss to cotton growers that approximates, as has been stated, from $400,000,000 to $500,000,000, and that might prove even more disastrous had not steps been taken to steady the market.

Furthermore it means a great handicap, if not a serious loss, to the manufacturers of cotton, for the greatest market for their wares in this country is in the cotton-growing states. If the cotton growers are impoverished, they can not buy on the scale that they buy normally, hence the cotton manufacturers suffer.

The cotton crop this year, according to government estimates, will run to about 17,500,000 bales. Normally it runs from 13,500,000 to 15,000,000 bales. With conditions as they are throughout the world—and it is to be remembered that normally we expect 60 per cent of our cotton crop—it has been figured that this year's crop is about 4,000,000 bales too large. The mere announcement of the government crop estimate put the price of cotton on a toboggan.

No one criticises the government for making this estimate, and no one questions its accurracy. The cotton world could not get along without the government crop estimates. They are universally regarded as invaluable. Had this year's figures indicated a short crop, the result would have been an advance, and probably a sharp advance, in the price. It just happened that an unusually large crop was forecasted and that that had to bring about a drop in the price.

Thus the first phase of the problem presented to President Coolidge's commission, which is headed by Eugene Meyer, jr., and includes Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, was to prevent the glutting of the market, and thereby to stablize the price, to a degree, at least.

The Power of Money or Credit.

This has already been accomplished prospectively. Mr. Meyer has made a trip through the cotton growing states, and wherever he has gone he has promised, with the evidence to make good his promise, that for every million dollars raised locally he would provide an additional $10,000,000 to be used in carrying over the surplus of the cotton crop for from 18 months to two years. Through this magic power of money or credit, or both, it has been assured, therefore, that some 4,000,000 bales of cotton will be withheld from market until conditions warrant its being sold, with a resultant steadying effect upon the market price of the South's great staple.

But—and there is a large BUT in the equation—if permanent good is to result the cotton growers must cooperate. They must curtail their acreage for next year's crop, and for some years to come. They must not produce next year, nor the year after, more cotton than their markets can absorb at a fair price. The curtail figure that has been set is 25 per cent. Unofficially it is stated that it would be a good thing for everybody concerned if the South planted 30 to 40 per cent fewer acres to cotton next year than it planted this year.

Lest there be any doubt that this is true it may be said upon the authority of one of the best informed men in the government service, who, obviously, can not permit himself to be quoted, that if the United States did not produce a single bale of cotton next year there would be no cotton shortage. The price might, and undoubtedly would, do a sky-rocket stunt, but that would be because of the speculators, and not because there would be enough actual cotton in sight to meet all the world's actual needs.

It is recognized, however, that it is an extremely difficult matter to carry through this proposed curtailment of cotton acreage. The growers will

New Method of Dealing With Great Combines Adopted.

PLAN EFFECTIVE

Department of Justice Apples Economic Legal Brake.

WASHINGTON—The United States government's new method in dealing with big business combinations is resulting in benefit to both the promoters of these so-called trusts, and the general public, according to William J. Donovan, assistant to the attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions.

"Heretofore, action has been taken against corporations after the combination complained of had been formed and had entered into the economic life of the country," Donovan said.

"Dissolution proceedings, after prolonged investigation and protracted trials too often resulted in decrees more of form than of fact. While recently more effective methods of dissolution have been evolved, at best they are an agonizing process and far from satisfactory.

"A more simple and perhaps more obvious method has now been adopted.

"The effectiveness of this method is evidenced by certain examples of the past few months.

New Trust Plan.

"If an advertised merger or proposed combination be suspected of illegality, investigation is started at once and if these be evidence of illegality proceedings are instituted before the plan can be consummated. By this method, stock in the concern is not unloaded upon the public, the interest of the consumer is protected, the honest producer is benefitted and the evil of the promoter is averted."

Donovan pointed out it is fair also to the honest projector of the plan who believes that he is acting within the law. The issue is at once presented to the court, which must in any case make the final determination and its decision is the nature of an advisory judgment.

"If the judgment be in favor of the defendant," Donovan continued, "he can proceed with his plan with greater assurance and increased prestige. If it be declared violative of the law, then with this advice in advance, he is saved the inconvenience and the financial expense attendant upon endless litigation after his business has been set up."

Donovan made these assertions in a statement relative to the relationship which should exist between government and business.

"The means that shall be taken to regulate, or to own, or to operate industry, must be decided by the principle of what best serves the public," Donovan declared.

Applying Brakes.

"There are those who believe that there should be no interference with business—that the restraints of the Sherman law and the Clayton act should be removed. Others would abolish our present capitalistic system and in the accomplishment of that end are content with the growth of great combinations, in the hope that this will bring in increased government control and finally nationalization of industry."

Donovan feels that the middle ground seems to be occupied by those who believe in the strict application of the competitive principle in order that governmental ownership may be avoided.

Accepted theories of economics and principles of law sometimes clash, according to Donovan. He added that when that clash occurs, public officials must apply the yardstick of the law. Practical experience indicates, however, that these clashes are more infrequent that certain extremists would have us believe, it was pointed out.

"What the department of justice is endeavoring to do is not to smash legitimate and honest business, but to apply the economic legal brake to runaway speculation, to illegal methods of business and to illegitimate combinations," Donovan concluded.

Airplanes, automobiles and motion picture machines will be among the exhibits featured at the first international sample fair and students' exhibition to be held in San Salvador.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

REPENTANCE IS URGED BY DR. MEL MORRIS

Life Can be Begun Again Despite Sinfulness.

Another Large Crowd Attends Baptist Church Services.

That life can be begun again despite the sinfulness of the past was affirmed in a stirring sermon by Rev. Mel. Morris, evangelist, now holding a series of meetings at the First Baptist church last evening. "No matter what the depth of depravity that has been reached the gospel of Christ, accepted and applied, will nullify all wrong doing by merit of His shed blood," he said, "and enable the transformed sinner to start existence anew in the purity and innocence of a young child."

Hearing him was one of the largest throngs of the present revival, the auditorium being filled to capacity and a large overflow utilizing the Sunday school room. In attendance was a large contingent of the Salvation Army, accompanied by its band and headed by Field Major and Mrs. Walter Hughes.

Several musical numbers were given by the band following the invocation by Rev. O. L. Benedum of the Nazarene church, who also at the service's conclusion gave the benediction.

Major Hughes sang and led the congregation in several numbers: "At They Feet I Fall," "Since Jesus Came Into My Heart," "Remember Me" and "I Came to Jesus."

Mrs. Hughes, following the sermon, led in the post-service prayer.

Announcement was made that a delegation from the C. C. Thompson Pottery Co., would be in attendance at tonight's service.

"From filthy, scarlet hued rags the finest of white paper is made," the evangelist pointed out. "Something like that is the transformation that is experienced by the sinner, steeped in sin, who by the blood of Christ, once he surrenders his old life and humbly throws himself upon him, will have his sould made pure again. 'Though your sins be as scarlet they shall be white as snow.'"

He told of a leading banker in a small community who, abconding after failing to become a Christian, saw an electric sign in Canada where he had fled with the words: "The blood of Jesus Christ, His son, cleanses from all sin." He fought out that night in his hotel the fight as to suicide or surrendering to God. He decided upon the latter place, returned to his home, confessed and upon his neighbors, recognizing his sincerity, he was given the chance to make good. He did, recompensing all his losses and living a life of an outstanding Christian for 20 years subsequently. "What this man did every sinner can do," declared the minister. "The blood of Christ will cleanse, purify and renew all who come to Him."

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion or Stomach Trouble CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis accompanied by dangerous stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with pepsin or artificial digestents that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little hot water and Bisurated Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bisurated Magnesia, to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. It soaks up the harmful excess acid much as a sponge or blotting paper might and your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive.

Don Lanning Will Present Musical Comedy Hit, 'Irene'

Broadway Stage Success is Bill at Ceramic Theatre Tonight and Saturday Afternoon and Night.

Don Lanning, East Liverpool's own star, who has scored a tremendous hit in two shows presented this week at the Ceramic theatre, will be seen tonight and Saturday in "Irene," a musical comedy success. It will be presented as nearly like the New York show as possible.

In "Irene," Don is to be seen in the difficult role of the male modiste, Madame Lucy, a designer of georgous gowns and frocks. He is a scream every minute of the play and is ably supported by Mildred Robison in the stunning role of "Irene," the waif who has become one of the most fashionable throughout the art of Mlle. Lucy.

Others in support of Lanning are Milton Reick, Rafe Pauliott, Emily Ross and Patsy Cullen, Lew Hampton, Edna Jacques, and Bartley Cahill and Jack Barbee.

There will be two shows tonight, one at 7 and another at 9, with a matinee tomorrow at 2 o'clock and two shows tomorrow night.

Tomorrow is Lanning's farewell to his home town. His next engagement is at the Court theatre, Wheeling, W. Va.

PATHOS IN SCENE BEFORE HALL-MILLS TRIAL CURTAIN

WIDOW PAYS DAILY VISIT TO KIN IN JAIL

"Good Morning," She Says With Cheerful Smile.

WILLIE JOKES

Brothers and Cousin Are Prisoners in Somerville, N. J.

By James L. Kilgallen.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 12.—Before the curtain rises each day revealing the Hall-Mills murder trial drama, there is enacted a scene in the Somerset county jail, just back of the courthouse, that is not without its pathos.

It is Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall's visit to the little bleak jail.

She goes there each morning, shortly after 9 o'clock to see her brothers, Willie and Henry Stevens, who are accused with her of having committed one of the most brutal double murders in American criminal history.

"Good morning," she invariably says with a cheerful smile as she is ushered into the reception room by "Jim" Major, the warden, to meet her brothers who are waiting for her, eager for this brief meeting that helps so much to give all of them courage to meet the ordeal of the day in court.

Willie and Henry Model Prisoners.

What a contrast in the daily routine of this pale-faced, blackgarbed woman! Not long ago, it was her custom to pay a daily visit to the Church of St. John the Evangelist in New Brunswick; now it is a daily trip to a jail. Formerly surrounded by a circle of friends who admired and perhaps envied her as the wealthy pastor's wife; now a woman deserted by all but "the loyal few."

She has been free on bail, but Willie and Henry have had to stay in jail. She feels for them keenly. They have been taking their plight philosophically enough, if all accounts be true, but she feels that somehow she must give them solace.

Willie is always delighted to see her and he shows it when he rushes to greet her. Henry is more reserved but he is glad to see her just the same.

Both Willie and Henry are model prisoners. They do not give the warden the slightest trouble. Willie likes to play cards; Henry loves to read Willie doesn't take his incarceration too hard; in fact, this writer was assured by the Main street barber who shaves Willie in the jail, that "Willie is full of jokes and never talks about the trial." He likes to play solitarie and, when he gets some one to play with him, cribbage. He reads, too, having been discovered the other day reading a book on metallurgy.

When Mrs. Henry Stevens asked him why he was reading that particular book, Willie replied.

"It's the bread and butter of my Literary Digest.

Henry goes in for heavy fiction, particularly books pertaining to the sea. He is quite a fisherman.

Now and then Mrs. Stevens calls to see Heary and plays cribbage with him.

In the jail, too, is Henry de la Bruyere Carpender, cousin of Mrs. Hall, who is also accused of the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir singer, Mrss. Eleanor Mills. But Carpender, who is a Wall street broker, is not to be tried until later. His loyal wife visits him almost daily. She said today that it was "awful" to keep Henry waiting for trial — he wants to be at the side of Frances and Henry and Willie.

Queen in St. Louis

and a queen on the same day gave victory to the silken tile faction and there was not a high hat in garret or store left unworn.

Those who could not near them pushed. They jostled the Roumanian attaches out of recognition by the police. They surrounded the royal automobile and pounded on the glass. The police were helpless or else busy looking at a queen.

The visit of President Coolidge before the arrival of the queen apparently sapped the vitality of officialdom.

"I thought of telegraphing you folks and asking you to come," said Mayor A. I. Beach to one of the officials in the royal party.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Lorena Blackinton.

Mrs. Lorena Young Blackinton, wife of Fred L. Blackinton, and former Wellsville resident, died yesterday afternoon at Battle Creek, Michigan. She was a daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. A. I. Young.

Funeral services will be held tonight in Pittsburgh. The body will be taken to Wellsville tomorrow morning for burial in Spring Hill cemetery.

Six Organizations Feature Armistice Day Programs Here

Legion, Foreign War Vets, Elks, Sons of St. George, B'Nai Israel Sisterhood and Knights of Columbus Celebrate.

Armistice Day celebrations, conducted independently by six organizations in East Liverpool last night, were successes from every stand point.

More than 100 men, the majority of them World War veterans, attended the banquet and "jamboree" given under the auspices of East Liverpool post, No. 4, American Legion. Hugh K. Martin, Columbus, past department commander of the Ohio American Legion, was the speaker at the banquet given in the Y. M. C. A. at 6:30 o'clock. He was introduced by Attorney William S. Foulks, adjutant of the local post. The chorus singing was led by R. M. Baur, while pantrope music was featured by the Smith & Phillips Music company.

Attorney W. S. Stevenson, Joseph Smith and John Bailey were speakers at the "jamboree" in the Legion rooms beginning at 9 o'clock. A vaudeville performance was an added feature. Refreshments were served.

The community entertainment, given by Private Eddy Post No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in their rooms in the Brookes building was also largely attended. Rev. Frank G. Fowler, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, was the speaker. A musical program, in which vocal and instrumental numbers were presented, was also given.

The Elks' lodge celebrated the day by entertaining 75 children from the McCullough-Jefferson County home. The youngsters were guests of Don Lanning at a matinee at the Ceramic theatre, enjoyed an hour's automobile ride about the city and then returned to the lodge temple for a chicken dinner. After the dinner they presented a patriotic program of musical and literary numbers and also offered dance specialties. Sayre's orchestra played. The children returned home at 9:30 o'clock in a special car provided by The Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company. Members of the lodge and their friends were entertained at a dance afterwards.

About 300 guests attended the supper and entertainment given by the Sons of St. George in the St. Stephens Parish house. A program of music and speaking was carried out following the banquet, the entertainment being concluded with a dance. Dr. Edward B. Andrews, of the American Guild of Health, in East Liverpool for a series of special meetings, made an address.

The Temple Sisterhood of the B'nai Israel Temple, celebrated the day serving a turkey dinner to 300 persons.

The Knights of Columbus entertained with patriotic program and smoker in their rooms in the Ingram building.

as it went," meaning he thought Mr. Coolidge should have gone even further and recommended the recall of last January's action.

Only a handful of the ardent proleague and pro-court senators found fault with Mr. Coolidge's expressed attitude. Senator Bruce (D.), of Maryland, said the court "will outlive the president's valedictory."

Little Criticism in London.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Despite its nationalistic tone and sharp, caustic comments on European affairs, the speech of President Coolidge at the dedication of the Liberty War Memorial at Kansas City yesterday, has met with general approval and comparatively little criticism in British government circles.

One prominent government official who preferred that his name be not used, characterized the speech as follows:

"President Coolidge's address is essentially an extremely sensible utterance made by a patriotic American. There is nothing in the speech to which we could legitimately object as a government.

"President Coolide's remarks about the Armistice ending the war are eminently just. We agree perfectly with him regarding the necessity of dropping recriminations between nations.

"As to America's part in the war, Mr. Coolidge is perfectly right in taking the attitude he has adopted, while his criticisms upon the old time "armed camp" of Europe are unanswerable."

Great Britain is not surprised by President Coolidge's announcement that America is through with the world court unless the senate's reservations are adhered to.

"His announcement regarding the world court doesn't take us by surprise," the official said. "We have known his attitude for months. The only point where the president does stop on open and debatable ground is in his reference to American prosperity, and his indirect references to debts."

President Coolidge urged the American people, in his address, not to be ashamed of their prosperity, and ascribed the alleged unpopularity of Americans abroad to the fact that America was a creditor nation.

French Newspapers Silent.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—The French newspapers printed President Coolidge's Armistice Day speech at length, but in the main refrained from any comment on its interpretation.

Geneva Interpretations.

GENEVA, Nov. 12.—In authoritative league of nations circles here President Coolidge's Armistice Day speech at Kansas City yesterday is interpreted as definitely barring the United States from membership in the world court.

It was declared that the present members of the world court can not gracefully make more concessions to the United States than those made at the Geneva signatory conference in September.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Industrial stocks and high priced specialties staged a modest "demonstration" in the early trading today by way of emphasizing Wall street's hearty approval of the extra dividend of $4 a share ordered by the directors of General Motors corporation. The stage was set for the squeezing of the shorts in some of the market favorites, and the bears beat a rapid retreat as stocks in this group were marked up 2 to 5 points above yesterday's close.

Thomas Lewellyn Home in Minerva Street is Looted

Home of Thomas Llewellyn, upper Minerva street, was looted between 7 and 9 o'clock last night while members of the family were absent.

Entrance to the house was made by jimmying a window leading into the bath room located on the first floor, Patrolman Herman Roth found upon investigation.

The loot included a wrist watch, 38 caliber revolver, two ladies' rings, pearl necklace, money bank, bank book, man's ring, pair tan oxfords, pair lady's black satin slippers, men's gloves and handkerchiefs.

Police believe boys were responsible.

in order to give the community, now in the township, "improvements which are sorely needed." He declared that the residents of the township work or have business interests in the city and as a result are really a part of the municipality.

"The city is short of sites for homes and factories and the only available space is that in the township," Cawood said. Upon cross-examination by Brokaw, Cawood said that the land which the city proposes to annex is not totally "built-up."

J. W. Newman, teller at the First National bank, and resident of Maplewood, said he favored the move, for it would give that community not only city water but also street lights as well as police and fire protection. He said that he had full confidence that the city officials will provide these advantages if the annexation plan should be sanctioned. He was cross-examined by Boyd.

Librarian Testifies.

Harry Thompson, manager of the decorating departments of the East End plants of the Homer Laughlin China company, testified that he wanted to come into the city for the advantages which would be offered by having city water and fire protection. He said that the difference of 3.1 mills in the tax rat would be a good investment. The witness expressed the opinion that two men might be kept on duty at the Northside fire station instead of one if annexation were successful.

Miss Hall, librarian at the Carnegie Library, said that the library was open to all residents of the city and that non-residents were permitted to use the institution by paying a $1 fee per year. She said that her salary was paid by the city. Upon cross-examination by Boyd, Miss Hall explained that the Carnegie Library board was the governing body of the institution.

William B. Louthan, secretary-treasurer of the Louthan Manufacturing company and a resident of the Park boulevard, said he would have no objection to coming into the city of the water mains were extended to his home. Upon cross-examination—by Brokaw, the witness said he believed that a majority of the residents would sign contracts for city water if the mains were constructed.

Joseph Thompson, who is employed by the Hall China company, said that he was preparing to erect a home on property which he recently acquired on the Park Way road and that he was anxious to obtain city water before he built. He said that fire insurance costs $1 more per thousand in the township than it would if the territory were in the city and had fire protection.

Harry Deidrick, Maplewood potter, said he favored coming into the city for he wanted city water, street lights and fire protection. He said that the improvements would be well worth the difference in the tax rate.

W. H. Powell, Jennings avenue contractor, testified that he found it hard to sell property located outside the city limits because there is no fire protection. He said that the water lines were laid past his place and that he had the advantages of city water but had no fire protection. The witness expressed the opinion that the city would be justified in charging non-residents of the city 10-percent additional over the city rates for water.

Adjournment at Noon.

A. W. Crawford, wholesale produce dealer, who resides in Park boulevard, said that he favored annexation. He stated that he would like the advantage of city water.

Other residents of the township and city officials were to testify this afternoon.

Robert Sample appears as Blumberg, a theatrical producer.

Other comedians include three stage hands, "Juice," "Props" and and "Charlie," the stage carpenter—William Hayes, Edwin McGraw and Vincent Broomhall. Miss Eileen Todd will essay the role of Gladys Van Tine, a specialty dancer, while Earl Reese will be Graig Randall, Christine's lover. The part of Paul Gartin, a Broadway idol, will be played by Virgil Hasson; Blossom, a Broadway stage director, by Kenneth Berg; Mr. Porter, by James McNutt; Fritz, a music pupil, by Ralph Jones and the doorman, by Ralph Hall.

Choruses of "Spotlight Girls," "Bobbed Haired Flappers," "Charleston Dancers," "Follies" and others will also take part.

The play will be offered in three scenes, the first and third being the home of Emil Kronheim in New Hassel, a small town in Pennsylvania and the second will be the stage of a Broadway theatre. Elaborate costumes and scenic equipment will be supplied by the Rogers Producing company.

Tickets for the play may be purchased at the three Carnahan drug stores, East End, Newell and down town, at the Bulger drug store; from members of the cast or any member of the DeMolay.

Committees in charge of the show are:

General production—Robert R. Kevan and Robert G. Bloor.

Program and advertising — Julius Erlanger, Russell Heddleston, Jr., and Robert Kenney.

Talent—Glenn Robert and George Allison.

increase their acreage by 15 per cent. How much wheat would they plant were the price $2.49, which the farmers feel they ought to have? And where would the government get money to buy the surplus $2.49 wheat?

Farmers can help their wheat situation by backing Secretary Hoover's plan for a canal to the gulf through the Mississippi valley and another from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic ocean.

That would make every bushel of wheat worth from six to 18 cents more.

Since the war railroads have raised rates six to 18 cents a bushel, and surplus American wheat on its way to Liverpool pays that tax.

Argentine and ——anan wheat has the six to 18 cents advantage per bushel over American wheat at Liverpool, where the price is made.

THINGS are done differently in different countries. When some German bankers got into trouble they committed suicide. Here they would have gone to Europe.

In Japan, an important official is accused of dishonesty. His friends send him a pine coffin containing a neatly made tray and on it a sharp knife in a white scabbard. It is a knife for committing hari-kari. The Japanese is politely requested to rip open his abdomen and die.

HERE, statesmen accused of stealing a naval oil reserve, and requested to come to court, say that the constitution is outrageously violated. They think it was made to protect such innocence as theirs.

Hall-Mills Defense Hit

He said that he had expected the official records of Willie Stevens' fingerprints would be taken to Middletown but he did not know they were taken, by Mayor or anyone else.

"After you got that card, did you suggest sending it out to Middletown?" asked McCarter.

"No."

"When did you heart it had been taken to Middletown?"

"The same day."

"Where had the card been between the time in July it was given you and August 17, when it was taken to Middletown?"

"In a steel cabinet in my office in New York. It was wrapped in waxed paper."

First "Break" in Story.

McCarter asked the editor how much money the New York Mirror spent on their investigation shortly before the arrest of Mrs. Hall.

Simpson objected asserting that McCarter was "drawing a red herring across the case," and confusing the jury.

Judge Parker overruled the question.

McCarter sought to bring out that the first "break" in the story was when Arthur S. Riehl brought suit for annulment of his marriage to Louise Geist Riehl, former maid in the Hall home, and that "an attorney for the corporation which employs you drew up the petition for the annulment."

Simpson interrupted with an objection shouting."

"The first 'break' in this case was when Eleanor Mills' throat was cut."

Barbara Tough on Stand.

Barbara Tough, the chatty Scot woman who for seven years was Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall's personal maid, was recalled to the witness stand.

She had previously told in her drawling manner that Mrs. Hall was out of the Hall home at 10 o'clock on the night four years ago when the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were slain. The time of the crime has been fixed at 10:30 p. m.

Miss Tough looked directly at Prosecutor Alexander Simpson as he began to shoot questions at her.

Simpson asked her the name of the "Guild Girls" who were gossiping about Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills in the church of St. John the Evangelist of New Brunswick.

The defense objected to testimony regarding gossip.

"I will get the information elsewhere—that's all."

Senator Clarence Case, of defense counsel, walked to the witness stand and put his hand on the railing as he cross-examined Miss Tough.

"Did you see anything unusual in the Hall home on the night of the murder?" Case asked.

"No."

"In going upstairs that night at 10 o'clock you didn't go anywhere near the bedroom of Dr. and Mrs. Hall?"

"No," replied the maid.

"Danny" Mills is Spectator.

Watching the proceedings for the first time was "Danny" Mills, 16-year-old son of James Mills, who sat next to his sister, Charlotte.

Mrs. Hall sat pale and quiet and garbed in black in the prisoners' dock. Henry Stevens looked fresher than on other days in a new blue suit. Willie was dressed as usual in a gray suit.

Pearl Bahmer, who had been subpoenaed by the defense to appear in court today, was not among the early arrivals. The defense plans, it is said, to use the girl to batter down the state's theory of the crime.

One Slain as She Returns From Music Lesson—Another Probably Fatally Wounded as She Walks Home.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—A maniac killer who has shot two school girls within the past 48 hours, killing one and probably fatally injuring the second, was being hunted by the authorities here today.

Victoria Delimata, 16, was the first victim. She was shot and instantly killed Wednesday night while returning home from a music lesson. Twenty hours later, Esther Haas, 13, was shot as she walked home from school. Her condition is critical.

Circumstances surrounding both shooting were identical. The same calibre pistol was used in each instance. The fact that both shootings occurred in the same section of the city led investigators to believe that one person committed both crimes.

A former inmate of the Kankakee State Insane hospital, living in the neighborhood, is being sought for questioning. The absence of any motive for the strange attacks suggests the theory that a maniac with a penchant for killing young girls is abroad.

Residents of Chicago Heights, where both shootings occurred, are terrified. Many parents have refused to allow their children to leave the house, pending the arrest of the mysterious assassin. Others are sending their children to and from school under heavy guard.

BARNEY THOMAS IS FINED $25

Barney Thomas was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today after he was found guilty upon charge of the illegal possession of intoxicating liquors.

Thomas is alleged by the police to have been seen leaving a home in Broadway at 1 o'clock this morning, enter the Thompson Hotel, and hand another man a half pint of corn liquor. He was arrested by Patrolman Roth.

NORWALK TO GET MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEET

Miss Margaret Palmer Speaks in Methodist Episcopal Church.

Annual convention of the Women's Home Missionary society of the North-East Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church which has been in session at the First Methodist Episcopal church since Wednesday afternoon, is scheduled to close today with the election of officers and the selection of next year's meeting place. The 1927 convention will be held in the Norwalk district, but the city has not been determined.

Last evening's session was featured by an address by Miss Margaret Palmer, Scranton, national field secretary, who discussed a school for Mexican children which she conducted near Hollywood, California. Musical numbers were rendered by a mixed quartet, consisting of Miss Mildred Weaver, Prof. W. A. Macdonald, Mrs. Robert Weinhardt and Rowland T. Kaufman. Mrs. J. J. Wyeth lead the devotional exercises.

Rev. Mr. Grimmage, in charge of the Friendship Community center in Cleveland, discussed his work among colored people at the afternoon meeting. A children's hour followed, after which Mrs. J. W. Dowds, Cambridge, conducted a Floral Garden in which she presented work among children. Mrs. L. E. Coffman was the final speaker.

Work of the organization in the Halloway, Byesville and Pearl Street institutions at Youngstown and other deaconesses homes were presented at the morning session by six speakers. Committees were appointed.

Haskin's Letter

agree to it readily and blandly enough, but when it comes to a showdown they demonstrate that they lack what sociologists would term class or group consciousness and loyalty. In other words, to borrow a term from the lexicon of labor controversies, they "scab" on one another.

One grower, who finds himself in a hard way financially because of the present situation, says to himself. "Now, everybody has agreed to cut down his acreage next year, which will mean a short crop and higher prices. The smart thing for me to do is to raise just as much cotton as I did this year, or even a little bit more, and I'll profit by the high prices." And he acts accordingly. He thinks he will be one of the few who know the smart thing to do. When next year's crop estimates are out he learns that he has a lot of company!

Pity, Rather Than Censure.

There are extenuating circumstances and reasons for this grower. He, and everyone who loks at the world through a similar knothole, is more to be pitied than censured. In the first place, he did not intentionally contribute to an unusually large cotton crop this year. He planted only the acreage that he though would yield him a normal crop. He did not figure on so much cotton per acre, nor upon what an acre might produce under the most favorable conditions.

He realized only too well, from past experience, what he might expect, taking into consideration the usual weather conditions, the prospective ravages of the boll weevil, and the many other hazards of cotton growing. It wasn't his fault that there happened to be unusually fine cotton-growing weather this season, that the boll weevil seemingly did not try to get in his deadly work, and that all other conditions worked out to produce him a banner crop. It never occurred to him that if his acres yielded him more cotton than ever before he would have to sell his crop at less than it cost him to raise and market it.

It is very hard for this grower—and his name is legion—to learn that it is to his own interest to conform to the acreage-curtailing proposition. He'd do it if he were only sure that his neighbors and all the other cotton growers would conform. He just doesn't want to be left out when the pie or the cake is being cut and passed around!

Happily, through real concerted effort, it is promised that now there will be a curtailment of the cotton acreage next year. Local bankers and merchants who extend credit to the cotton growers can and will see to it that every man to whom they extend credit plants only the number of acres he is supposed to plant. They will look after that part of the solution of the cotton problem.

And to recalcitrants they will point out the stubborn fact that in 1921 the average yield per acre was 124 pounds of cotton, while in 1926 it was 176 pounds, with resultant disaster, the difference on the total acreage of the United States being almost exactly the four million excess bales. "Cut down your acreage or don't raise so much per acre!" they will insist.

BREAKS A COLD IN A FEW HOURS

First dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves all grippe misery

Don't stay stuffed-up!

Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils or nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only thirty-five cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute.

Increasingly heavy traffic on its 20,000 miles of highways that were neglected during and since the war, has caused the government of Austria to plan a road improvement campaign that will cost $12,000,000 for the first stage.

People speak of having a "bad cold" as if there were any good ones.—Fostoria Times.

COAL MEN SEE OIL DEPLETION WORRYING U. S.

Bituminous Conference Will Study New Fuel Production.

France and England Will be Represented at Session.

PITTSBURGH.—German scientists who lead the world in coal research and the production of fuel oil from soft coal will lay their information before the International Conference on Bituminous Coal, called here for November 15, President Thomas S. Baker, of Carnegie Institute of Technology, sponsor of the conference, said today.

Methods and processes envolved by Dr. Fredrich Bargius and Prof. Franz Fischer, the German delegates, will be carefully considered by the conference in its effort to arrive at an economical solution of soft coal problems Baker declared.

Even France and England, which also will be represented at the conference, have made for more progress with their coal problems than the United States, it was pointed out, but this is because the foreign countries have not the wealth of petroleum available to this country.

Petroleum Problems.

Because of the scarcity of petroleum existing for years in the European countries they attacked the problems of producing fuel oil from coal while the United States was enjoying the benefits of a natural supply of petroleum, but Carnegie Institute officials point out that the knowledge that our oil supply is limited has caused an awakening of American fuel technologists.

With the Bergin method the greater part of a given quantity of coal is converted into liquid fuel. A mixture of pulverized coal and petroleum is heated to a temperature of about 700 degrees Fahrenheit in an atmosphere of hydrogen under pressure. Under these conditions the greater part of the coal is converted into liquid products which may be separated into approximately one-third each of heavy gasoline. Diesel engine oil, and fuel oil.

Fischer, who is director of coal research at Mulheim-Ruhr, has made a liquid fuel oil which he calls "synthol" by heating water gas under similar high pressure in the presence of a catalyptic material. "Synthol" is a mixture of alcohol, aldehydes and hydrocarbons. It already has been used successfully in automobile engines as a substitute for gasoline, according to reports.

Make Alcohol From Coal

Scarcely less widely known than Bergius and Fischer is Gen. Georges Patart, of Paris, who has invented a process for making alcohol from coal. He will represent France at the conference.

England's delegation includes Dr. C. H. Lander, director of fuel research of the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, Dr. R. Lessing, fuel technologist, Geoffrey M. Gill, consulting engineer and gas specialist, and Harold Nielson, inventor of the L. & N. process.

What the United States can offer in helping solve the problem of a waning petroleum supply will be presented by a large number of American engineers and scientists who have made important investigations and invented successful processes.

While the problem of obtaining fuel oil from soft coal probably will receive the most attention, the conference will be split up into special sessions at intervals, for the discussion of such problems as the complete gasification of coal, high temperature distillation, coal tar products, power and fertilizers, it was announced. The smokeless fuel problem of big cities also will be given a prominent place on the agenda.

World production of rayon for this year will exceed 200,000,000 pounds.

WELLSVILLE RED CROSS ROLL CALL BEGINS ON NOV. 21

SCOUT TROOPS WILL DO MAJOR PART OF WORK

COSTS DOLLAR

Local Unit Contributed To County Tornado Relief Fund.

With Boy Scout troops doing a major portion of the work, Wellsville's annual Red Cross Roll Call campaign will get under way on Sunday, November 21, committee members announced today.

The Scouts, including four troops of 120 boys, will work under the direction of their scoutmasters, Harold Driggs, of the Methodist Protestant church; Grattan V. Dugan, of the Immaculate Conception church; Stewart Parker, of the United Presbyterian church, and S. E. Daw, of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The roll call organization this year is not asking for large donations from any individual or group of individuals, but feels that interest in the movement would be carried to a greater extent if each person in the city should contribute just a dollar.

No definite quota has been fixed, it was pointed out. Efforts will be made to obtain as many memberships as possible until the close of the campaign on Thanksgiving Day.

The Wellsville Red Cross organization contributed $100 to the county tornado relief fund and a smilar amount to the Florida relief fund and, as a result, the treasury is at a somewhat lower ebb than in former years.

Schools Conclude American Education Week Observance

Annual observation of American Education week, which has been under way in the local schools this week, will close today.

Programs in keeping with the spirit of the observance, which is sponsored by the American Legion and the National Department of Education, was carried to the students through English classes.

Okeh Record No. 40664, "How Many Times?" and 'Who Wouldn't?' fox trot, with chorus by Ray Stilwell, of Wellsville, on sale at Bert's Piano and Repair Shop, 1513 Main street. Phone 492-J.

Local Gridiron Fans Off to Capital for Ohio-Michigan Tilt

Wellsville will not be without its customary quota of football lovers Saturday at Columbus when Ohio State and Michigan battle in the Capital City stadium in the game that probably will decide Big Ten championship honors for the season.

Among those from this city who will take in the game are Mr. and Mrs. Martin T. Abbott, Edward T. Fogo, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McMillan, S. E. Daw, Misses Nan and Helen Stevenson, Dr. J. M. King, Bernard Purinton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hibbins, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Aughinbaugh, Miss Kathryn McKim, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Arnold and others.

LEGION HOLDS PARADE, MEET

Civil War Vets, Scouts Aid in Observance Here.

Wellsville post 70, American Legion, held its annual Armistice day celebration yesterday, a street parade, followed by a smoker, being the chief features of the observance.

Approximately fifty American Legionnaires and other ex-service men, in uniform, formed the nucleus of the street parade. In the line of march also were 125 or more Boy Scouts, members of the four local troops.

Veterans of the Civil war and Legion auxiliary members rode in automobiles.

The procession was headed by the American Legion band.

After traversing the principal streets of the city the marchers wound up at the Legion rooms in Main street where luncheon was served by the Legion auxiliary. Boy Scouts and Civil war vets were the organization's guests.

Adrresses were given by R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church and Victory Free, newspaperman.

LISBON—

FREIGHT WRECK IS CLEANED UP

Through traffic over the Pennsylvania railroad lines near Stratton, a few miles south of Wellsville, which were badly torn up Tuesday afternoon when a string of ten ore cars were wrecked, was resumed early this morning over temporary rails.

Passenger and freight traffic was at a standstill Tuesday night following the wreck but transfers were put in operation on Wednesday and this system was in effect until this morning.

Tracks were torn up for a distance of 200 yards, although no one was injured.

Cast to Give Matinee Today for School Children.

Presented before a capacity house that frequently indicated its approval, "Kathleen," a John Rogers production that was given its premiere by a cast of 150 high school and grade students last night in the high school auditorium, unquestionably went over as one of the most successful stage hits that has yet been performed by students here.

Little in the nature of flaws was to be found with the work of the principals in the enactment of their various parts as the plot was unfolded on the stage. "Lines" worked almost faultlessly and a perfect schooling showed in the precision with which the principals made their appearances.

The part of Kathleen O'Day, the leading feminine role, found perfect expression by Miss Evelyn Fassett, playing opposite Earl Eschbacher, who, as Jimmie Stanton, was exceptionally good. The roles of Miss Flossie Neverset and Ned Rollingston, in the hands of Miss Ina Daw and Don Brannan respectively, were well played and the same can be said for Richard Haugh as Teckley Bramble, as Lem Underbuck; Vaugh McMorrow, as Hans Swindler, the proprietor of the village grocery, all of whom were prominent in comedy roles; Arabella Wilkins, by Katherine Satow, and Michael Flynn, by Verle Mellott.

Musical scores were bright and catchy. Among the song hits were "Every Road is the High Road," by Kathleen and Jimmy; "Love Light," by Ned and Flossie; "Deduction," by Arabelle, Lem and Hans; "Kathleen," by Jimmy, and "Don't Forget," by Kathleen.

Group movements were executed well throughout the playlet. A matinee will be given this afternoon for school children in addition to tonight's performance.

Rev. John Solomon, Pittsburgh, To Lecture at U. P. Church Sunday

Will Discuss "The Lord's Supper in the Light of the Jewish Passover."

Rev. John Solomon, a Hebrew Christian, of Pittsburgh, Pa., will deliver an address on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First United Presbyterian church here, according to announcement by Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor.

Rev. Solomon is scheduled to speak on the subject, "The Lord's Supper in the Light of the Jewish Passover."

The lecture will be illustrated with the original emblems as used in the passover service of the Jewish people The table will be set for the passover supper. On it will be placed a series of objects, each one of particular significance.

John Solomon was born in Europe, of strictly orthodox Jewish parents. His acquaintance with Jewish manners and customs qualify him for his lectures.

The services will be public.

TWO FREED IN KENNEY DEATH

Rocco Carbicella, However, is Held on Charge of Murder.

Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, at a special hearing at Lisbon today to determine whether not sufficient evidence warranted the detention of three men on charges of murder in connection with the death of Patrolman James Kenney in Wellsville on May 17, last, held one of the suspects without bond and dismissed charges against the others.

Rocco Carbicella was held on the murder count, while his brother, Bennie Carbicella, and Joseph Fusco, were freed.

Several witnesses were heard.

termed the hearing a "fishing expedition" on the part of the defense, told the court that the state had not submitted all is evidence.

YELLOW CREEK CHURCH PROGRAM

Services will be held Sunday at the usual hours in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church, according to announcement by Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor.

There will be preaching at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school will convene at 10 a. m., and young people will meet at 7 p. m., with Mrs. J. A. Fraser and Mrs. W. A. Falconer as leaders.

Prof. J. H. Dickason will appear in the third number of the church's lecture course on Wednesday evening, November 17. His subject will be, "A Message from No. 16542."

Rev. Stewart will preach in the Long's Run Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Sunday school will convene at 1:30 p. m.

SCOUTS SEEK BUDGET SHARE IN DRIVE HERE

Four Local Troops Will Make Campaign Saturday.

County Scout Executive Will Supervise Work.

Arrangements have practically been perfected for the one-day drive to be conducted here Saturday by the city's four Boy Scout troops for the purpose of obtaining Wellsville's share of the county Scout budget.

The drive will get under way at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and Scouts will canvass the streets throughout the day.

The Wellsville Scouts' part of the county budget was $1,060. Of this amount approximately half has been raised thus far. It is hoped to obtain the remainder Saturday.

This fund is used to finance the summer camp and other expenses of the organization.

Local Scout backers assert that it is important that the campaign be carried through to a successful conclusion.

Rhuark Wins Place On 75-piece Band At Ohio Northern

Ellwood Rhuark, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rhuark, a student at Ohio Northern university, is a member of the Norsemen's band, one of the foremost musical organizations in the Ohio conference.

Rhuark is a junior this year and is also affiliated with the Kappa Chi's, pharmaceutical fraternity.

As a member of the 75 piece band, he has enjoyed trips this fall to Bellefontaine, Kenton, Lancaster, Athens and Saturday will go to Dayton.

Kiwanians to Hear Movie Discussion At Tuesday's Meet

Wellsville Kiwanis club members will hear a discussion of moving picture topics at their next noon meeting Tuesday in the First Presbyterian church. A representative of a Cleveland moving picture concern has been scheduled to speak, it was announced today.

S. E. Daw, secretary of the Wellsville club, addressed members of the Salineville organization at their noon meeting yesterday.

Branham-Edwards Company Submits Low Proposal.

The lowest bid, $100,756.06, submitted to the state road commission for the grading and draining of the three-mile section of the Lincoln highway from Chester to the Pennsylvania state line, was that of the Branham-Edwards Construction company of Clarksburg, it was announced today.

Second lowest bidder was the Kecley Construction company, whose estimate was $121,057.31. Eight other firms, including the H. E. Bunce company, who hold the contract for the other section of the road, submitted estimates.

Contract will be awarded at the meeting of the state road commission to be held Monday at Charleston.

CORN BORER BAN TO BE CONTESTED

Commissioner of Agriculture John W. Smith yesterday denied that the corn borer, complained of to the federal department of agriculture which is threatening to quarantine West Virginia corn, broom corn, and corn products, against interstate shipment, is present anywhere in the state, except perhaps in one small section in the upper Panhandle. Mr. Smith said that he did not know of the existence of the borer in the state at all, but he had received a report that it had appeared. This is being investigated.

The commissioner's denial came in answer to a press dispatch from Washington which said that the quarantine was under consideration for both West Virginia and Indiana, adding that a public hearing would be held in Washington November 17 to decide the matter.

Mr. Smith said that he had not been officially notified of the hearing, but he expects to send a man from the department to represent West Virginia's interests.

The borer complained of is said to be a European species recently brought to this country and has no relation to the corn borer moth which recently swarmed around the down town building in Charleston in large quantities. The moths which appeared here are quite common all over the country, it was said at the department, and while it feeds some on corn, the damage is not great. This moth, it was said, feeds on any kind of grain or grass and covers such a wide territory that its damage is not seriously considered.

MASONIC LODGE OFFICERS NAMED

Grand treasurer, S. N. Myers, Martinsburg; grand secretary, George M. Ford, Wheeling; grand lecturer, Prescott C. White, Morgantown; grand chaplain, the Rt. Rev. L. Gravatt, Charleston; grand captain of host, Lawrence G. Kincheloe, Clarksburg; grand principal sojourner, Carney M. Layne, Huntington; grand royal arch captain, John W. Berry, Thurmond; grand tiler, Edwin K. Stout, Clarksburg.

FOOTBALL FANS TO ATTEND GAME

Large crowd of Chester fooball fans plan to witness the game tomorrow afternoon between Chester and East Liverpool high school teams which will be staged at Columbian park, East Liverpool.

Coach Ray Wilde put the local squad through final practice session this afternoon on the high school field.

UNION MEETINGS DRAW LARGELY

Union evangelistic meetings were held last night in the First Presbyterian church. The sermon was given by Rev. R. C. Ehrheart, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. He used for his text, "Be not deceived, God is not Mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." He illustrated the sermon with free hand crayon sketches.

Approximately 150 boys and girls gave a program of songs, Bible drills and yells under the direction of Prof. Ralph E Mitchell. The meeting was the largest attended of the series.

Meeting tonight will take the form of a "Family Night" service and will be held in the First Christian church. Parents are urged to bring their entire families.

JANET NASH WEDS ROBERT MACKALL

Miss Janet Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nash, and Robert E. Mackall, son of Mrs. Dora Mackall, both of Georgetown, were married here Wednesday in the rectory of St. Matthew's Episcopal church by Rev. F. C. Roberts, rector of the church. The ring service was used. Wedding dinner was served at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Burton Trimble in Georgetown, with covers arranged for 14 guests.

The groom is employed at the Crucible Steel plant, Midland, Pa. They will make their home with the bride's mother.

HEALTH CAMP IS GUTTED BY FIRE

WELLSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 12.—Several persons narrowly escaped with their lives here early this morning when fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed Bellview health camp, including 10 cottages, entailing a loss of approximately $10,000.

Dr. H. G. Prentiss, of Baltimore, and his valet, fled from their cottage just before it collapsed in flames.

As no fire-fighting apparatus was available all but a few remote cottages were destroyed.

To Attend Institute.

Number of farmers from this section plan to attend the institute to be held next week in Pughtown under the auspices of Fairview Grange. Number of prominent agriculturists will make addresses.

GOOD NEWS — GOOD NEWS — That's exactly what this Immense Bargain Giving Event means to you. But to us it means a Tremendous Sacrifice—A giving away of seasonable merchandise at a time when sales should be at their height. The reason for this drastic action is that unseasonable weather has found us with a great overstock of Winter Merchandise—much too heavy for this time of the year. We must reduce—Mountains of merchandise must be turned into cash—within the next few days. It is true that many weeks of winter yet remain, but that is your good fortune—and our loss. Future purchases must be provided for—WE MUST UNLOAD NOW.

Army-Notre Dame Clash May Determine Gridiron Supremacy

Walsh Picks Irish To Find Weak Spots In Cadets' Defense

Michigan and Ohio State Battle for Big Ten Honors; Stanford Favorite Over Washington; Presidents on Big End of Odds in Annual Tilt With Panther.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—If such there might be in this age of hocus pocus, the heir apparent to the national championship in college football possibly will be thrust into the light of day tomorrow as a result of a series of games of great consequence. However, it is an age of exaggerated values, the "front" is everything, and, for all of me, the well dressed man may be stepping blandly along in a pair of shoes that are spats.

The greatest game of the year will take place in the next twenty-four hours at the Yankee stadium with Notre Dame and West Point as the principals. They are deservedly listed among the leading teams of the country. If either or both has been getting by on a "front," this game will show it. If I was to suspect anyone, it would be the Army.

Picks Notre Dame.

It hasn't the soundest defense in the world and my opinion is that a smart team like Notre Dame will find the hole in the high hat. In case I have failed to make myself clear, I think the Irish will win. So do the Irish.

It may be that some of these other unbeaten teams have been wearing a waiter's "dickey" at the banquet. If so, the meetings involving Michigan and Ohio State, the Navy and Georgetown, Tennessee and Alabama, Stanford and Washington and Boston college and Haskill Indians may leave some high class folks feeling rather naked.

Michigan-State Battle.

If it wasn't for the fact that Northwestern is very much in the running, the Michigan-Ohio State game would definitely determine the winner of the Big Ten title. Michigan already has been discountenanced by the Navy but it showed last Saturday that it was on the way back and now anything can happen. I wouldn't attempt to call this one, in spite of the fact that Ohio State has been well rested and is rarin' to go.

They probably are the two best teams in the conference but Northwestern can hardly go wrong with only Chicago and Iowa to beat. Still, it may be that Northwestern is picking up a live one in Chicago tomorrow, for the season doesn't exist in which Stagg fails to make at least one winning gesture.

The Navy, I think, is the 1926 team of destiny and, therefore, will take Georgetown like the cat took chloroform. Florida should be a push-over for Alabama but the remaining unbeaten team of the South, Tennessee, will have to be as good as its record implies to head off a greatly improved Vanderbilt eleven.

Stanford proved to be the best team on the coast when it came from the rear to beat Southern California, yet the Warner entry is not foolproof defensively and may be another of those outfits that are all "front." If so, Washington may furnish the expose, although I must admit that the latter doesn't look the part.

The truth about Boston college, which has beaten everyone in general but none in particular, also may come to the surface during the game with Haskell.

Brown Should Win.

The Indians by long odds are the best team Boston College has seen this year. Sowhow, I fear the worst here.

The same feeling might be lavished on the undefeated Brown team if it wasn't for the fact that the writer witnessed Harvard's ineptitude last week. Brown has enjoyed a siesta since the Dartmouth game and should win.

Syracuse and Colgate will furnish their annual drag-out, with no chance possible as the winner. Another good one will be Nebraska and Kansas Aggies with the valley conference title somewhere in the offing. I like Nebraska. However, Missouri should come back at the expense of Washington and remain right up with the pace.

Presidents Favored.

The Pittsburgh-W. and J. affair is another "natural," with the Presidents my choice, provided anyone cares. New York University, another national contender, would appear to have drawn a "breather." That is, provided N. Y. U. is as good as they say it is. However, there will be no breathing done during the Pennsylvania-Columbia and Cornell-Darmouth meetings.

Oh, yes, Princeton and Yale are to meet as representatives of what the comedians used to call the big three. Watch this one closely. Princeton is a natural favorite. Yale has a fighting chance, but no more.

ALL-AMERICAN GRID CANDIDATES

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

This is the day of specialization in football, as in other things. In offering the name of Henry Chauncey, Harvard backfield member, as worthy of consideration for an All-American place we take this into consideration. Chauncey's claims to fame rests with his trusty toe. He is Hardvard's drop kick artist and punter. Because of his great work as a kicker he does not play through the greater part of the games but is called in to stem the opposing tide with a well timed punt out of danger or to calk up a goal from the field.

CHARLES ROGERS

HENRY CHAUNCY

Chauncey would at least demand consideration in the selection of such reserve material in addition to the regular playing backfield.

"All Pennsylvania needs to have a wonderful team is another Rogers," is the way one scribe lauds the Pennsylvania halfback, the outstanding figure on the Quake eleven.

He has helped make Pennsylvania one of the greatest scoring machines in the east, to show his offensive worth. He takes the leading role in executing the "magic" plays of the team, in which deception alone makes or breaks the play. In addition to this he is a great defensive player.

OLD S. R. O. SIGN OUT AT STATE

2,000 Extra Admissions for Standing Room go on Sale

COLUMBUS, Nov. 12.—Thirty five gridders, Coach "Hurry Up" Yost and trainers who will represent Michigan in the football classic of the year at Ohio stadium here tomorrow, arrived early today and were hurried to the Columbus Athletic club where they will make their headquarters until Saturday night.

This afternoon they will run through a final drill at the stadium. They will be followed by Coach Wilce's proteges from Ohio State, and then all will be set for the greatest sporting spectacle in Ohio's history.

Every train coming to the city today brought hundreds for the game. All hotels were being flooded with requests for reservations but not a room was available.

Announcement of the sale of 2,000 extra admissions for standing room in the uppermost tier of the stadium was welcome news to fans, and it was predicted today there will be several times that number waiting when the first of the ducats is offered an hour before game time.

Collins Goes Hunting.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—Eddie Collins, deposed manager of the Chicago White Sox, thought so little of his dismissal by Charles A. Comiskey that he went duck shooting today, according to the statement of Mrs. Collins. She said she didn't expect Eddie to return before evening and that she had no idea what his plans for next season might be.

Stage Chester Clash On East End Gridiron

Interest in Saturday Battle Between Old School Rivals Assures Record Crowd; Blue and White Lineup Indefinite Today; Injuries Take Toll of Linemen; Bromby Doubtful.

Taking rank with the best scholastic football attractions that have been produced here this season the East Liverpool-Chester clash tomorrow afternoon at Columbian park is certain to attract the record crowd of the season to date.

That the contest will be staged on the East End lot was announced today by Coach George Kidder of the Blue and White. Patterson Field, the school's athletic ground, which has been absolutely useless this fall as a result of rains, was originally considered as a possible site for the gridiron production, but this week's usual quota of rain dispelled any hopes to this end.

The Blue and White will go into the fray with two linesmen, Crawford and Smith, idle as a result of injuries. Crawford sustained a fractured wrist Wednesday afternoon in scrimmage session, and Smith is suffering from an injured ankle. Bromby, halfback, afflicted similarly, is in a doubtful condition.

However, Coaches Kidder and Cox are confident they will be able to plug up the holes sufficiently well to turn back the Purple and Gold invasion.

The unusually large amount of good backfield material will make it possible for Kidder to build up the ball carrying quartet acceptably and although Bromby's absence would mean the subtraction of a lot of line punching, there would still be plenty of speed left with Tommy Pusey, VanDyne, McConville, Lincoln, Deidrick and others to take up the burden. Kidder's lineup was indefinite today while Wilde probably will use Miller, Hines, Edwards, DeLong, Cundiff, Dalrymple and Plate on the line, with Hoskinson, Kimble, Bartley and Shaw on the backfield.

The contest will get under way at 3 o'clock.

LIBERTYS PLAY LEETONIA TEAM

Liberty Billiards will hold their final workout tonight at City park in preparation for their game Sunday with the Leetonia Independents at Kelley's park. The squad is asked to report at 6 o'clock.

The Libertys will face the Leetonians without the services of Garvey and Earl Watson, both of whom were injured in the Lisbon contest last week. Their absence will leave big holes in the Liberty lineup. The management, however, hopes to be able to impress "Hop" Stewart, of Maplewood, into service and has requested that he report for practice tonight at 6:30.

The Leetonia outfit is a 155-pound squad and numbers several ex-collegians in the lineup.

A three-cornered playoff for the city title has been proposed by the Liberty management with the East End Blues, the Laughlin China company and the Libertys figuring. Managers of the three teams will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Liberty.

The Libertys are also out with a challenge to the Midland eleven.

Sharkey on Gene's Trail.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, who came into prominence through his victory over Harry Wills, today announced that he was ready to take on various title contenders as a means of getting a championship bout with Gene Tunney. Among others Sharkey mentioned were Harry Persson, of Sweden; Paul Berlenbach, former light heavyweight champion, and Monte Munn, the nimble Nebraskan.

More than 1,500 automobile tires from America were sold in Rumania in the last twelve months.

ROPER REGRETS BIG THREE BREAK

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 12.—"Bill" Roper, coach of the Princeton football team, along with many others at Princeton, regrets the breaking up of the "Big Three" alliance.

"I am sorry to see the 'Big Three' broken up, but I never meddle with what the board of control does," Roper said. 'It's not up to me."

VETS BOW TO TIGERS, 12-0

Toronto Eleven's Weight Too Much for Locals.

LINING up against the Toronto Tigers yesterday afternoon at Smith Field, Chester, with practically an ex-high roster, with but few exceptions, the specially selected Veterans of Foreign Wars football team held the famous Jefferson county combine to a two touchdown victory, the final count being 12 to 0.

The visitors' margin of conquest was represented by one touchdown until the last minute of play when Comer, after a long pass had put the ball in scoring distance, punched it across, four downs being required to make four yards.

The Tigers registered their first score in the opening period following a series of end runs, Romey going across.

The Vets at times ripped big holes in the visitors' line but were unable to maintain their drive, the Tigers stiffening to hold them for downs. Ernest Bucher, ex-high and former Denison star, was the big gun in the Vets' attack, doing most of the ground gaining for the locals.

The weight of the Toronto outfit was too big a handicap for the Vets to overcome.

| Toronto Tigers | | Veterans |
|---|---|---|
| Smith | L.E. | Cox |
| Rhoades | L.T. | Kidder |
| Rhoades | L.G. | Coleman |
| Hinkle | C. | Cox |
| Conley | R.G. | Kinsey |
| Gerace | R.T. | Dunlap |
| Mundy | R.E. | Howard |

Substitutions—Finley for Reese; Benedict for Hinkle.

Touchdowns—Romey, Comer.

Referee, Bossen; umpire, Bricelin; head linesman, Hall.

UP TO HARVARD, SAYS COACH YOST

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 12.—Harvard will have to do the asking if a grid game is arranged with Michigan, it was indicated here today. Little concern over the severing of athletic relations between Princeton and Harvard was shown.

"There has been no mention of a game with Harvard since the break between the two eastern universities," Fielding H. Yost, Michigan director of athletics, said.

Harvard, according to report, was angling for a Michigan game some weeks ago.

PERSHING, DAWES ROOT FOR CADETS

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—General John J. Pershing will be an enthusiastic rooter at the Army-Navy football game here Nov. 27, according to his own admission today.

He will witness the famous service classic from the box of his goou friend, Vice President Charles G. Dawes, another ardent Army fan.

"Dawes and I will be in there rootin' for old Army, you can bet," smiled the famous "Black Jack."

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON.

Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

When the club is swung back with both arms working with a feeling that they are one, the club drops into position at the top with the player well turned away from the ball and standing at comparative ease, thought about the shoulders and in the left arm is a feeling of tension—as if the body had been wound up. This tension is not rigidity, but tightness. You should feel this tightness because it gives solidity to the hitting blow and there cannot be this solidity if the swing is entirely loose and ragged. One of the difficult things to learn is that the club should not be taken back too far. I mean do not strain and pull at yourself in order to get it away back. Stop it short and get the good timing that the more effortless swing will yield. Timing is better than strength, any time.

RODEBAUGH DROPS MATCH TO SMITH

Unable to control the elusive ivories, P. H. Rodebaugh dropped his tourney match to E. Smith last night at the American Billiard parlors. The count was 100 to 76. The victory puts Smith in third place breaking his tie with Herbert. Shaffer and Johannes, lead with perfect scores thus far.

| The standing: | W. | L. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| W. Shaffer | 2 | 0 | 1.000 |
| J. Johannes | 3 | 0 | 1.000 |
| E. Smith | 3 | 1 | .750 |
| L. Herbert | 2 | 1 | .667 |
| B. Shevers | 1 | 2 | .333 |

LISBON GAME IS CANCELLED

Death of Superintendent Geiger Prevents Contest.

Superintendent of Schools S. E. Daw today announced the temporary cancellation of the high school football game with Lisbon tomorrow as a result of the death of Superintendent W. H. Geiger, of the Lisbon schools, which occurred early this morning.

The Orange and Black eleven was scheduled to clash with the central countians on the Lisbon lot in their only game prior to the Thanksgiving day battle with East Liverpool, at the Ceramic City.

As a result of the cancellation, the local eleven will be idle, with the exception of its customary scrimmages and other workouts, until the day of the East Liverpool contest, according to present indications.

Efforts will be made, it was announced, to play off the game with Lisbon, although school authorities were uncertain as to what possible date will be selected.

Salineville Club Holds Shower for Mrs. Louis Tritch

Mrs. Louis Tritch was tendered a miscellaneous surprise shower on Monday evening, by the members of the Euchre club, of the St. Patrick's church, in her home in the Weigle property.

Sixty-five guests were present and spent an enjoyable evening in music, games and dancing, which was followed by a four course luncheon served by the girls of the club.

Mrs. Tritch was the recipient of many gifts. Mrs. Samuel Walker, of East Liverpool, was an out of town guest.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW-TRIBUNE

FINAL EDITION

VOL. XLVII. NO. 7. EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1926. PAGE SEVENTEEN

Princess Does Her Own Scrubbing

Princess Alexandra Victoria.

Cross Atlantic Travel Booms British Trade; Figures Disclosed

LONDON.—Belief that trade depression is giving way before a brighter time is intensified by the figures for North Atlantic passenger traffic figures this year.

The figures relate to the westbound voyages of four of the principal lines, the White Star, Cunard, United States Line and the Canadian Pacific. They cover the period from January 1 to August 31, 1926.

The main fact that emerges is that these companies have carried to the United States or Canada 27,776 more passengers than in the corresponding period of last year, in spite of the fact that there have been fewer sailings.

For 1926 the total is 246,729 against 219,053.

There and back for the same money! Why pay double fare?

Most oils are sold with the caution "when you have used this for 500 miles throw it away and buy some more."

Sterling Oil just begins to get good at 500 miles—it'll take you the 500-mile-limit of other oils and then bring you all the way back again before you need to renew it.

It gives a round trip for the same price of a one way ticket—it costs no more than other oils.

Get the Sterling habit and put back into your pocket this year half the money you usually spend for oil.

Tentative List of New Chairman is Announced.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. — Facing the possibility of trouble in event of retaining nominal control of the senate in the seventieth congress. Republican leaders today began to solidify their party lines by making peace with the little group of insurgent senators.

The first act in the peace program was a tacit agreement that no fight shall be made to prevent Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, leader of the insurgents, from becoming chairman of the judiciary committee in the coming short session of congress. Under the senate's traditional senority rule, Norris will be awarded this chairmanship, succeeding the late Albert B. Cummin, of Iowa.

The attitude of Republican leaders, it was learned, has quieted threats of a revolt aimed at keeping Norris out of the chairmanship because he campaigned in behalf of William B. Wilson, Democratic nominee, in Pennsylvania's recent senatorial election. The leader of this movement was said to be Senator David A. Reed, Republican, of Pennsylvania, but indications were that he found little sympathy for the movement.

The Republican committee on committees will meet within ten days to ratify the selection of Norris as judiciary chairman and of a number of other chairmanships where vacancies were created either by the deaths of Senators Cummins and Bert M. Fernald, of Maine, or by potential promotion. A tentative list of the new chairmen for the short session follows:

Judiciary — George W. Norris, of Nebraska.

Agriculture—Charles L. McNary, of Oregon

Public buildings—Irvine L. Lenroot, of Wisconsin.

Should Phipps be named to the irrigation chairmanship, a new chairman will be named to succeed him as head of the committee on education and labor. His successor would be either Senator James Couzens, of Michigan, or Senator Jesse H. Metcalf, of Rhode Island. Again if Couzens were given this post, a new chairman of the civil service committee would have to be selected for which Senator Porter H. Dale, of Vermont, has the preference over other members under the seniority rule.

The deaths of Cummins and Fernald and the defeats of Senators William M. Butler in Massachusetts and George H. Williams in Missouri will cause another scramble for their posts on senate committees. The principal plum will be a membership on the powerful foreign relations committee, which Butler held, as well as two posts on the interstate commerce committee, which Cummins and Fernald held.

Frenchman Sets New Record Relative to Blood Transfusions

PARIS.—France has a new record holder, Raymond Briez, who during his twenty-nine years of existence has given his blood to those in need on 101 occasions.

Recipients of Briez' blood are said to include the president of a South American Republic, several princes of the blood and many titled persons. At least half, however, have been poor neglected persons without friends.

Briez exacts no money for his services. He cherishes, however dozens of touching letters of thanks.

During the 101 blood transfusion operations to which he has submitted Briez has given approximately six gallons of blood. He gave blood seventeen times during the month of July, and three times in one day.

URGE INDUSTRY TO PUT BRAKES ON TRUST IDEA

W. J. Donovan Cites Danger of Improper Combination.

Believes Evils of Modern Development are Recognized.

WASHINGTON—Good sense alone should prompt the leaders of industry to apply an economic brake to undue combination and consolidation, and particularly to those calculated to violate the competitive principle.

This is the opinion of William J. Donovan, assistant to Attorney General Sargent, who is in charge of the government's anti-trust investigations.

"Banking institutions, upon whose support these expansions must necessarily depend, should direct their effort to that end," Donovan said.

"It is definitely better that the reformation should come from within and corrective methods should be applied by industry itself.

"Certainly there are many indentified with industry who recognize that it is only by the rigid maintenance of the competitive system that ultimate governmental regulation or ownership may be averted."

Sees Evils of System.

Donovan said that the present evils of modern industrial development are coming to be recognized. Resentment towards consolidations are growing as they did against the combinations of the early nineties.

"It is not a fanciful notion that as a result of unrestrained and illegal combination, the people of the country may be aroused to the point of destructive anger so that all consolidations may suffer, those that are economically sound and beneficial as well as those that are uneconomic and prejudicial" Donovan warned.

"It is not difficult to conceive that as a result of huge combinations being illegally formed and arbitrarily administered, government should be forced to interfere and take over and regulate these corporations, even though in so doing there might be developed a bureaucracy in the country with attendant evils greater than those sought to be corrected.

"If that day should come it will be due not so much to the desire of the people of this country to accept socialistic doctrine as it will be to the folly of those, who in their domination of industry, have failed to conform to that principle of competition upon which our economic life has been based."

Notes Differences

Pointing out the differences between the old moves toward big trusts, and those of today, Donovan pointed out that now most of the combinations are for the purpose of securing additional capital. To secure the needed capital these corporations are pursuing the deliberate policy of attracting the small investor.

"We have existing these two factors—one a reservoir of untouched capital, the other industry in its desire to expand seeking this capital," Donovan said.

Properly directed and guided this meeting can be a most happy one for the economic life of the country, but it places a heavy responsibility upon those who are charged with such guidance.

"Those charged with managing business in which the great bulk of the stock is held by individuals who have neither the training nor opportunity of participating in the activity of the business, owe a particularly high obligation to their stockholders."

Wants Enforcement.

Donovan pointed out that legislation enacted against monopolies and combinations which grew during the nineties was prompted by the deep fear in the American people that these combinations constituted a menace to their economic and social organization.

"It may be remarked," he said, "that if existing legislation is adequate to avert the dangers apprehended, it only remains for prosecuting officers to enforce the law in order to insure our safety.

"But the history of recent years reveals that despite the earnest effort made to enforce the law, the trend toward combination has continued.

"This can only mean that the existing laws are not adequate to meet all the varying forms of combination that have been devised; already this fact is a matter of public discussion."

Donovan made it clear, however, that he did not necessarily mean that these combinations not covered by the present laws, are harmful or uneconomic.

LICENSE PLATES NOW BEING ISSUED

Automobile license plates for 1927 are now being issued by the state road commission by application in person, it was announced today. The mailing department has been at work in getting the tags for next year moving for a week, and today about 3,000 plates had been granted.

It is expected that the early moveing of the plates will materially reduce the congestion which usually develops the first of the year. This year, it was said in the license department, getting the plates will be simpler than last year owing to the fact that the ownership certificates have already been granted.

The annual "come early and avoid the rush" was called yesterday for the first time this year. It was said that now it was but a few minutes work to issue the plates over the counter, but towards the end of the year the applicants will have to stand in line.

BIBLE MEETING LAUNCHED HERE

Rev. H. W. Jones, of Grove City, Pa., and Rev. E. M. Fadden, D. D., of Pittsburgh, Pa., were the principal speakers last night at the opening session of the Community Messianic Bible conference in the Second Presbyterian church. The opening address was made by Rev. Frederic A. Dean, pastor of the church.

Rev. John Solomon, of Pittsburgh, Pa., will lecture tonight on "The Lord's Supper in the Light of the Jewish Passover." Rev. W. H. Jones will have as his subject, "Genesis To Revelation."

Community mass meeting will be held on Sunday afternoon which will be addressed by Rev. E. M. McFadden, D. D. His topic will be "The Jew an Asset or a Liability." He will also speak at the evening service in the church on the subject, "We Would See Jesus."

Many Attend Revival.

Revival services in the Oakland Free Methodist church are being largely attended. The sermon last night was delivered by Rev. A. L. Duncan, pastor of the Chester Free Methodist church.

Scouts Meet Tonight.

RAILROAD CUTS IN NEW TRACK

A report from the office of the engineers in charge of Pennsylvania railroad construction in Beaver county, states that the new track at Smith's Ferry was cut in yesterday.

The new track eliminates a section of old track, abandoned by reason of changing the line to conform with new highway construction work at this point, which when completed will eliminate a grade crossing.

There is no radical change of alignment at this place, the new track being laid almost parallel to the old line to conform with the crossing construction, now under way.

Aid Society To Meet.

Members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Regular missionary program will be carried out during the session.

Lodge Members Meet.

Regular meeting of Pennova lodge No. 880, I. O. O. F., met last night in the Hill building, Mulberry street. Routine business was transacted.

DOUBLE ACTING

Makes Baking Easier

No waste of time. No loss of materials. No worry. No danger of bakings falling due to jar of oven door when you use Calumet. It's double acting. Contains two leavening units—one begins to work when the dough is mixed, the other waits for the heat of oven, then both units work together. A sure way to bake-day success, bake-day savings and superior results.

BOUILLON ASKS NEW PACT ON FRENCH DEBT

Foreign Affairs President Expresses Views.

Hesitancy is Proof of Good Faith, He Says.

PARIS.—"My opinion in July was that we should negotiate a new debt agreement with America, or at least introduce into the present agreement bilateral reservations concerning clauses of transfer and of safety. My opinion remains the same."

Deputy Franklin-Bouillon, president of the chamber of foreign affairs commission, thus expressed his opposition to the ratification of the Mellon-Berenger debt accord, in an exclusive interview with International News Service.

Presiding over one of the two chamber commissions which have been asked to examine the accord and report their findings to the chamber of deputies, M. Franklin-Bouillon's opinion carries considerable weight.

"I realize fully the necessity of speedily regulating our debt to America," he continued. "I realize also that a sane policy of monetary stablization requires foreign credits, and such credits can be obtained only after debt settlements have been made.

"But the French parliament cannot assume an engagement which France may not be able to carry out.

"Our American friends ought to understand that our hesitancy in ratifying an accord impossible of execution is really a proof of our loyalty and good faith."

Deputy Franklin-Bouillon belongs to the conservative wing of the Radical Socialist party which holds the balance of power in the chamber. He is considered the bad boy of his party. Usually holding views different than the majority of his party colleagues, he nevertheless contrives to hold his position as one of the leading lights of the group. More than a year ago he recognized the necessity for a political truce and the formation of a National Union cabinet, similar to that over which M. Poincare today presides. He was roundly abused by many of his colleagues who maintained that salvation could be obtained only by the parties of the left working together and alone.

Franklin-Bouillon in 1921 and 1922 carried out a delicate diplomatic mission to Turkey. Before that he made a propaganda tour of the United States and greatly enhanced his reputation as an orator, both in English and in French.

Opposes Cancellation.

The deputy denied that he had ever suggested cancellation of war debts.

"A cancellation campaign, started in Europe, would only defeat its own purposes," he declared. "Such a campaign started in America and emenating from spontaneous American public opinion alone could achieve such ends.

"Our campaign should be confined to the solid ground of clauses of safety and of transfer. We should be content to solicit equitable treatment, taking into account the manner in which our bills were compiled, our capacity to pay and our possibility of transfer.

"Our negotiators at Versailles in 1919 and in Washington this year alone should be held responsible for the failure to have our rights recognized. Though it appears to me that their incapacity was criminal I cannot blame our English and American friends."

Debt is Too High.

M. Franklin-Bouillon took up the argument, so dear to many French politicians, that the total of the American debt is too high, that France is being asked to pay the excess profits of American manufacturers who furnished war materials to France and on which the United States government collected heavy taxes.

"Price exaggerations on war materials were scandalous; graft was prevalent; we paid the taxes levied upon the manufacturers in our purchase price as well as the cost of constructing factories," he said. "Don't you think it would be best to have a careful verification of the bills for these war materials and serious discussion of their amounts?

The Balkite Trickle Charger

and your "A" battery supply "A" radio current from the light socket

The Balkite Trickle Charger can be left permanently connected to your "A" battery and the light socket. Thus it keeps your battery at full charge always and in effect converts it into a light socket "A" power supply. It is the most popular of all methods of charging "A" batteries. Over 200,000 are now in use.

The Balkite Trickle Charger is permanent. It has no tubes and nothing to wear out or replace. It is noiseless in operation and in most cases can be used during reception. Can be used as a trickle charger with any 6-volt "A" battery. With 4-volt batteries as an intermittent charger, or as a trickle charger if a resistance is added. Ask your dealer. Fansteel Products Company, Inc., North Chicago, Illinois.

A PURCHASE FROM YOUR JEWELER IS AN INVESTMENT IN PERMANENT VALUES

IN choosing a gift, ask yourself two questions: What should the gift say? . . . And for how long should it continue the saying?

For a gift is a message from the heart. Its mission is to tell, in beauty and service, what the giver would tell in words.

Choose the gift, therefore, in accordance with the message you would have it carry.

If you intend merely a pretty compliment for the day or the occasion, perhaps you may appropriately choose a short-lived trifle as your offering.

But if lasting fidelity is your message, let the gift reflect the constancy of your thought in its very composition.

"Constancy Gifts," both for the slender and opulent purse, are found most readily at the jewelry store. For the jeweler specializes in jewels. And every item he sponsors must measure up to jewel standards.

There is no finer gift than an Elgin Watch. Featured in a wide style variety and sold at prices ranging from $15 to $1700.

The official trade-slogan of the jewelers of America is: "Gifts that Last." So the sentiment you express through your jeweler is usually expressed "in perpetuity."

If the message you would send in your next gift is worthy of living, say it for a lifetime, with jewelry.

Identify Man's Body Found Stabbed and Weighted in River

CINCINNATI, Nov. 12. — The body found stabbed, bound with rope and weighted down with a block of granite, in the Ohio river yesterday, was identified as that of Everett Heath, 20, of Waynesburg, Ky.

Heath, according to his brother-in-law, Edward Lovelace, who made the identification, was wanted in Birmingham, Ala., for shooting a motorcycle officer in July of 1923.

Police blamed a bootleg feud for the crime.

Heath has relatives in Indianapolis, it was said.

"Peaches" Browning's Court Hearing for Alimony Postponed

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Hearing on the application of Mrs. "Peaches" Browning for $25,000 counsel fees and $4,000 monthly alimony pending trial of her suit for separation from her aged millionaire husband was adjourned until Monday by Justice Morschauser. "Peaches" was in court with her mother, Mrs. Caroline Heenan.

"In the meantime," said the judge to "Peaches," "there are to be no more new hats, new coats or new dresses."

4 Wheel Brakes

This brake system is exclusive to Nash and was engineered to embody the finest features developed by foreign and American 4-wheel brake authorities as well as the superiorities worked out by Nash over an extended period of 4-wheel brake experience.

Among its chief advantages is the fact that the smoothly powerful performance of these brakes is never impaired by climatic changes. And being of the mechanical type they operate with invariable regularity at all temperatures.

Thus Nash eliminates the possibility of the side-sway or skidding on wet or icy roads under rapid brake application which occurs with rear wheel brakes or partially-equalized 4-wheel brakes.

The Woman Who Is Astounding America

Reveals Sensational Secrets of New York's Society

MRS. PHILIP LYDIG
—the first wife of the late W. E. D. Stokes, a New York social leader, and descendent thru her mother of the Spanish Duke d'Alba

A few (of the hundreds) of the newspaper comments published all over the country on Mrs Lydigs articles

Mrs. Philip Lydig is astounding America. At last she opens the door to her life-time of experience—her associations with the men and women of New York's ultra-smart society. Tragedies that make you gasp are given in boldest relief—and in the next breath she tells you of the ridiculous and often amusing aspects of smart New York society.

TODAY a certain woman is famed as a leader of New York social life. Her husband owns one of the world's most valuable collections of art treasures. Her home is a mecca for nabobs and billionaires. Just a few years ago the same woman was a hopeless outcast. But she learned a little secret and started on the way to social prominence. What was the price she paid? How did she finally remove the last obstacle—the man who threatened to expose her methods and even bring her husband to financial failure?

This is only one of many such incidents that Mrs. Lydig gives with astonishing frankness in her article: "Frauds of Smart Society." This article is published exclusively in the December issue of The Red Book Magazine now on sale at all news-stands.

Is the Unwritten Marriage Law Passing?

As Discussed by JUDGE BEN B. LINDSEY

OUT of the hodge-podge of thousands of tangled human relationships, Judge Lindsey has evolved a philosophy so courageous, so removed from old standards—so daring—that the nation is staggered.

People, he declares, are making their own rules and laws, to suit their happiness and needs.

For example, he says—The love triangle is often a happy solution to marriage problems! One's love-life is his own and as long as he hurts no one, Society has no right to criticize or condemn.

That Infidelity is NOT at the root of marital troubles—but lack of fair play and a feeding of green-eyed jealousy.

That Freedom in love affairs, in marriage, leads to a monogamic marriage of itself. You will gasp mentally when you read his article in the December Red Book Magazine—The Moral Revolt; never before has any publication let such frankness go uncensored.

You will suddenly wake up to changes in thought and action that are cropping up all about you!

It is a vital issue—and will be thrust into your own life with tremendous force, if it has not entered already. Which side of the fence are you on—have you the courage to agree with Judge Lindsey?

Who understands people in all their pretense and sham, groping and floundering, better than the author—the real author who does not exaggerate or color—but who paints word-pictures as true and realistic as any snapshot of life!

And never before have we been able to offer you a group of such popular and beloved writers as in this December Red Book Magazine—authors who write of the people of today with a shrewd, understanding that is uncanny in its realism. Such as Rupert Hughes, Owen Johnson, Rita Weiman, Leroy Scott, Virginia Dale, Struthers Burt, Samuel Spewack and others—all names that mean stories that live for you, packed with the pulsating romance of Life—its ecstasies and tragedies.

Laborer Yesterday, Millionaire Today, But Answers Alarm

John B. Bolton, Textile Worker, Who Perfected Semi-rigid Collar, Gets $1,314,241.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—Yesterday John B. Bolton, of this city, was dependent on his salary as a textile worker.

Today he is a millionaire.

Semi-rigid collars brought him the sudden wealth.

The ring of the alarm clock, however, continues to call him to duty. He answered the call of his alarm clock at 6 o'clock today and went to work in a Kensington textile mill as usual.

Bolton perfected a material which would make a collar look stiff but which is actually soft. He gave his patent to John M. Van Heusen, of Boston, who accumulated an immense fortune manufacturing the new collar. Bolton however, claims he received nothing and hence brought suit.

Years of litigation followed. Juries in various courts rendered verdicts for $1,314,241 in Bolton's favor. Appeal after appeal followed. The case was finally settled out of court yesterday and Bolton became America's newest millionaire.

BY KATHARINE BRUSH.

BOOK FIVE—X.

He left her, and she heard him whistling down the hall—heard his voice and Bennett's, remotely, from the kitchen. When he reappeared he bore two long glasses. "Here," he said, giving her one. "Inhale that while I tell you more tidings. Maybe this isn't a red-letter day." He assumed an oratorical stance and with his left hand beat upon his breast so violently that the ice in the glass he held in his right clicked and jumped. "I've been promoted!

"Oh, not far, not far," he hastened to add, laughing at his mother's face. "Don't get all stewed up. I'm not managing editor yet, or anything. But—well, let me begin over."

He perched on the arm of her chair. "When I got back to the office this p. m. I began thinking the situation over, and that bid of Johnny's to the house party he and Peg are throwing right now down near New London began to sound very cagey. Everybody's down there, you know. Johnny and Peg, of course, and Larry, and Joe and his wife, and Dinny Purviance—" He fairly rushed over the next words "—'n'Cecily and the whole crowd. I sort of thought I'd like to go after all, now that things are as they are. So I braved Mr. Havens in his den, and he not only gave me a week off, starting tomorrow, but he told me that as soon as I get back they're going to let me take a shot at feature stories! Said he'd been watching me personally and thought I had the stuff. Said—get this, mother!—that Mose Blake, he's the city editor, told him I was a writer, not a reporter, and that for the sake of brevity he was having to cut out of my copy, every day, stuff that was 'so well written it's a crime to throw it away,' and that I ought to be given a chance to spread a bit.

"Of course," he added, Jock-like, 'that's probably mostly applesauce. But anyway, I'm going to get the chance—and more salary."

Then he was hugged and exclaimed over and beamed upon. And the two long glasses were touched together and drained. . . .

"Fill them again," said Madelaine Hamill. "I want to drink to the house party, and—" she smiled impishly "—as my ingenious offspring puts it—'n'Cecily—"

Peg and Johnny met him at the station the next morning, and fell upon him with cries. "Look me in the eye!" said Peg immediately. "Are you cured? You must be, or you wouldn't have come. Praise the Lord, Amen. Now we'll have a real house party!"

They hustled him along the platform, jabbering as they went, and interrupting one another.

"When we got your wire—"

"We didn't tell a soul you were coming—"

"Wanted to surprise 'em—"

"And believe me they'll be surprised! Like having a visitor from the Styx, or something!"

He was ushered to an automobile of incredible antiquity. "This is Lulu," said Peg. "We think she'll take us back to the beach, but we wouldn't want to put it in writing."

"How far is the beach?"

"'Bout five miles."

Throughout the ride, Peggy and Johnny reasoned gravely and often with the car, as with a refractory child. "Come on, now Lulu. You can make this all right. Let's see you go up sailing." . . . And then, disappointedly, "Aw, Lu! Have a heart!"

They sat three in the front seat, and in the intervals of Lulu's chastisement yelled conversation above the ructions of her mechanism.

"Everybody's in swimming," Peg announced. "Or at least, they were when we left, and I imagine they still will be. That's all we do. Swim, and dance, and swim, and eat, and swim. We practically live in our bathing suits."

"Who's on the party?" Jock wanted to know. "How many? Just the regular bunch?"

"Ten," said Peg, and listed them.

"Bill Burnholme not among those present?"

Peg looked blank. "Of course not. Why should he be? I've never even met the man—though of course I know all about him."

At this point Johnny shouted to Jock across Peg's lap, "Talk to dad?"

"Yup!"

"Suppose he told you about your new job?"

"You bet he did! I don't feel very swell about it! Guess I've got you to thank for that, Johnny."

"Like crazy you have! You've got nobody to thank but yourself—"

Peg planted a firm palm on her husband's chest and pushed him back into place. "Subside," she commanded sweetly. "Devote yourself to Lulu. I have certain somethings to whisper in this gent's ear before we get home." She turned to Jock. "What made you think Bill Burnholme would be here? Of course I know. You thought being Cecily's fiance, we'd naturally ask him."

"That's about it."

Tepee Herb Tonic Went Right to the Root of Mrs. Paul's Troubles; Quieted Her Nerves.

Woe to the people who cannot sleep soundly; their nerves become all unstrung; they look haggard and worn; they fell tired even though they have not done any work; they are just "all in."

Good, restful, sound, refreshing sleep is the best medicine in old doctor Natures medicine chest and Tepee Herb Tonic, made from roots, barks and plants is the best medicine to make you sleep well. There is no narcotic or harmful ingredients used in making Tepee Herb Tonic. It acts more like a nerve food than a nerve tonic.

Mrs. Emma Paul, 3453 W. 46th St., Cleevland, had been unable to sleep soundly for four years. "The result was that I would wake up in the morning with a headache," she says. "I felt tired and worn out——exhausted.

"My stomach became sore and upset. I had spells of indigestion. I bloated after eating until I could hardly get my breath. Nothing tasted right.

"Then about seven months ago a growth started in my gall bladder. I had to undergo an operation. After my operation my stomach and nerves didn't get any better.

"I kept right on getting worse all of the time. I was so discouraged about my health that I was just about ready to give up. Several weeks ago I read about Tepee Herb Tonic and tried it. After I had taken one bottle I felt so much better that I went and got another.

Mrs. Emma Paul

"I have now taken five bottles and my stomach and nerves were never better. I have a good appetite and enjoy my meals. I do not have indigestion, gas or bloating.

"I sleep like a tired girl. My head is clear in the morning—no more headaches. I am not constipated as I was before.

"I have gained five pounds since I took my first dose of Tepee Herb Tonic."

Man Loses Hope

"For ten years I suffered severely from stomach trouble. The doctors said I had cancer of the stomach and lost hope when they told me nothing would do but an operation. I took my last round of MAYR'S 2 1-2 years ago. Since then I sleep well, eat what I want and feel fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Sold by Jesse D. Holloway and druggists everywhere.

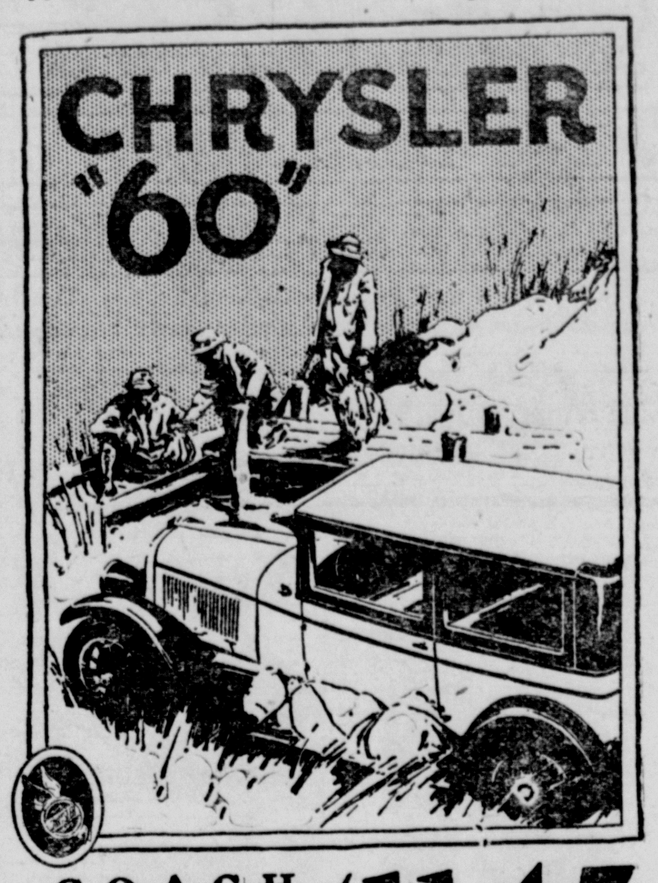
NEW LOWER PRICES place the Chrysler "60" further than ever beyond comparison with the ordinary type of light six



ANY attempt to compare the Chrysler "60" with the ordinary type of six is like comparing the modern dirigible with the old-style balloon—impossible, because the two are fundamentally different.

The difference begins with a black-and-white difference in engineering, the Chrysler "60" being designed and built under the plan of Standardized Quality, as if required to give 60 miles an hour for every mile and minute of its life.

Necessarily, the difference stands out even more sharply in performance—the extraordinary power reserve of the "60" giving it a smoothness at average speeds that you recognize at once as unattainable in the ordinary type of six built by ordinary manufacturing methods to ordinary performance standards.

Just as pronounced is the difference in comfort, agility and handling ease—in gasoline economy, dependability and long life—in every single feature that makes for complete motoring satisfaction.

Try out the Chrysler "60"—discover for yourself why, at its new lower prices, it is the inevitable choice of every purchaser who searches for utmost value in the light six field.

English Girl Made Fellow At Radcliffe

Cecilia H. Payne.

An English girl, Cecilia H. Payne, was recently appointed research fellow at Radcliffe College. She took her A. B. at Cambridge University, England, in 1923, and her doctor's degree at Radcliffe in 1925.

Unemployed of Punta Arenas, Chile, who have started small businesses to make a livlihood have become so numerous that they are taking business from established firms and adding to the older concerns' troubles.

HELP YOURSELF TO HEALTH — W. K. Kellogg

Lagging feet and longing hearts

THE third dance . . . and tired, utterly tired . . . sinking into the first chair—there perhaps to spend the rest of the evening. This was not the vivacious girl she had been a few years ago. Then thirty dances would have been her portion. What tragedy was this, that she, so young, should seem so old.

What tragedy indeed is constipation—one of the worst diseases to afflict the human race. It saps strength. It thieves beauty. It poisons. It ages its victims long before their time. But the hopeful part of it is—constipation can be safely and permanently relieved without the use of habit-forming pills and drugs. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the answer.

No matter if constipation has become chronic, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will bring permanent relief. This is why: Bran—ALL-BRAN—goes completely through the system without changing fiber. It is what doctors call a bulk food, a necessary aid to regular elimination.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief, or your grocer returns the purchase price. Its delightful nutty flavor makes it good as a cereal. Serve with milk or cream alone or with fresh or preserved fruit; with other cereals or cook in hot cereals; use in soups, or in the recipes given on every package.

Don't take chances. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is ALL BRAN—100% bran. That's why doctors recommend it. Sold by all grocers and served in hotels and restaurants.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, E. A. Johnson 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

A lovely skin

THAT'S what makes beauty—a lovely skin! A skin perfect in its texture—free from pimples, blackheads or blotches.

And how everybody loves to look at beautiful skin! How they admire the fresh, clean, healthy appearance a perfect skin gives!

And do you know what makes skin lovely? Well, it's healthy, rich, red blood. Healthy blood purifies the system—throws off the impurities that cause skin eruptions.

And S. S. S., that great blood cleanser and builder helps Nature make rich, red blood. You never have to worry with embarrassing skin blemishes when you keep your blood full of healthy red-blood-cells.

Take S. S. S. and have the beautiful skin that belongs to you. And while it's making your skin lovely, S. S. S. is giving you renewed strength and energy, too—building firm, plump flesh—increasing your appetite and making you healthy all over. It's the rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build that does it.

Get S. S. S. today. All drug stores sell it. Get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels

Give "California Fig Syrup" at once if bilious or constipated

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless, "fruity laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Scene from Lew Fields' sensational New York Vanderbilt theatre musical comedy triumph, "The Girl Friend," coming to the Ceramic theatre, Tuesday evening, Nov. 16.

Ace of Cowboys in Train Robbery Picture at American.

Tom Mix, the ace of cowboys, breezed into the American theatre on Tony, the ace of horses, last night for a three-day engagement in "The Great K & A Train Robbery." The film is packed to the brim with cyclonic action and is the best thing that Tom Mix has ever turned out. It is a William Fox production.

Mix has donned his blue togs to play the part of Tom Gordon, a hard-riding, fast-shooting railroad detective. Tom has never appeared more handsome or as virile. And it is doubtful if he has ever urged Tony over the ground as he does in his latest effort.

The scenery alone is worth a trip to the theatre. Lew Seiler, the director, took the company to Royal Gorge on the Arkansas river, one of Colorado's noted beauty spots, and filmed most of the action there. This is in line with Mix's plan to have popular locations as backgrounds for his future productions.

Dorothy Dwan plays opposite Tom as the daughter of the president of the railroad. Miss Dwan is recognized as one of the most daring horsewoman in pictures and she proves why she has won a reputation by her work in "The Great K & A Train Robbery."

Briefly, the story concerns the adventures of the detective in tracking down a gang of desperadoes who have consistently robbed K & A trains. At times matters are quite complicated for him as he is mistaken for a bandit by the girl's father. But Tom finally routs the gang and wins the girl.

The film is based on Paul Leicester Ford's great story. Those in the cast, aside from the star and Miss Dwan, are William Walling, Harry Gripp, Carl Miller, Edward Peil, Sr., and Curtis McHenry.

Government railways of Italy are doing more business than last year.

RHEUMATISM, NEURITIS, PAIN

"Heet" Relieves Instantly

With applicator attached to cork, just brush "Heet" over the pain area, whether in knees, feet, legs, hands, shoulders, back, neck or body. Instantly, you feel this harmless, glorious, penetrating heat draw the pain, soreness and stiffness right out of the aching or swollen joint, muscle or nerve. Besides, "Heet" scatters the congestion and establishes a cure.

"Heet" contains two soothing, penetrating ingredients, too expensive to use in ordinary liniments or analgesics. "Heet" is a clean, pleasant liquid; doesn't stain, blister or irritate the skin and costs only 60 cents at any drug store.

"The Building Power of Father John's Medicine Creates Strength for Whole System"

"When I was rather weakened and run down, I found that the building power of Father John's Medicine created strength for my whole system. I think it is fine for children who need building up. Since using it, I have been free from severe coughs or colds. Whenever I feel one coming on I take Father John's Medicine with good results." (Signed) Mrs. Dorothy Parent, Bangor Road, Orono, Me.

In millions of families, Father John's Medicine has proved its value as a body building tonic and in the treatment of colds, coughs, and throat troubles. In its more than 70 years of success, Father John's Medicine has come to be known as the greatest body builder for all the family. It is safe because it contains no alcohol or dangerous drugs.

'Girl Friend,' Lew Fields' Success, Comes Here Nov. 16

Wealth of Tuneful and Popular Musical Numbers and Pretty Chorus in Ceramic Theatre Attraction.

"The Girl Friend," Lew Fields' musical comedy success, which jumped into popular favor on its premiere at the New York Vanderbilt theatre last spring and where it is still playing to capacity audiences, will be staged at the Ceramic theatre Tuesday evening, Nov. 16.

It is said that rarely has a more brightly diverting play been presented in the metropolis, nor one that was more artistically staged and costumed. There is nothing in the play that is not blandly innocent. The book is by Herbert Fields, augmented by lyrics from the pen of Lorenz Hart and music composed by Richard Rodgers. The comedy is credited with a wealth of tuneful and popular musical numbers, intelligent principals, a chorus composed of young, pretty girls and boys who can sing and dance and who work in ensemble numbers calling for precision and synchronization equally as well as in individual exhibitions of speed and grace.

The story is of a youthful bicyclist who is self-trained on a Long Island dairly farm by hitching his wheel to a churn. Otherwise he is professionally advised by the daughter of an old cyclist and is soon in such shape that the city promoters begin to hear of him. Finally he comes to town, is handicapped by the schemes of the gamblers and the affections of the amorous city girls, but manages to remain sufficiently pure and strong to win the race and marry his girl friend.

Lew Fields, who, as a member of the famous team of comedians and managers, Weber and Fields, and later as an individual producer of musical plays made a reputation for the excellence of his touring companies, specially selected the cast and supervised the entire production of "The Girl Friend" which will be seen here.

The liting melodies in the comedy in addition to the well known and popular "The Girl Friend" and "The Blue Room" are "Why Do I?" "The Damsel Who Done All the Dirt," "Town Hall Tonight," "Good Fellow Mine," "He's a Winner," "I'd Like to Take You Home" and "What Is It?"

The principal members of the company are Allan Gold, Frances Dewey, George B. Phelps, Gladys James, George Boques, Anita Wright, Teddy Durr, Elizabeth Raymond, Frances King, John McNamara, Helen Reilly, Charles Cooley, Jimmy Cort and Barry Bernard.
